[illegible] Federal Grants Shall be Made Without Regard to Pending Suits.

[illegible] Knockout Blow for Glavis and Coterie of "Reform" Conservationists.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The long-standing California lieu lands controversy was today settled by Secretary Fisher, who decided it is not necessary to [illegible] the suits to prevent Federal [illegible] brought by Fred Lake and [illegible] others, and directing that the [illegible] Department proceed with [illegible] of the school grant [illegible] in California.

[illegible] decision means that patents [illegible] the lands will be issued in [illegible] order by the Interior Department [illegible] and holders of these lands who [illegible] them from California will [illegible] their titles validated by the [illegible] States government.

[illegible] 400,000 acres of some [illegible] most valuable lands in the [illegible] are included in the Secretary's [illegible]. Title to nearly half of these [illegible] has been tied up by the Lake [illegible] other suits.

CLAIMS OF LAKE.

[illegible] and the other protestants alleged that the lands in question did [illegible] come under operation of the lieu [illegible] law. Lake's protest, filed in [illegible] caused the Interior Department [illegible] to suspend any further California school land selections, pending settlement of the dispute. Louis [illegible] is alleged to have played a [illegible] part in the controversy.

[illegible] the Interior Department issued [illegible] order holding up further selections [illegible] S. O. Johnson, reported to be [illegible] for Glavis, tried to obtain from [illegible] of the lands in dispute contracts to validate their patents from [illegible] Land Office in the Interior Department. Lands involved in the [illegible] protests were the principal object of the offers to validate the patents. Johnson wanted the holders of these lands to pay $4.50 per acre for obtaining the patents. On lands not involved in the Lake protests, a fee of $2.50 per acre was asked. Some contracts were obtained on this basis, waivers on the Lake claims being promised. Should payments for all the lands in question have been made to secure title, Johnson and those associated with him would have received $1,300,000.

PUTS STOP TO PROJECT.

Secretary Fisher's order prevents this enormous profit from going into the pockets of Johnson and others. In giving his decision, Secretary Fisher said:

"At the present time none of the Lake suits have been pressed to a conclusion, and so far as known here no immediate intention of such action is entertained, either by Lake or the State. It has come to the official knowledge of this office in many instances that parties holding under school indemnity selections that are in all respects ready for action, were it not for the pendency of the Lake protest, have, in order to secure favorable action upon their selections, secured as to them the relinquishment and abandonment of the Lake protest for a money consideration paid to him.

"It thus appears that the continued suspension of action on the selections because of the Lake protest will cause indefinite delay and has unwittingly brought about a condition that has induced at least some of the purchasers of the selected lands to believe it is necessary, to get action on their selections, to procure a waiver or release of Lake's claim or protest."

ARE HOSTILE TO AMERICANS.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Simultaneously with the arrival of the American battleship Virginia at Tampico, Mex., there was a wave of anti-American feeling throughout the city, and many hostile demonstrations were made. Americans and other foreigners are apprehensive of trouble. Consul Miller reported to the State Department that Gov. Guerrera, who led a successful Federal onslaught on the rebel forces, seems responsible for a widely-distributed circular attacking the United States and calling upon the people of the State of Tamaulipas to rally for the defense of their country. The circular, after being issued, was withdrawn, but not before a feeling of resentment against the Americans had been aroused.

INSISTING ON ORDER.

Americans Must Be Protected.

Recognition of New Regime Depends on Ability to Restore Peace.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The government of Francisco I. Madero having fallen and Gen. Victoriano Huerta having been proclaimed President of Mexico, it devolves upon United States Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson to move at once with the de facto Mexican government for the protection of Americans throughout the republic.

It will be Mr. Wilson's first duty to treat with the new President for the amelioration of conditions imposed on Americans and other foreigners as a result of the fighting in the streets of Mexico City in which some foreigners were killed, others wounded and thousands rendered homeless.

Political recognition of the government which emerged tonight out of the travail through which Mexico has passed in the last two years will be a slower proceeding.

MUST RESTORE ORDER.

While this government will take no concern over the choice of a successor to President Madero, such a successor will have to demonstrate his ability to maintain stable government before political recognition will be accorded him by the United States. Mexico today is honeycombed and torn asunder by many revolutionary movements. The principal of these are the Orozco movement in the north and the Zapata uprising in the south. Lawlessness has become rife, and robber bands, masquerading as revolutionists, have sent terror through the States of Mexico from the Rio Grande to Yucatan.

In order to lay claim to political recognition from this government the United States will demand that the new President, be he Gen. Huerta or some other, must suppress these disturbing elements, restore order and establish the workings of justice in the States.

The formality of political recognition, in all likelihood, will fall to the administration of President-elect Wilson.

NO CHANGE IN ATTITUDE.

The news tonight found this government still firm in tsi policy of nonintervention and unwavering in its preparation upon a moment's notice to strike an aggressive blow for the defense of American citizens should occasion yet demand it. Although the change, which it is believed will bring relief from the intolerable conditions following in the wake of ten days of bloody fighting, was welcome to those who carry the burdens of state, official Washington had no comment to make on the outcome.

WITHHOLD OPINION.

Dispatches from Ambassador Wilson confirmed the salient features of Madero's fall and Huerta's rise to power, but State Department officials withheld their opinion. No one sought however, to conceal satisfaction in the assurance of protection of life and property which the re-establishment of order in Mexico City would bring to the thousands of Americans and other foreigners for whose safety this government is responsible before the world.

READY FOR COMMANDS.

Although the step which would have sent American soldiery into Mexico had not been taken, every branch of the defensive arm of the service was organized to its highest efficiency. The word of command was all that was necessary to send troops across the border from the Texas frontier, or to land bluejackets and marines from the six warships already swinging at anchor on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the disturbed republic. Two thousand marines gathered all along the Atlantic Coast are ready to sail for Guantanamo, Cuba, only a few hours from Vera Cruz. Every detail, in fact, was in readiness had attacks upon Americans forced this government to pursue the policy which officials hope now will not be necessary.

It is not expected that the United States will be in haste to withdraw its battleships and cruisers from Mexican waters. The problems of reconstruction which Mexico now must face will require no little time and the presence of United States warships will serve as a reminder to all elements that American life and property must be protected. The cruisers Colorado and South Dakota now are at Manzanillo and Acapulco on the Pacific Coast, while the battleship Virginia is at Tampico and the battleships Vermont, Georgia and Nebraska at Vera Cruz. The 2000 marines under orders tonight to sail for Guantanamo, Cuba, probably will proceed to their camp there. If their services are not needed in Mexico they can participate to advantage in maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet.

OROZCO MEN NOT PACIFIED.

Northern Rebels Want De la Barra or Trevino as President.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 18.—When informed Madero had been overthrown and Gen. Huerta named provisional President, Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., and Col. Andres Garza Galion, revolutionary leaders in the north, declared they would not approve Huerta, and would continue the rebellion unless another is chosen, preferably De la Barra or Gen. Geronimo Trevino.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—Francisco I. Madero, arrested in the National Palace this afternoon by Gen. Blanquet, one of his own commanders, was forced to sign his resignation from the Presidency.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta, commander of the Federal troops which have been fighting Diaz, has been proclaimed provisional President.

Word came from the rebel positions early in the evening that Gen. Diaz was preparing his troops to unite them with those of Gen. Huerta.

Gustavo Madero and all the Cabinet Ministers, with the exception of Ernesto Madero, are under arrest.

The American Ambassador and the other foreign diplomats held a conference at the American Embassy tonight to discuss the re-establishment of order and the further protection of foreign residents.

The Zocalo, the great plaza in front of the palace, was jammed tonight with a delirious crowd, with banners inscribed "Peace," and "Liberty," shouting for Diaz, Huerta, Blanquet and Mondragon.

SUAREZ UNDER ARREST.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19 (1 a.m.)—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Jose Pino Suarez, Vice-President of Mexico under Madero, was arrested last night and is held a prisoner in another part of the National Palace from where Madero is confined. Two soldiers guard each of the men.

Ministers of Madero's Cabinet were given parole by Diaz until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Senor Juan Sanchez Azcona, Madero's private secretary, has fled from the city in an automobile.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—Francisco I. Madero has been forced out of the Presidency. He was arrested at the national palace shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon, by Gen. Blanquet.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta, commander of the Federal troops, was proclaimed provisional President.

About the time Madero was seized by Blanquet, Gustavo Madero, his brother, the former Minister of Finance, was arrested by Gen. Huerta, who was dining with him in a public restaurant.

All members of the Cabinet promptly were placed under arrest, with the exception of Ernesto Madero, the uncle of the President, who held the portfolio of finance. He was apprised of the intentions against the Madero government and made his escape.

A COUP D'ETAT.

Notwithstanding the fact that some definite action was expected today, the coup d'etat at the palace caused a sensation, and the exact status of affairs could not be ascertained for several hours.

The direct move against Madero was the result of a plot which had been brewing since yesterday.

From the first it had been known that Gen. Blanquet was unwilling to fight. His men were of the same mind. He held complete command of them and it was not doubted they would follow him in any adventure, which they did at the National Palace this afternoon.

The forces numbering 1000 men which arrived late yesterday were sent immediately to the palace, ostensibly to relieve the reserves there. The reserves were sent into the field.

An agreement between Gen. Blanquet and Huerta was reached last night, but the first intimation that Blanquet's men had of the new role they were to play was shortly before the successful stroke was made. Blanquet drew his men up in order and delivered a stirring speech.

INHUMAN BATTLE.

"This inhuman battle must end," he said. "The time has come when some drastic means must be taken to stop a conflict in which father is killing son and brother is fighting against brother; when non-combatants are sharing the fate of war—and all this because of the caprice of one man."

Blanquet then issued orders for the arrest of the President, and assigned a detachment to that duty. Madero soon was a prisoner in his own rooms.

One reason given for the attitude of Gen. Blanquet from the beginning, was the presence of his son in the ranks of Diaz.

When the arrest of the President and his Ministers became known, crowds gathered in the streets through which they paraded, shouting "Vivas" for Huerta and Diaz. A conference was held between the representatives of these two generals, and an agreement was reached whereby the appointment of Gen. Huerta to the provisional Presidency was proclaimed.

IN LEAGUE WITH DIAZ.

Prior to this, however, Huerta's attempt to communicate with Diaz precipitated one of the sharpest engagements of the day. The fire from the rebel rifles and machine guns was long sustained. It was by no means certain at that time that the coup which had been

RETIREMENT OF MADERO BARES DEEP-LAID PLOT.

Former Mexican President Raised Specter of Intervention So as to Embroil His Nation in a War With the United States in Order to Maintain Himself in Power in Conflict With a Common Enemy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The resignation of Francisco I. Madero as President of Mexico not only clarifies the situation in the disturbed republic so far as the United States is concerned, but lays bare a deep-laid scheme on the part of the retired official to maintain himself in power.

It developed today that Madero's appeal to President Taft not to intervene was intended to secure a declaration from this government which would line up Mexicans—Federals and rebels—behind Madero to resist American invasion.

HISTORIC PRECEDENT.

In a way, this action was similar to the plan recommended by Seward when Secretary of State to Lincoln, under which the United States was to inaugurate a war against Europe and thus arouse a State of patriotism for the common country, North and South. Lincoln refused to take the course suggested by Seward and confined himself to efforts to suppress the rebellion.

LACKS LINCOLN'S WISDOM.

Madero had not the wisdom of Lincoln and his retirement was the result. It appears, according to telegrams from Rear-Admiral Southerland and other sources, that Madero flooded Mexico with dispatches announcing that the United States was assembling military forces for the purpose of occupying Mexico and appealed to Federals as well as to rebels to stand behind him in maintaining the integrity of the country.

PLAYS INTERVENTION RUMOR.

Following the circulation of these reports, Madero telegraphed to President Taft that he had been informed that the United States "has ordered to set out for ports of Mexico war vessels with troops to disembark and come to this capital to give guarantees of safety to Americans," and that the Funeral Pyres Light Up Sky While Carts Filled High With Victims Drive to the Outskirts of the City. Most of Those Killed Are Non-combatants—Starvation Begins to Threaten Even the Well-to-do.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18—[By courier to Vera Cruz, Feb. 18:] All the horrors of a bombardment have been experienced by the residents of this city for many days and to these have been added the effects of vicious machine guns and rifle fire in the streets at a range sometimes of less than 100 yards.

Scarcely a district of the capital has escaped injury. Over and through every quarter at some time shells have torn and screeched and exploded. Little round shells from the automatic pompoms have added to the terror of destruction. Hundreds of buildings attest shell-marked sides and wrecked interiors to the destructive quality of modern artillery. How many have been killed or wounded is a question which none can answer with any exactness. It is doubtful whether even the government records will ever reveal the correct number. From a source usually considered careful and conservative, it has been stated that the number of dead is not less than 2000, while the total of the wounded amounts from 8000 to 10,000. The great majority of these are not soldiers, but men, women and children unable to escape the line of fire. This estimate was made after hearing the reports of scores of officers of the White and Red Cross societies. It is a well-known fact that detachments of fifty and one hundred men have been slaughtered here and there at various times when caught in the narrow streets and mowed down by the machine guns.

CARTS PILED WITH DEAD.

Carts piled high with corpses have been seen driven past a certain point to a spot in the outskirts of the city, where the bodies have been burned.

FUNERAL PYRES.

Every morning may be seen what appears in the zone of actual firing to be piles of burning rubbish. The heaps are for the most part rubbish, but the odor of burning flesh tells another story.

A gruesome method has been utilized in one place. The gas [illegible] from a broken main has been [illegible] and there in that steady flame [illegible] been improvised a crematory.

GRAVE IN BASEMENT.

In the basement of an apart[illegible] house a few blocks from the [illegible] is the grave of Mrs. E. W. For [illegible] days, her husband stayed with [illegible] corpse, unable to remove it and [illegible] willing to leave it, perhaps to [illegible] further mutilation.

Soldiers entered the apart[illegible] where he kept vigil and before [illegible] eyes robbed the place. He ma[illegible] to find boards and carpenter's [illegible] and nails in the building and [illegible] structed a coffin into which h[illegible] the body of his wife. He carried [illegible] the basement and there dug [illegible] her grave.

STARVATION THREATEN[illegible]

The absolute cessation of all [illegible] trial and business activity is [illegible] ducing an enormous number of [illegible] combatants to a state bordering [illegible] starvation. The more fortunate [illegible] in many cases able to take care of themselves, but the closing of the banks has made precarious the [illegible] tion even of some of these.

Aside from the question [illegible] money, however, the situation [illegible] been rendered more difficult by [illegible] failure of vegetable and other [illegible] produce to reach the city for [illegible] days. During the night quantities [illegible] tored, but not nearly enough to [illegible] ply the demand, and meat is [illegible] thing with which thousands have [illegible] no acquaintance for days. carried out meant the end of hostilities. At 3:30 in the afternoon the cannonading continued heavy and the rattle of machine guns was heard in various quarters. At that time San Francisco street was being cleared by Huerta as if he were expecting an attack.

A half hour later the order to cease firing was sounded and the battle was over.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE.

A few loyal members of Madero's staff rushed into the room when Madero was struggling with the soldiers and went to his rescue, but their efforts were of no avail. Capt. Garmendia, who had just been appointed Chief of Police, advanced upon Col. Riverroll, shooting and wounding him seriously. Immediately there was an exchange of shots and three or four members of the President's staff are said to have been wounded.

Just to make the records clear, Madero was given reasonable time in which to write his resignation. time in which to write his resignation. Failure to do this, it is said, will result in his being sent with his family to Vera Cruz, where they will be given the choice of outgoing vessels.

Gen. Delgado, who acted as the emissary of Madero in the negotiations for an armistice Sunday, has been arrested. Huerta and his supporters did not trust Delgado to come into their plan.

Twenty men of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, of Blanquet's forces, were entrusted with the duty of guarding the private rooms of the President at the beginning of the revolt in the Palace.

The arrest of Madero took place in the hall of the Ambassadors. When the President entered the room he found all the entrances guarded. One soldier, overexcited by the words of Blanquet, pointed his gun at the breast of Madero, who leaped upon him. In the struggle the gun was discharged without injuring anyone. The soldier was disarmed and placed under arrest by order of Gen. Huerta on the charge of firing without orders.

THE FINEST IRONY.

The finest irony attended the arrest of Gustavo Madero, the brother of the President, distinguished as a politician to whose door most of the evils of the administration have been laid.

He had invited Gen. Huerta to luncheon at the Gambrinus, a popular restaurant. This was a custom with Gustavo Madero in winning favor. Gen. Huerta, however, had invited guests unknown to his host. In a room adjoining he had stationed a detachment of Chapultepec Park guards.

All were prepared to take their seats when, at a signal from Huerta, the officer in command entered. Pointing a pistol at Madero he announced he was under arrest. At the same moment soldiers, filing into the room, cleared it of all except the principals.

Gustavo loudly protested against this indignity, but Huerta replied in a loud voice, condemning the Madero family.

Gen. Victoriano Huerta, named as provisional President of Mexico, formerly was commander of the north division of the army. He has seen much service in the present campaign and last year fought a number of engagements against the insurrectos under Orozco. Huerta retired from his command last December and was offered a post in the War Department. When the Diaz revolt began in the capital Huerta led the government troops and was named as post commander of Mexico City when Gen. Villar was wounded.

Gen. Felipe Angeles, who refused to support the new government, was placed under arrest.

COMMISSIONED BY DIPLOMATS.

Huerta received a commission from the diplomatic corps. He said he had assumed the provisional Presidency and would deliver it to whomever Congress designated.

One of the first acts of Gen. Huerta as provisional President was to notify Ambassador Wilson of the change of government. He informed the Ambassador that he had in his power as prisoners in the National Palace the President of the republic and his ministers.

Gen. Huerta asked that this be interpreted as a patriotic manifestation of a man who "has no ambitions other than to serve his country and who wishes to re-establish peace in the country to insure the safety of the interests of its sons and of the foreigners."

He requested Ambassador Wilson to notify President Taft and the diplomatic representatives of all that had occurred and to give notification to the rebels.

AMBASSADOR REPLIES.

In reply to Gen. Huerta the Ambassador said:

"I beg to acknowledge Your Excellency's note announcing that you have made prisoner the President of the republic and also that the Ministers are in your power.

"The resident diplomatic corps is at this moment assembled, and the information contained in Your Excellency's note has been brought to their knowledge.

"My colleagues instruct me to say that they rely upon you and the Mexican army to preserve order in the City of Mexico, and that you may use your best effort to induce Mexicans of all elements to co-operate to the same end."

WILSON'S LATER NOTE.

In a subsequent note Mr. Wilson said:

"Your expressions of patriotism which you have been kind enough to communicate to me have been duly noted, and I confidentaly rely upon your ability and good intentions to carry them into practical effect.

"Without desiring in the least to intrude into Mexican domestic affairs, I beg to suggest the desirability, in view of the chaotic conditions which now exist, that you place yourself and the army under your command at the disposition of the Mexican Congress.

"I already have communicated the fact related in Your Excellency's note to President Taft, and in due time shall have the pleasure of advising you as to his reply to this.

"I also have communicated unofficially the events related in your note to Gen. Diaz, and shall immediately send him a formal note."

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED.

Another early official act of Gen. Huerta was to send a note to the Deputies calling them to meet in special session for the purpose of giving legality to the new order of things.

Anticipating danger from mobs, the provisional President supplemented his speech at the palace with a proclamation in which he outlined the developments and appealed to the patriotism of Mexicans to maintain order.

Secretary Knox Tells Taft That Notwithstanding Fierce Fighting at the Capital Rules of International Law Were Not Broken. Diplomats Satisfied.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary Knox told President Taft and the Cabinet today that notwithstanding all the fierce fighting in the City of Mexico for the last eight days, there had been no infraction of the rules of civilized warfare or of the principles of international law, as would warrant any interference by the United States. The responsiveness of both President Madero and Gen. Diaz, he said, to the suggestions of Ambassador Wilson in the capacity of dean in the diplomatic corps in the Mexican capital, have been so complete and satisfactory as to justify officials, in their opinion for the strictly neutral attitude observed by the United States. It was noted that yesterday the Federal batteries that threatened to draw the fire of the rebels upon the legation quarter were promptly removed by Gen. Huerta upon the request of the American Ambassador, who has been given the largest powers and freedom of movement in extending aid to Americans and other for[illegible] within the fighting line.

DOZENS FACE FIRING SQUADS.

Looters and Traitors Are Summarily Executed in Mexico City.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—A number of looters were caught today and summarily executed in the outlying districts of the city. A few small provision stores there have been sacked by hungry mobs, but there has been nothing like systematic looting, both Federal and rebel soldiers doing their utmost to hold the populace in check. Some Federal soldiers who tried to join Diaz were caught, disarmed and marched back to the National Palace, where they were summarily shot. In one instance more than thirty Federal soldiers were lined before firing squads at the same time.

Retirement of Madero.

disembarkation of troops would cause "a conflagration and terrible consequence of more extent than the ones we have to contend with at present."

NAILED BY TAFT.

Had President Taft failed to indicate in his reply that the United States was not contemplating intervention, but was relying upon Mexico itself to restore peace and order, undoubtedly Madero would have taken advantage of the absence of any such assurance to use the note as proof of the reports he had spread.

That the Madero plan might not work out as its author desired the President not only told him that the reports to which the Mexican President referred were inaccurate, but that "fresh assurances of a friendship to Mexico are unnecessary after two years of proof of patience and good-will."

In addition, Secretary Knox notified all consular officers to state positively and give wide publicity to the fact that the policy of the administration was unchanged and that every step thus far taken was entirely in harmony with the pacific principles expressed over and over again by President Taft.

CANARD EXPLODED.

With the Madero canard exploded there was no reason on the ground of the safety of the country from invasion for the Federals to continue their loyalty to Madero or for the rebels to abandon their operations against him.

Probably, it was a realization of this fact that caused Madero to agree to retire and to permit the establishment of a provisional government.

Unless there was such a strong motive as defense of the republic from a foreign power to vitalize loyalty to the existing government it became apparent to him, according to the opinion here, that there was no hope of success in crushing the rebellion.

Moreover, continuance of the struggle would arouse such feeling, due to the belief that he was precipitating American intervention, that his life might be endangered.

With such powerful reasons for his retirement, it is believed here that Madero determined to quit. Then, also, according to reports received from Ambassador Wilson which were quite contrary to the censored press dispatches, Gen. Diaz has sustained no inury to his position in the citadel. In fact, he has advanced his lines to the corner of Insurgents and Niza streets, apparently with the intention of attacking a near-by Federal battery. It is the expectation of the Ambassador that Diaz soon will be in control of the residential portion of the city.

Madero, on the other hand, has been forced to withdraw his troops from all exposed places and to concentrate them in the palace.

ZAPATA AND OROZCO.

As soon as the provisional government in Mexico is in control, it undoubtedly will issue an appeal to Zapata and Orozco, the two rebel leaders outside of Mexico City, to cease their operations. Conferences will occur between Diaz, Zapata and Orozco or their representatives, and it is hoped that an agreement will be reached upon some man for President who will be able to maintain peace.

ANGELENOS IN CARNAGE CITY.

RELATIVES OF AMERICANS IN MEXICO WORRIED.

Censorship of Wires and Failure to Receive Word from Loved Ones in Stricken Capital Results in Great Anxiety Here—Massacre Feared in Case of Intervention.

With press dispatches censored and private messages undelivered, scores of anxious Los Angeles people who have relatives and friends in bullet-swept Mexico City have been aroused to a high state of excitement by predictions of intervention by the United States and fear of a massacre.

C. R. Hudson, a Los Angeles man who is vice-president of the Mexican National Railroad, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. C. E. Payne, Burlington Apartments here, has not been heard from since Thursday, and it is feared both he and his wife are lost.

Victor Braschi, a Los Angeles mining expert, and Herbert P. Lewis, nephew of C. B. Lewis, No. 2140 West Twentieth street—and his three children are among those in danger. Mrs. Herbert P. Lewis, one of the refugees who came here recently, is almost frantic.

With heavy guns sweeping away entire sections of the business district of Mexico between the Alameda and the Palacio, and with hand-to-hand bayonet combats littering the street with dead and wounded; with hundreds of foreigners marooned in business houses in which they were trapped when the fighting started more than a week ago and unable to get supplies, the situation is most critical.

Despite this, those here who have relatives in the Mexican capital fear intervention will bring the worst and pray that American troops are not sent onto Mexican soil, although the President ordered all Americans out of Mexico a year ago and by remaining they have jepordized their own lives.

"It is dreadful that cable and telegraph dispatches should be so closely censored at such a critical time—when foreigners in Mexico are practically lost to their relatives abroad," said Mrs. Payne last night. "If the wires were only free and we could get some assurances of the safety of Americans the situation would not be so dreadful. As it is we who have those nearest and dearest to us practically imprisoned in Mexico City during such a time do not know which way to turn or what to do. Mr. Hudson, my brother-in-law, and my sister have kept us informed daily of conditions until Thursday last. Then all communication with them ceased. We had to depend entirely on the general reports in the newspapers. Now that the censorship has been established, intervention threatens and a massacre is feared, what shall we do? It all seems so hopeless."

Her statement is but a barometer of the feelings of scores of Los Angeles people who are worried almost to distraction.

"We have guessed at conditions and probabilities so often and been mistaken so many times that it is useless to try to see into the real situation," said Lewis last night. "Why they continue this awful carnage, endanger the lives of foreigners day after day, and yet make no material advances one way or the other, is a riddle; not politics. It is hard to tell whether Madero or Diaz, or both, are playing for intervention. All they seem to be gaining is death for the men who are battling under their different standards and endangering the lives and destroying the property of our relatives.

"Those Los Angeles people who do not have friends down there do not appreciate the crisis as we, who have relatives there, feel it. Tension against foreigners is high and a single outbreak might lead to terrible things. Of what use will intervention be if massacre precedes it? Mexico City would be turned into an abattoir with Americans as the victims."

Newspaper offices, telegraph offices and cable stations here were besieged with appeals for a word from Mexico City last night and telegrams and long distance telephone calls came from all sections of the Southwest, from men and women who have loved ones in the stricken capital.

But censored wires leave more to the imagination than can be gleaned from fact, and until the censorship is lifted, or other means of receiving news is established, the true conditions can only be guessed at.

Among other Angelenos known to be in Mexico City are H. J. Warsat, his wife, two daughters and one son and Frank Krauer and wife, friends of Miss R. Worthing of the Delta apartments.

Passenger trains bearing American refugees here were turned back a short distance from Chihuahua City, the Mexican railroad men refusing to proceed north.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 18.—The two leaders who are in command of the rebel forces in control of Nuevo Laredo issued a joint statement in which they said:

"We cannot believe that under any circumstances would Felix Diaz accept Gen. Huerta as temporary President. The revolutionists of the north, both here and in the State of Chihuahua, are in favor of either one of two men for temporary President—Senor Francisco Leon de la Barra or Gen. Geronimo Trevino, and in the event Gen. Huerta has been proclaimed temporary President, will continue their campaign until a man entirely agreeable to the entire country is selected to manage the affairs of Mexico."

Neither would comment further on their plans for continuing the rebellion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—[By courier to Vera Cruz, Feb. 18.] What has been occurring throughout the republic during the last week still remains a mystery to the inhabitants of the capital. It is known that Laredo and Chihuahua City are in the hands of the rebels and it is strongly suspected that Monterey has been added to the list of anti-Madero points.

The States of Puebla and Tlaxcala are supposed to have gone over to the rebel side and a number of small towns here and there are reported to have pronounced for Felix Diaz.

The fact that Emilio Vasquez Gomez has again become a big figure by virtue of his crossing the line and proclaiming himself provisional President is something known to perhaps not more than 1 per cent. of the public, since the censorship on incoming news is no less rigid than that on outgoing dispatches.

CENSORSHIP ABSOLUTE.

The censorship is absolute. Nothing relating to the operation is allowed to pass unless disguised or frankly adulatory of the government and misrepresenting the facts.

The sentiment of the people in the capital is strongly in favor of Felix Diaz and it is well known that the government has found difficulty in inducing several hundred of the Federal soldiers to go to the firing line and fight for President Madero.

Mexicans Cross Border and Weapon Belonging to United States Cavalry Disappears.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 18.—A machine gun of the Thirteenth Cavalry Platoon at Hachita, N. M., disappeared Sunday, and it is believed that Mexican rebels came over the border and stole the piece.

Hachita is nearly twenty miles from the nearest point on the border, and how the gun was stolen is unexplained. A large quantity of ammunition for the gun also has disappeared.

The occurrence is similar to an incident at El Paso during the Madero revolution when rebels kidnaped an old cannon from the center of the town, returning the piece at the conclusion of hostilities.

Rebels evaded the border patrol near Columbus, N. M., this week and imported 1800 suits of khaki uniforms and an equal number of pairs of shoes for the use of Salazar's rebel army.

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Feb. 18.—Orders to hold the Sixth Infantry and the first battalion of the Nineteenth Infantry in readiness for active service were received at Ft. The post quartermaster immediately arranged with a railroad company to supply four troop trains on short notice and began supplying the troops with field and camp equipment. Today's order affects 1098 men and sixty-one officers, in addition to a corps of engineers, Co. D, Signal Corps, and field ambulance company No. 3, ordered held in readiness last night.

No announcement as to the probable destination of troops, should they move, was made by the officers, but it was believed Galveston would be the objective point.

DEPUTIES CONFIRM HUERTA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 18.—A message from Monterey, which city was in communication with Mexico City tonight, says it is reported that the Chamber of Deputies has confirmed the appointment of Gen. Huerta as provisional President, and several members of the Senate knew of and approved of the plan to make President Madero a prisoner to prevent further bloodshed. After his arrest, the dispatch says, Madero was treated with every courtesy.

It is learned from official sources that the Governor of the State of Coahuila is mobilizing all his forces at Saltillo with the intention of marching on the border town of Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, Tex. The purpose of the movement could not be ascertained, as Federal telegraph officials cut the wire to Saltillo at 11 o'clock tonight.

Battleship Steams Out of Brooklyn Navy Yard Bound for Guantanamo Naval Station.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The battleship Connecticut, flagship of the north Atlantic squadron, steamed out of the Brooklyn Navy Yard today bound for the United States naval station at Guantanamo, Cuba, where emergency forces, including 2000 marines are being concentrated while developments in Mexico are being watched.

Although the big battleship was in dry dock when orders were received yesterday from Washington for her to proceed to Guantanamo, she was floated, provisioned and manned within eight hours and she moved out of Wallabout Bay at the navy yard punctually at 6:30 o'clock, the hour set in the orders, under command of Rear-Admiral Wonslow.

At the barracks 300 marines were ready to entrain for Philadelphia to ship on the transport Meade for Guantanamo.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) Feb. 18.—A battle between Maderistas of unknown strength and rebel troops is reported in progress five miles south of the Mexican border, near the town of Matamoras, which passed into the hands of the revolutionists yesterday.

Anticipating an attack on the city of Matamoras, the 3000 residents of that place started an exodus into Brownsville today carrying their valuables with them.

LAST OF TRANSPORTS OFF FOR GALVESTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) Feb. 18.—The last of the four United States army transports stationed here steamed out of port this afternoon en route to Galveston. The Meade, the largest of the four ships, left at 7 o'clock this morning for Philadelphia. The McClellan left at 8 a.m., the Sumner at 11:30 a.m., and the Kilpatrick, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The last three vessels, it is said, are bound direct to Galveston. All the ships have large quantities of supplies aboard and the equipment for quartering troops is in place.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO, Feb. 18.—Telegraphic orders were received today at the Mare Island Navy Yard for the collier Justin to take on a cargo of stores, and await orders before proceeding to Mexico, whither previous orders directed her as soon as she had finished coaling.

COUGHING BURST
BLOOD VESSEL.
Says Danger Avoided and Cures Coughs in Five Hours.

A writer for the medical press states that coughing is responsible for the bursting of blood vessels quite frequently. A cough or cold means inflammation (fever) and congestion, and these in turn indicate that the body is full of poisons and waste matter. Simple relief, as found in patent cough medicines, and a whisky, often result in more harm than good; as they cause more congestion. A tonic-laxative cough syrup will work marvels, and here follows a prescription which is becoming famous for its prompt relief and thorough cures. It rids the system of the cause, except it be consumption. Don't wait for consumption to grasp its victim, but begin this treatment, which cures some in five hours. Mix in a bottle one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age.—[Advertisement.

LAND PROMOTER ARRESTED.

Postoffice Inspectors Charge That Tract He Advertised in Glowing Colors Is Barren of Vegetation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Advertisements of lands in Arkansas caused the arrest today of John Kenderes on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

According to postoffice inspectors, Kenderes advertised to Slavonians over 15,000 acres of land which he claimed would produce seventy-five bushels of spring wheat to the acre, ninety-five bushels of oats, from 500 to 600 bushels of potatoes, and hay, tobacco and vegetables, in abundance. Between crops, Kenderes is said to have pointed out that those who bought the land from him could spend their time in mining coal, zinc and other minerals of which there was an ample supply.

The inspectors declare that Kenderes owns no land and that the tract he advertised is barren of vegetation.

MRS. HASKELL IN HYSTERICS.

Piercing Cry Halts Murder Trial Momentarily.

Judge Refuses to Grant a Short Recess.

Witness Says He Saw Second Shot Fired.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twelve jurors, who will be asked to vote for the hanging of a woman, were sworn today to try Lillian B. Haskell for the murder of her common law husband, Frank I. Fischer. A thirteenth juror was selected to act in the event of the illness of one of the twelve.

That the past history of Mrs. Haskell, covering her conduct during her residence in Modesto, Santa Cruz and Sacramento, may be introduced to shear the case of the sentiment upon which the woman expects to be acquitted, was intimated by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Frank Atkinson today in the questions he asked different jurors.

CRIES OUT ALOUD.

The dramatic features were not lacking today. After sobbing quietly for some time, Mrs. Haskell, in her hysteria, broke into a piercing cry that brought the proceedings to a halt. She cried and sobbed aloud for about five minutes, her head buried in her folded arms on the table at the bar of the court. Tears came to the eyes of the women in the courtroom. Attorney Inman asked for a short recess, but Judge Hughes remarked that the trial must be continued. Mrs. Haskell quieted down in a minute or so.

BOWED AND SOBBING.

The defendant was not as gaudily gowned as on the first day of the trial. She wore the same brown suit which she had worn on several other occasions in court. Her face was hidden behind a heavy gray veil. She sat with bowed head through the court session, sobbing. Her mother and Miss H. Stephens, her friend, comforted her.

The strain of the trial is telling heavily upon the woman, and she has spent two sleepless nights in her room at the County Jail.

Late this afternoon Asst. Dist.-Atty. Atkinson finished his opening statement to the jury and one witness, Lawrence Wiard, was heard before adjourning. He saw Mrs. Haskell fire the second shot at Fischer, on the crowded street, standing four or five feet from her victim.

FOR WOMEN AND MINORS.

Nearly eighty proposed laws relating to women and children, covering the wide range of divorce, care and custody of orphan, abandoned, and illegitimate children, hours of labor and sanitary conditions in places of employment, civil and property rights, and other features, were included in group two of Secretary of State Jordan's legislative digest, issued today. The more important ones, such as the bill establishing a commission for the investigation of women's wages, already have received publicity.

Included in the eighty are Senate bill No. 1382, by Lyon, providing for a minimum wage of $6 per week for minors, and Assembly bill No. 1657, by McDonald, evidently aimed at infantile newsboys, making it unlawful for a child under 12 to sell goods or conduct a business. McDonald makes the parents or guardians liable for the observation of the law.

LEGISLATIVE BULLETIN.

The preparation of a digest of the bills introduced in future sessions of the Legislature, similar to the work Secretary of State Jordan is now doing at his own expense for the present Legislature, will be taken care of by a joint committee if Senate bill No. 1696, introduced on the last day of the session by Senator A. Caminetti is passed.

The bill briefly proposes that the committee, during the recess, issue as often as may be necessary, a State publication to be known as the California Legislative Bulletin, containing a brief statement of the contents and object of all measures introduced during the thirty-day first session. The cost of publication is to be borne by the contingent funds of the two houses.

Secretary Jordan estimates that the cost of paper and postage for the digest this year will amount nearly to $500.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 18.—The books and accounts of the Fidelity Security Guaranty Company were seized by Federal officials who have been investigating the company and who will lay their information before the Federal grand jury now in session.

The company is alleged to have used the mails to defraud, and persons who allege they have been defrauded of $62,000 have made complaint against the company. It was formally known as the Realty Owners' Syndicate. It has been in the hands of a receiver since August, 1910.

It is alleged that the company by representing that it owned real estate valued at $500,000 induced investors to buy its stock, promising a 7 per cent. dividend on it.

SAN BERNARDINO LEADS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Feb. 18.—Figures compiled for the State Blue Book by Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, shows that San Bernardino county leads all the counties of the State in expenditures for irrigation projects, in the number of bearing tropical fruit trees, in orange products and in the number of bearing orange trees, third in the number of bearing lemon trees and fifth in the value of all crops.

With a total land area of 12,900,480 acres, the county has 208,396 acres in farms. The value of farm property in 1911 was $68,499,103, showing an increase in ten years of $43,842,701, or 177.8 per cent. The value of domestic animals on farms was $1,406,520. All crops are given a value of $6,818,233.

Loss by Frost in California Not So Great as First Reported, Say University of California Scientists.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, Feb. 18.—That the loss of fruits in the Southern California citrus belt through the recent frosts is not as great as at first supposed was the report made today by University of California scientists who are in the south with the Agricultural Department demonstration train.

The report, which will be printed for general circulation, says that frozen oranges are harmless, provided the evaporation of the juice has not advanced too far. The scientists found that at least three-fourths of the trees will do as well next year as ever.

Among those on the train are President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Prof. T. F. Hunt (dean of the college of agriculture,) Prof. D. S. Burd, Prof. J. E. Coit, Prof. H. W. Hebber and Prof. E. J. Wickson.

FRUIT MEN QUIT DISTRIBUTORS.

NEW CASTLE AND VACAVILLE FIRMS WITHDRAW.

President Bills of Pioneer Company Makes Arrangements With Kansas City Jobbers to Market Product as the Result of Rupture With the Management.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Several large fruit firms have withdrawn from the California Fruit Distributors, which markets most of the deciduous fruit crop of the State. General Manager F. B. McKevitt said today:

"William J. Wilson & Son of New Castle and the Frank Buck Company of Vacaville have withdrawn from the Distributors. The Pioneer Fruit Company has not renewed its contract for the coming season, but I am not in a position to state what they propose to do."

SHIPMENTS WERE HEAVY.

The California Distributors shipped a total of 7500 cars last season.

Senator C. B. Bills, president of the Pioneer Fruit Company, has made arrangements with the James A. Coogan Company to represent the Pioneer company in Kansas City during the coming season. Senator Bills is returning to the Coast after having covered most of the large eastern markets, and the prediction is made that the Pioneer Fruit Company will not affiliate with the distributors this season.

FANNING IS PRESIDENT.

At the last election of officers of the California Fruit Distributors, James M. Fanning of Pittsburgh, who is closely associated with the Atlantic Fruit Company, a Di Giorgio concern, was elected president. In significant sequence came the attempt to place the distribution of the entire output of the California Distributors in the hands of the Atlantic Fruit Company, under the management of George A. Charters, formerly of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. It is averred that this attempt caused a rupture between the Pioneer Fruit Company and the California Fruit Distributors, as a result of which Senator Bills is making new connections for his company in eastern cities.

Residents of Florence, Where Penitentiary Is Located, Say Criminals Are Permitted to Run at Large in the City and Legislature Is Asked to Curb Governor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 18.—The long promised fight in the Legislature on Gov. Hunt's prison reform policies was begun today with the introduction in both houses of a petition signed by ninety-eight residents of Florence, where the State penitentiary is located.

The petition recites that convicts are permitted to run at large in the town, wearing citizens' clothes which makes it impossible to distinguish them from other persons, and enter places of amusement; that the safety of the petitioners' wives and daughters is jeopardized by the liberty given the convicts; and that the convicts can successfully compete with free labor because they are kept by the State. The petitioners demand legislation limiting the pardoning power of the Governor and prohibiting convicts running about unguarded.

In the House the petition was referred to the State Institutions Committee, said to be particularly unfriendly to the Governor's prison policies. C. B. Kelton, Cochise county, chairman of the Memorials Committee, immediately resigned as he thought his committee should have been given charge of the protest.

In the Senate the petition was referred to the Committee on County Affairs after a sharp exchange of words.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—There will be no firemen's strike on the eastern railroads. The railroads yielded today and agreed to arbitrate under the Erdman act the controversy with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The firemen had stood, to a man, for this method of arbitration ever since the deadlock began; the railroads had stood firm for arbitration before a commission of six or seven men.

Three men, acting under the law, will decide the firemen's claim. Their decision will be binding. The firemen selected their representative on the board of arbitrators as soon as the railroad's decision was announced. He is Albert Phillips of Sacramento, Cal., vice-president of their organization. The railroads selected as their man W. W. Atterbury, vice-president and general manager of the Pennsylvania lines.

These two men will select the third, or neutral member. Within thirty days thereafter the arbitrators must render their findings. Where they will meet was not announced.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Injury sustained by the great dry dock at Pearl Harbor yesterday was reported to the Navy Department today in a brief cablegram from Rear Admiral Cowles, commandant of the station.

Navy Department Proposes to Distribute Artistic Casts From Metal of Battleship.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Navy Department has hit on a new plan for distribution to patriotic societies of relics of the battleship Maine.

Assistant Secretary Winthrop today laid before President Taft a plaster plaque, on which, in bas-relief, was the figure of a woman with bowed head and arm upstretched, bearing a shield with the words "Patriotism and Devotion" inscribed on it. On the extended arm is written the word, "Memoriam." Beneath the arm, in bas-relief, is part of the hull of the Maine as it looked after the explosion in Havana Harbor.

If this design is accepted probably 1000 casts will be made from all sorts of metal recovered from the battleship, and will be sent to patriotic societies which ask for Maine relics.

Mrs. Satterlee is at Cairo with Morgan, and Satterlee has gone over to accompany her home. SEVEN SISTERS REACH WILSON.

New Jersey Lawmakers Pass Anti-Trust Acts.

President-elect Runs Into Suffragette Jam.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—President-elect Wilson came to New York tonight after an exhaustive day's work at the State House in Trenton, for a period of relaxation. It had been understood that he was to attend the dinner given here by the New Jersey State Senate to its presiding officer, Senator James Fielder, who will succeed Mr. Wilson as Governor of New Jersey on March 1, but he did not go. Instead he went to the home of a close friend, where he spent the evening and retired early.

The day saw the accomplishment of the principal reform which Gov. Wilson had urged upon the State—the regulation of trusts and corporations. The "seven sisters," as Gov. Wilson named his anti-monopoly bills, passed the House of Assembly without amendment just as they did the Senate last week, and tomorrow Mr. Wilson will sign them.

CAUGHT BY SUFFRAGETTES.

The President-elect worked on correspondence today on an upper floor of the State House, escaping the turmoil brought by nearly 1500 suffragettes when they invaded the State House. They crowded the Assembly chamber, where they were given a hearing on the woman suffrage amendment. Mr. Wilson departed late today for New York. He was caught in the station in the jam of suffragettes who were trying to get aboard a special train. Several of the women shook hands with the President-elect and pointed proudly to the flags and insignia, "Votes for Women." The Governor smiled, but made no comment.

CABINET CANDIDATE.

En route, Senator-elect Shafroth of Colorado, who had gone to Trenton to talk in favor of woman suffrage, registered his indorsement of former Gov. Alva Adams of Colorado for Secretary of the Interior.

The President-elect will return to the State House tomorrow. He spent the night at the home of a friend here.

GOMPERS OPPOSES BILLS.

Union Labor Men Suggest Amendment Which Wilson Says Would Invalidate Seven Measures.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTON (N. J.) Feb. 18.—Although Gov. Wilson's seven anti-trust bills passed the House in exactly the same form as they passed the Senate last week, the bills go back to the Senate, the body in which they originated, for formal transmission to the Governor. The Senate having adjourned for the day, the bills will not reach the Governor until tomorrow, when they will be signed and become laws.

Objections to the anti-trust bills came to the Governor from an unlooked-for quarter today when a group of State labor leaders suggested the possibility that the bills might be construed as affecting labor unions.

They called the Governor's attention to the provision in one of the bills which would "prohibit any combination or agreement between two or more corporations, firms or persons to create restrictions in trade, to limit the production or increase prices."

Secretary Henry F. Hilfers of the New Jersey Federation of Labor showed the Governor a letter he had received from President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, advising an emphatic protest against the bills unless the following amendment was incorporated in the act in question:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed or held so as to apply to the organization of working people instituted to regulate wages, hours or labor, sanitary or other conditions of labor."

The Governor pointed out that the act restricts "persons dealing in commodities." He said that the courts of New Jersey had consistently held that labor was not a commodity, so there could be no application to labor questions.

The Governor told the labor leaders that the amendment suggested by Gompers would invalidate all the seven anti-trusts acts and will be held as class legislation.

WILSON IN SUFFRAGIST MIX.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTON (N. J.) Feb. 18.—President-elect Wilson was caught in a jam of several hundred suffragettes today when he arrived at the State House. The women, carrying yellow flags on which was the slogan "Votes for Women," crowded the corridors of the building and the Governor was delayed several minutes trying to get through the door.

The suffragettes were not aware the President-elect was in the crowd and continued to the assembly chamber, where a hearing was held on the suffrage question.

The Governor stole away to an office on the top floor of the building and dictated letters without being disturbed or discovered.

Mr. Wilson accepted the honorary presidency of the National Peace Conference today. James R. Smith of St. Louis, chairman of the Executive Committee of Congress, invited him to come to the convention at St. Louis on May 1. He said he would attend if engagements permitted.

Makes Your Hair Soft and Fluffy

"Most shampoo mixtures," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the Philadelphia Times, "rob the scalp of all oily secretion, leaving it dry and harsh, and the hair grows brittle and is hard to manage. This causes dandruff, falling hair and premature grayness, ageing a woman ten years.

"A reliable shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. Pour this on the scalp and rub well, then rinse carefully, and you will find it leaves the hair soft and glossy and puts the scalp in a healthy condition.

"Shampooing with this mixture is a delight and costs but a trifle, but you should be careful to get an original package of canthrox."—[Advertisement.

Missouri Folks Clamor to Keep Standard Oil in the State.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 18.—A resolution asking the Supreme Court of Missouri for a stay of execution of the judgment ousting the Standard Oil Company from doing business in this State after February 22 was adopted at a meeting of 200 leading business men here last night.

It was brought out that the public schools, hospitals and many business firms and manufacturing concerns here depend upon the Standard Oil Company for fuel oil and that their operations will be crippled if the ouster order goes into effect so soon.

MISMANAGEMENT CHARGED IN UNION PAPER COMPANY.

Stockholder of Concern Charges It Is Run for Benefit of Officers Who Have Little Interest in Corporation and Fraudulent Principle Is Alleged to Be Involved.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTON (N. J.) Feb. 18.—Chancellor Walker in the Court of Chancery today fixed March 8 for a hearing of a petition for the appointment of a receiver for the Union Bag and Paper Company, a New Jersey corporation, with $27,000,000 authorized capital stock, engaged in the business of the manufacture and sale of paper bags, paper and pulp and wood, with branches in various sections of this country and Canada.

CHARGES MISMANAGEMENT.

The petition, which was presented by Sarah S. Aldrich of Glen Falls, N. Y., and others, does not allege insolvency, but charges that the company is being mismanaged by incompetent directors and further that the assets of the company by reason of its mismanagement are gradually diminishing. It is charged that Edward T. Barret, president of the company, has had no practical training qualifying him for the position he holds and it is cited as evidence that the company is being mismanaged, while the business in which the company is engaged has doubled in this country in the past few years the company with splendid factories has made no progress. It is further charged that through the establishment of sales agencies and the payment to these agencies of large commissions the company is sacrificing large dividends and is suffering to such an extent that it is no longer able to pay dividends upon its preferred stock.

DIRECTORS ARRAIGNED.

Further, it is charged that "from its conception the defendant company has been managed upon an improper and fraudulent principle and its business has been conducted for the benefit of its directors, or some of them at the expense of the company itself." It is also charged that the directors of the company have practically no financial interest in the affairs of the concern and that the entire board of directors, including the officers, own only about 4 per cent. of the capital stock.

RECEIVERS FOR RUBBER FIRMS.

One of the Oldest Houses in Trade in Boston With Several Subsidiaries Financially Embarrassed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—Receivers were appointed today for the crude rubber firm of George A. Alden & Company, of this city, and for the subsidiary firms of A. H. Alden & Company, of London, and Adelbert Alden & Company, of Para, Brazil.

Receivers were appointed yesterday for the New York Commercial Company of New York, another subsidiary company. George A. Alden & Company is one of the oldest rubber houses in the country.

PAYMENTS DUE NEXT WEEK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The New York Commercial Company, importers of crude rubber, whose assets, according to a financial statement issued last September, were more than $6,000,000, operated in South America under the name of A. H. Alden, and in Boston as George A. Alden. A statement says that several large payments are due next week which the company is unable to meet. A representative of the company said the embarrassment was not due to the decline in the crude rubber market.

MOROS PRAISE UNCLE SAM.

Gov. Finley of Zamboanga Takes Memorial to Sultan in Which Mohammedans Laud United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Maj. John P. Finley, U.S.A., Governor of the Zamboanga, Moro district, in the Philippines, left New York today aboard the Adriatic, returning to his post. Maj. Finley will stop at Constantinople, where as Minister Plenipotentiary of the 600,000 Mohammedan Moros, he will present to the Sultan of Turkey, as the head of their religion, a memorial praying religious direction.

Maj. Finley's mission, it is said, has been sanctioned by President Taft.

In the memorial, the Moros declare that they have found conditions under the American government the best they have ever known, but that it is not very clear to them as to how church and state can be maintained separately. They want the assurance of the Sultan that all is well so far as their religious status is concerned.

HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. BROWN, 809 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GOVERNMENT LAND—

SOMEWHERE IN LOS ANGELES THERE are hundreds of peole who want a home on government land where they can make a living and provide a future for their children and their old age; I have lived in Arizona for six years, I know practically every large tract of government land that is still open to homesteaders in southern Arizona. I have made a six-year study of the agricultural possibilities of Southern Arizona, and have traveled thousands of miles looking for suitable land where water for irrigation pupose could be secured at a minimum cost. I have located about 3000 acres of such land, rich river bottom land, within three miles of the railroad, with abundance of water at from 10 to 30 feet. This land adjoins cultivated fields that produce 60 bushels of wheat to the acre, 40 tons of sugar cane, 10 crops of alfalfa, and 5 tons of barley hay to the acre. I have located 14 people on this tract of land since the 27th day of January. My next excursion will leave Los Angeles at 10:30 Saturday night, February 23. Round-trip railroad fare only $16.25, and I have room and accommodations for only four people. Come and see me early if interested. This is a bona fide proposition and means just what it says. MURRAY J. MORLEY, secretary SOUTHERN ARIZONA DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION, room 32, Hollenbeck Hotel, Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—
Get a farm from Uncle Sam under ENLARGED HOMESTEAD ACT, in a district where you do not have to spend from $10 to $35 per acre for irrigation purposes. That property lying between 7th and 26th streets and Montana and Nevada avenues, Santa Monica, better known as the Palisades district, probably has no better natural conditions for homes in the world. Lying high and level, with a gentle slope toward the ocean, it commands a magnificent view of the surrounding country, the ocean, the mountains and the plain; the climate is unexcelled, being 10 deg. cooler in summer and 10 deg. warmer in winter than in Los Angeles, making ideal home conditions. I have 100 very choice residence lots within this district which I will sell on exceptional terms: I will take as partial payment any good property here or in the Eastern States. This will permit you to make some money on your investment. I will take you to the property in our auto at any time. This is a rare opportunity. Let me hear from you.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

A CONSERVATIVE INVESTMENT. A COMpany is being organized to take over an established manufacturing business, a virtual monopoly, product conceded superior to anything on the market. No competition worth mentioning. Manufacturing profit 300 per cent. The business now clearing over 20 per cent. per annum and contracts on hand insure large returns on investment. More in sight. Capable of enormous expansion. Turning away business. A bona fide, legitimate business proposition—not a mere prospect—the equal of which is rarely offered to investors. Special advantages to those who come in previous to incorporation. Address Z, box 475, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

FIRE OF MYSTERIOUS ORIGIN.

Flames Break Out in Parlor of Ontario Home About 10 o'clock in the Morning.

ONTARIO, Feb. 18.—Fire of mysterious origin, seriously damaged the residence of L. G. Wilson, No. 607 Nucta street, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Neither Wilson, nor his wife were at home when the fire broke out, but neighbors who discovered the blaze, state that it seemed to originate in a parlor in the southwest corner of the house.

The prompt response of the fire department when the alarm was turned in, saved the house from destruction although it was badly soaked with water. The house was insured and an odd coincidence in connection with this is the fact that Wilson, but yesterday took out additional insurance on the property. The loss will not exceed $3000.

SPEEDERS TO REPORT.

Robert Van Buren, a local jeweler, is among numerous motorists of this section who will journey to Los Angeles tomorrow to appear in court to answer to a charge of speeding.

Van Buren in the past has never been accused of emulating Barney Oldfield, Teddy Tetzlaff or other notorious speed demons, but while returning from Los Angeles Sunday evening, accompanied by his wife in their Overland touring car, he fell into one of the prettiest traps ever set for speeders.

The Van Burens were clipping along at about 30 per, just this side of El Monte on the Valley boulevard, when suddenly a red lantern was flashed before their eyes and they beheld a whole bevy of policemen who ordered them to stop and then presented them with an invitation to visit the court Wednesday.

Two parties of officers were stationed a quarter of a mile apart and signalled to each other as the machines passed. Van Buren stopped to see the fun and declares that some twenty motorists were "pulled" in almost as many minutes. It was about 10 o'clock, when all "cops" should have been in bed and asleep.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Ontario officers are having no little trouble in educating the public to observe an ordinance recently passed by the Council compelling vehicles to be drawn up near the right curb when standing on the street, but the climax came this morning, when B. Hall, a farmer living to the south of the city, drove his rig up in front the First National Bank and tied the horse, facing in the wrong direction, to a fire plug. He was instantly nabbed by an officer.

A party composed of Alex. Armstrong, George B. Elliott, Frank C. Elliott and Ralph Bailey started this morning on a journey to New Mexico by prairie schooner. They will journey to Columbus, where Mr. Armstrong has just purchased a large ranch and expect to take about 3 weeks for the journey. The schooner is drawn by four mules.

POINTS DANGER IN HIGH LINE.

Land Company President Is Outspoken.

Public Service Commission Hears Plain Talk.

Graham Pessimistic About Proposed Bonds.

"You tie the high-line bonds onto these other bond issues and you jeopardize bond issues in which you and I have real and vital interest."

This declaration was made yesterday before the Board of Public Service by Lewis E. Shepherd. Sheperd, who is president of the Southwest Land Company and former president of the Vermont Square Water Company, was before the board regarding the conveyance of the water company's property to the city, under an agreement made some time ago, and wished to make it plain that property owners' interests should be paramount in all the board's actions, whether affecting his late water users' interests or not.

"I know how the people feel on this high-line proposition," continued Shepherd, "and I know all the bond issues will go to the dump together if you hang the high-line bonds onto the other bonds. We are taxing ourselves to get this water and we want to keep it. Why shouldn't we? We pay the money and we want the benefit. We want to be sure that for years to come we will have all the water we need and some to spare. I, and every other taxpayer, consider this to be our right and that we shouldn't advance money to take the water over the hills and far away."

SOUNDS PESSIMISTIC.

"Never fear," retorted Graham, "we have rich and powerful interests fighting this high-line proposition and it doesn't look as if we will have enough votes to carry it—not now, at least. "I reiterate, however, that by extending the district we will get revenue to help pay for the work."

President Henderson here chimed in with the observation that the city's title to all this water would be made doubly sure were the water put at the disposal of other thirsty sections.

"Sure or not sure," interjected Shepherd, "we pay for the water and we want it. We don't want to see ourselves taxed for extensions, as well as for the aqueduct work."

With this Parthian trust, Shepherd left and the board took up the matter of getting immediate funds to continue the all-important work on the Los Angeles trunk line, otherwise known as the Franklin Canyon line. After discussion of various plans, it was finally decided to seek the City Council's sanction to the sale of the board's property holdings at the southwest corner of Olive and Fifth streets. This property is given a minimum valuation of $270,000 by the board and this sum would be sufficient to keep the work going until the $1,500,000 bond money is available.

HOPES AND FEARS.

Henderson was delegated to take up the matter with the Council and the hope was expressed that some means will be devised whereby the property will not pass into private hands, but be held in trust for the city. It was the unanimous opinion of the board members, however, that the completion of the connecting link between the San Fernando reservoir and the city is imperative and shouldn't be held up for sentimental reasons.

On advice of Special Counsel Mathews, the distributing system of the Vermont Square Water Company was accepted on behalf of the city, in accordance with arrangements already made, and the transfer was duly executed. The city pays nothing for the system, merely reimbursing the owners in the sum of $3270 for fire hydrants recently placed in the district served by the company. It was further agreed by the board that the former company shall be protected in its existing contracts with water users.

A request for the placing of twenty-eight fire hydrants in San Pedro was received from Assistant Fire Chief O'Donnell and laid over to the next meeting. The bids on about $25,000 worth of brass goods were read and referred to the Purchasing Committee.

Mrs. Dorothy Graves,

Who became a bride after a three-day courtship, who told a strange tale yesterday, and is now charged with vagrancy.

Genealogy of England's King.

[St. Louis Globe Democrat:] According to this genealogy the present house of the British dynasty is descended from David through the eldest daughter of Zedekiah, who fled to Ireland in charge of the biblical prophet, Jeremiah, after the destruction of the temple at Jerusalem, and who eventually was married to Heremon, King of Ulster. Kaiser Wilhelm is firmly convinced that this tree is absolutely correct.

BLOODY NOSES IN THE OFFING.

"Progressive" Supervisors in War on Each Other.

Norton's Criticism Tears to Tatters "Solid Five."

Pridham Threatens to Resign; Butler Withdraws.

Chairman Pridham threatening to resign, Supervisor Butler leaving the meeting in high dudgeon and Supervisor Norton, the starter of the trouble, declaiming that county affairs were going to the dogs because of mismanagement, were features of a stormy session yesterday of the board in the Hall of Records.

Although the old-time "solid three" is no more, the new "solid five," all of the "Progressive" persuasion, managed to stir up as fierce a scrap as ever made the Courthouse echo during the battles of bygone days. And it all came out of a protest against passing a bill of $68 for livery hire, incurred for transporting torches and gasoline to tents during the fall primary election.

The tempest developed a series of charges and countercharges that almost reached the passing of the lie. Norton said the board had been running the county's affairs in a manner too slipshod to suit him. He came on the board in January and has frequently complained of looseness in method that got on his nerves.

This aroused Pridham's and Butler's ire, which has smouldered ever since Norton objected to passing bills allowing the Darrow jurors 10-cent cigars and various other necessities of jurors' lives. Supervisors Manning and Hinshaw sat in embarrassed silence while the breaking waves dashed high on the more or less rock-bound coast of supervisoral consciousness. It was none of their funeral.

When Norton saw a charge of $49.50 in the bill for five double rigs, used on a single day, he reared like a rodeo mustang. He declared that $10 a day for conveyances for gasoline and torches was too plutocratic for him, by sixteen rods. He demanded that County Purchasing Agent Plummer be called; and Plummer came with seven-league strides.

"The bill isn't correctly itemized," said Norton. "You say the charge was to be 75 cents an hour. It doesn't figure up right."

"I want to have it itemized," retorted Plummer. "I'll take it back to J. J. Harris, the man who submitted it."

"Yes, get it itemized," said Norton. "That's what I've been preaching about these bills ever since I came on the board."

PRIDHAM WON'T STAND IT.

Butler, chairman of the House Committee, had been seething for ten minutes. Now he boiled over.

"You say things aren't going right," he sputtered. "What right have you to insult members of this board by intimating they are responsible for irregularities? You've been nothing but a trouble-maker ever since you took your chair. The other day you practically accused me of jury-bribing because I passed that Darrow bill."

"Well, if the shoe fits, put it on," retorted Norton tartly.

"I'm as old as you are," Butler cried, pounding the table, "and I've been longer in county harness. Perhaps I know more about county business than a green critic, too."

"Well, some people may be older, and still not know half so much," was Norton's counter.

Here the sharp, staccato rap of Pridham's gavel drowned him out.

"This is unseemly," said the chairman. "I want to reprove you both. This is no place for such a disturbance. You must not make such insinuations. Mr. Norton if you have charges to bring against this board, do so in the regular order and they will be considered."

"I only hope you'll stick to that policy with all the members of the board," retorted Norton.

That was the straw that beat the camel's vertebrae to a pulp for Pridham.

"I shouldn't stand for this conduct in my own business, and I won't stand it in the county's business," he cried. "I'm chairman of this board by sufferance of you gentlemen, and you can recall me at any time. But I am in no physical condition to have this kind of thing flung at my head. If these scenes are repeated I shall certainly ask the Governor to appoint my successor—and that's no idle threat, either."

"I move that this bill be held up," said Norton.

"I won't hear of it. I give it my O.K.," declared Butler, postively.

Someone seconded Norton's motion.

"I demand that the roll be called," was Butler's next move.

It was. There were four "ayes," with a defiant "no" from Butler himself. The motion was carried, obviously. Diaz had soaked Madero a mortal blow.

Then there was an armistice. Butler reached for his hat, coat and other impedimenta. Somebody was going to strike camp.

BUTLER LEAVES.

"I don't think I want to attend this meeting any more," he said with heat. "I beg to be excused."

And he went away from there.

Norton stated later that he had been misunderstood; that he was attacking a system, not the men personally; and he explained the matter to Pridham. The latter, about to be absent sixty days, on sick-leave, was in no mood for further discussion. He said the board had made a rare record of efficiency, that there had never been the slightest intimation of improper methods from even its political enemies; and that such charges from a new member were not worthy of consideration.

Plummer has the bill about the five carriages, the gasoline, the torches and the agreement to work for six bits an hour.

HOLLYWOOD'S LARGE SALE.

Unimproved Holding Worth Over Half a Million in New Hands.

Philo J. Beveridge yesterday sold to the Janss Investment Company unimproved holdings in the heart of Hollywood, the value of which is reported at approximately $600,000. The deal is one of the most significant in the history of the beautiful Northwest Los Angeles suburb, as the Janss company expects to fully develop the whole of the area involved, which includes some of the most desirable vacant residence, business and apartment property in the foothill place.

The property comprises a large number of separate parcels of land, these varying in size from a single lot to tracts of many acres in extent. North of Hollywood boulevard the holdings transferred are included within the boundaries of the boulevard itself on the south, Franklin avenue on the north, Vine street on the west and Yucca street on the east. South of the boulevard there are considerable tracts as far east as Gower street and as far west as Cahuenga avenue. There is a large frontage on Sunset boulevard. In the deal are included many valuable sites on both sides of Hollywood boulevard and between the east and west points indicated.

The new owner will expend a large sum in street improvements and general development operations, with the end to making the entire property a district of the highest type and one in keeping with the surrounding properties.

Japanese Who Came to America to Study Electrical Engineering Has High Regard for Country.

After four years of study at Harvard, Masayeoshi Yadu, son of the general manager of the Tsu Un Express Company operated by the Japanese government, arrived here yesterday on his way home.

At the Westminster, where he is staying, Yadu said his mission in America has been the obtaining of an electrical education. He received his diploma.

"Wireless telegraphy has been one of my chief studies," he said. "The idea of transmission of sounds without wires is one that is still in its infancy and it will be only a few years before the business of the country as far as telephone and telegraph are concerned will be transacted by this method."

He said that according to the Japanese mind, the Americans are advanced above all other nations in the matter of electrical apparatus and knowledge of the possibilities of this phenomenon.

Last Chase.

CHAINGANG CAPTAIN'S FALL BREAKS NECK.

WHILE mounting his horse to give chase after a culprit who was escaping from the camp, Capt. William Bouett of the county chain gang fell and broke his neck yesterday afternoon, dying instantly. Before his assistants could reach his body the captain's horse Dick had overtaken the prisoner and was driving him back to camp.

Late in the afternoon the members of the chain gang, all serving time for minor offenses, were laboring on a road near Azusa. Throughout the day one of the members of the gang, a man named Palmenas, sentenced to six months' imprisonment for burglary committed in Glendale, had been thirsty, constantly visiting the water bucket.

Shortly before the hour to return to headquarters Palmenas again adjourned to the water bucket, and when he thought himself unobserved slipped out of camp and was afterward seen running down the highway.

Capt. Bouett, who had been a deputy sheriff for more than eight years, was the first to hear the alarm and ran for his horse to start in pursuit. The horse is also a veteran of the camp, experienced in running down the fugitives and taking a keen delight in such chases. He had been Bouett's pet mount for years.

As Bouett threw his leg across the saddle Dick sprang after the man he had sighted down the road. At his first lunge the rider lost his balance. Because Bouett was an accomplished horseman, and often took the saddle with a running leap, the animal bounded off in pursuit. Capt. Bouett clung desperately to the saddle for a few yards and then fell. He lay as he struck.

Dick continued his chase after the fugitive, rounding him up and attempting to bite him. While the horse was worrying the man other guards of the camp ran up and seized him.

A surgeon was immediately summoned for Capt. Bouett, but in vain. The body was taken to the family residence, No. 1425 Buena Vista street. He leaves a widow and five children.

CIVIL WAR FOR BAGS OF GOLD.

Restraint and Mistreatment of Heiress Alleged.

As the climax to a remarkable chain of circumstances that include a mysterious blow on the head producing paralysis, three abductions in as many different cities and a bitter fifteen-year contest over her $100,000 estate, Mrs. Margaret Rayner, 82 years old, yesterday saw her nephew and son-in-law locked in a final struggle for the guardianship of her person and property. The case is on trial in Judge Rives's court.

The presence of Mrs. Rayner in court has been very much desired by attorneys representing John Campbell, the nephew, and friends who charge that she has been mistreated and detained against her will since she was mysteriously removed from her home by Charles J. Genshlea, her son-in-law; Attorney Linney and Mrs. Celia Allen, but she has not appeared.

For the third time physicians and nurses employed by Genshlea reported yesterday afternoon that Mrs. Rayner was not physically able to appear in court. Immediately Attorney Clara Shortridge Foltz, representing Campbell, filed a complaint with the court that Genshlea and Attorney Linney were practicing a subterfuge in preventing the appearance of Mrs. Rayner in the courtroom.

"Before Mrs. Rayner was abducted and removed to her present quarters she was in fair physical condition, aside from her paralysis," Mrs. Foltz said. "I am informed that she ate heartily, slept soundly and was in a contented mood. She had only one nurse and no doctors. As soon as she was taken in charge by Mr. Genshlea she was at once surrounded by an array of nurses and doctors. I believe that it was all done for effect. When Mrs. Campbell and I called on Mrs. Rayner yesterday she was sitting up and seemed to be well. I believe that they are practicing a deception on this court. They are doing everything that they can to prevent her appearing as a witness. They are afraid to have her testify."

Arguments and testimony on Genshlea's application for guardianship disclosed that he is a former Arizona cowboy, prospector and adventurer. He is named as the principal beneficiary by his wife in an unsigned and alleged illegal will that has been offered for propate.

DEATH CONCEALED?

John Campbell, Mrs. Rayner's nephew, another witness heard yesterday, is a San Francisco lumber dealer. He said that he came here to offer a home to his aged aunt and to look after her interests. The witness said that he had been informed that his aunt was dead and had been kept in ignorance of the death of Mrs. Genshlea, his cousin. The information regarding his aunt's abduction was obtained from a San Francisco newspaper.

"Who was your mother?" Mrs. Foltz inquired of the witness.

"She was Mrs. Jane Campbell, a pioneer of Contra Costa county. She died last November."

"She was the sister of Mrs. Margaret Rayner?"

"Yes."

"When did you see your aunt previous to your visit to her yesterday?"

"It was two and one-half years ago in San Francisco. She and my mother visited frequently."

"Did you communicate with your aunt at the time of your mother's death?"

"I tried through telegrams, letters and the efforts of friends to communicate with her, but failed. She had not learned of my mother's death until I told her yesterday."

"Did you know that May, your

Which opened in the Superior Court yesterday. It centers about Mrs. Rayner, who is 82 years old and worth $100,000. She has been abducted three times. Campbell is her nephew, who came here from San Francisco to look after her when he learned accidentally that she was still living. Genshlea, cowboy, prospector and adventurer, is defending the alleged illegal will of his wife, to whom he was twice married. Mrs. Allen figures as the dragon-guardian of Mrs. Rayner. She is claimed to be implicated with Genshlea in the alleged abduction of the old woman.

DEATH GIVES NO CHOICE.

Woman Who Refused City Warrant and Carried Large Sum in Gold From Hall Passes Out.

Mrs. Cenaida Bubourdieu, 58 years old, who created a sensation about a year ago by refusing to accept a city warrant for condemned property and carrying $36,000 in gold through the streets from the treasurer's office to her bank, died yesterday at her home, No. 640 North Broadway. She leaves a fortune of $200,000. Heart Trouble, induced by a cold, caused death after two weeks' sickness.

Mrs. Manuela Fowler, a sister; Manuel and Vincent Enriquez, brothers, and Mrs. Manuel Enriquez, her mother, are understood to be the heirs.

Mrs. Bubourdieu, whose husband was a local capitalist, was related to the old Sanches and Avila families and she was born in Los Angeles.

At the time she carried the gold through the streets she and a relative had just accepted $36,000 from the city in payment for Sunset boulevard property.

Funeral services will be held over the remains at the Plaza Church at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

POLICE SEEK TRIO.

The police are looking for three men suspected of being professional card sharps working the Coast boats. They were prevented from fleecing an old man on the President yesterday by the prompt action of the purser and Capt. Thomas. Later the three hurriedly left a Los Angeles-bound car at Hermosillo, when they observed themselves being closely watched by the other passengers from the President. C. H. Cocking, of Vancouver, one of the latter, describes them as being all middle-aged men, one stout, florid and dressed in a gray suit and soft hat; another, a blond foreigner, light suit and hat, cast in the left eye; the third, stout, wearing glasses and a suit of navy blue.

The Darrow Trial.

LIKE A WRAITH HE COMES, GOES.

Mysterious Man Shows Up Again but in Vain.

Identity Has Changed Much Since His Last Use.

Defense Anxious to Recall Harrington; Refused.

The sallow man of mystery was re-injected into the Darrow trial yesterday to the accompaniment of slow music, of the kind performed as the heroine sobs out the the story of a mis-spent life. The reappearance was after the repressive school, with just enough lack of detail to arouse the interest of the reader as the chapter ends.

Leonard Shober, a sturdy defender of the faith of unionism as laid down by Darrow, Johannsen and others, a watchman at the office of the defense headquarters in the fall of 1911, a member of the Moulders' Union, but not working at it, and now a watchman at the Labor Temple, is the witness who dragged the mysterious Mr. Fixit from his seclusion and put him through some of his paces.

This person is not Oscar Maier, who played the role in a previous trial, because Shober testified that he was confronted with Maier in Dist.-Atty. Fredericks' office when he went to "make some financial arrangements," not unconnected with witness fees, and Maier and the possessor of the sallow complexion and a stiff hat and a dark suit, who visited the Harriman offices in the Higgins building at 6:45 or thereabouts on the morning of the Franklin arrest are not the same individuals.

Shober was led into some of the highways and byways, not to mention the hedges, haunted by the ghosts of previous evidence by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford. It appears from evidence given by Shober before the grand jury on January 11, 1912, that he did not pay close attention to the stranger, but yesterday he reversed this evidence and explained with considerable detail how the man was dressed.

He weighed about 130 pounds, Shober said, and was about five feet six inches tall. He was calm and collected as a memorable background to Bert Franklin, who was "greatly excited."

Shober testified that Franklin and the "stranger" came to the office before 7 o'clock on the morning of the Franklin arrest and were admitted to Job Harriman's office, where they conferred. The "calm and collected" stranger looked suspicious to Shober because of Franklin's excitability, and the witness fixed the date as that of the arrest because, he said, when he got up that evening the papers had the story of the apprehension of the detective. The moulder admitted that he "saw various combinations of people at the defense headquarters during the McNamara trial." A reading of the transcript of Shober's evidence before the grand jury disclosed great mental refreshment of detail since that time, both as to the appearance of the stranger, the time he remained in the office, and the hours of employment of the watchman himself.

UNEVENTFUL DAY.

Aside from the brief stalking of the sallow human dark secret across the well-set stage the day was devoid of the spectacular, and devoted by the defense in great part to establishing a statement alleged to have been made by Franklin to newspaper reporters and others, before his confession, and immediately after the preliminary hearing, that Darrow didn't have a thing to do with it, or words to that effect.

Gordon G. Watt, secretary of the Montana Senate, a former member of the upper house in that sovereign commonwealth and for several years City Clerk of the municipality of Venice, and a friend of the defendant, came down to relate several meetings which he had with Franklin for the acknowledged purpose of securing evidence in aid of Darrow.

The Alexandria bar was a favorite trysting place, but other cafes, both in Los Angeles and Venice, were not neglected. Watt said that Franklin told him that Darrow never gave him (Franklin) money to be used in bribing jurors. Peter Pirotte and F. L. Steineman of Venice were frequent members of the party. Watt admitted that he sought to secure impeaching evidence from Franklin and said that Darrow had told him that he "would be thankful for any evidence that would assist him."

cousin, re-married Mr. Genshlea several months ago?"

"No."

"And did you know of the death of Mrs. Genshlea?"

"Not until I reached Los Angeles two days ago. I had been kept in ignorance and was out of touch with the whole situation."

"How did you learn that your aunt was in distress?"

UGLY CHARGES.

Attorney Herald asked Campbell to tell of his recent visit to the private hospital at No. 6616 Thorn street, where Mrs. Rayner is held, it is alleged, against her wishes and mistreated.

"I found my aunt surrounded by four or five women, all of them strangers to me," Campbell continued. "At first they refused to let me enter the house, but when I insisted, gave permission for me to speak with her briefly. All of the women were present at the interview. After I had talked two or three minutes I was told to go by the woman in charge of the house, but refused. My aunt recognized me at once and in talking with her about past events I learned that her mind was clear. Aside from her paralysis, her physical condition seemed to be good."

"Do you think that she is able to come to court?"

"I do."

Judge Rives asked Campbell to explain his purpose in coming to Los Angeles.

"I came here to get my aunt out of bondage and away from schemers and give her a quiet home where she can spend the rest of her days in peace," the witness replied.

"Are you willing to take her at your own expense and in face of the possibility that it might turn out that she has no property?"

"My offer of a home to her is not affected one way or another by her financial condition. I have property."

"I like to hear you talk that way," Judge Rives said.

Mrs. Celia Allen, the wife of an electrician of No. 913 North Avenue Sixty-five and claimed to be implicated with Genshlea in the alleged abduction of Mrs. Rayner, probably will be summoned as a witness by Campbell's attorneys to explain her activity in the case. She was in the motor car with Genshlea and Attorney Linney when the aged woman was removed to the private hospital. Mrs. Allen, acting as self-appointed guardian, has stood watch at the hospital and attempted to prevent all persons, except her and Genshlea's friends, from seeing the aged heiress. In the alleged illegal will Mrs. Allen is given $250 with which to buy a diamond ring.

Campbell said yesterday that his aunt's first husband was Col. Paul K. Hubbs, a State Senator and attorney of San Francisco. Hubbs left to his wife the fortune that has caused all her woe.

BANNING.

BANNING, Feb. 18.—This city has been a city only a few days, and the Trustees organized today. Walter S. Hathaway was chosen president of the Board of Trustees. The other members of the board are C. O. Barker, J. M. Gilman, John L. Moore and C. D. Hamilton. Theodore Backus is City Clerk. There are several applications for Town Marshal, including one or two members of the posse which trailed the Indian outlaw, Willie Boy, over the desert hills, three years ago.

The Banning lodge of Odd Fellows, one of the youngest in Riverside county, is in a flourishing condition and has had plans drawn for a substantial two-story fireproof building to be built at Banning this spring, at a cost of $10,000.

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

Takes a mild laxative with good pepsin and insures comfort and pleasure.

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grownup person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

When these commonsense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, which together form a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy obtainable for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, etc. Thousands of users will testify to this, among them Mrs. Oliver Young, Merrill, Wis. She says: "After many years suffering from indigestion I have obtained what I believe to be permanent relief by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I feel 10 years younger, my work seems easy, my breath is no longer bad and I eat what I want without distress."

Syrup Pepsin is sure in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets and mints, or taking cathartics, salts, etc., all of which are harsh and nauseous and at best do but temporary good. You can obtain Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Old Chinese Junk Ning-Po,
A hundred years in the smuggling trade, and due at San Pedro [illegible]

HISTORIC SMUGGLING JUNK IN PORT TODAY.

THE Ning-Po, a Chinese junk with more past than a chorus lady, is due to slide around the breakwater at San Pedro this morning and come to for quarantine and customs inspection after an eventful voyage of 7000 miles across the Pacific. The customs officers are more than ordinarily curious because the Ning-Po has a world-wide reputation as a "bad actor," for she was constructed more than 100 years ago exclusively for the smuggling trade. After the formalities at the port of entry are completed, the Ning-Po will proceed to Venice, whither she cleared at Shanghai in the 16th of last September. She was sighted off Santa Barbara light night before last by the steam schooner Avalon, Capt. Christensen.

The junk is a three-master, 138 feet long, thirty-one feet wide and with a draft of fifteen feet. She has three decks, nine water-tight bulkheads and various concealed compartments, the finding of which tests the ingenuity of the searcher. She is built of camphor wood, with a foremast and mainmast of ironwood, and she carries a battery of old muzzle-loading guns known as jingals.

The Ning-Po, commanded by a Danish master, Capt. Jes Toft, with a native crew of fifteen, has been reported lost several times since she sailed from Shanghai. In the North Pacific she encountered a typhoon which dismantled her, carrying away her rudder and masts. Three of the crew and the first officer made for the coast of Japan, over 300 miles away, in a small boat, the captain and the remainder of the crew, [illegible] tinied, remained on [illegible] picked up by a cruiser and [illegible] Shimosu, where she was [illegible] resumed her voyage to [illegible]

MEMORY FOUNTAIN TO BE A WORLD-BEATER.

To Exploit Los Angeles and the Great Aqueduct—Chairman Neuner Returns from Tour of Country and Declares He Saw Nothing So Artistic as Memorial Contemplated.

M. C. Neuner, chairman of the Memorial Fountain Committee, appointed by the Executive Committee for the joint celebration of the completion of the Los Angeles Aqueduct and the dedication of Exposition Park, has arrived at home after an extended tour of the East, enthusiastic—for Los Angeles.

He visited Chicago, Dayton, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, and a few more of the eastern centers, giving careful inspection to their art exhibits, park entrances, monuments and memorials of various kinds, and in New York had the advantage of inspecting models of many foreign works of the kind.

"I am confident," he said last night, "that with the ideas we have in mind we can beat them all from an artistic standpoint. Our hope is to have an elaborate monument representing two distinct ideas—Los Angeles and water."

And he means water with a capital "W."

"Not a bit of a stream squirting into the air—but water," he said. "A structure with many fountains. Not a monument representing any personality—the city of Los Angeles built the aqueduct, and it must represent the city and its great achievement. Something that people will look at and take their friends to see; something that will advertise the city far and wide; that will attract the moving-picture people, photographers and artists all over the world; with sunken gardens and avenues and statues, and, most of all, with water, exploiting that idea to such an extent that everybody who looks at it or sees a picture of it will think first of our unequaled water supply.

The case probably will be completed today.

ANYBODY SEEN FLOREZ?

Agitated Woman Sets Central Police Station by Ears Looking for Lost Pet—Wanderer.

There was considerable stir and commotion in and around Chief Sebastian's office, Capt. Murray's room and the detective bureau yesterday afternoon following a hasty visit by Mrs. George Smith, who half-hysterically announced that she wanted to find at once the proper person to report the mysterious disappearance of Florez.

Mrs. Smith drove to the Central Station in a handsome auto. First she visited the Chief's office, from which she was directed to Capt. Murray. He directed that she be escorted to the detective bureau.

"Florez is a fox terrier," exclaimed Mrs. Smith to Secretary Wright. "He's an English fox terrier. He's got a pedigree, too."

"Yes, ma'am," nonchalantly replied Wright. "Is that all the description you can give us?"

It was not. Mrs. Smith told Wright of Florez's white hairs, which cover most of his body except for black and tan spots, such as all really-truly thoroughbred English fox terriers have. According to Mrs. Smith, Florez has crossed the Atlantic Ocean more than once, and has traveled across the American continent several times. In fact, there are few States in the Union that Florez hasn't visited. Mrs. Smith estimates that Florez has traveled about 100,000 miles. He disappeared on the 5th inst.

NEW COMPLICATIONS.

Family Alleged to Have Done Crooked Grocery Business Involved in Suit Filed by Trustee.

Litigation involving W. H. Allen, various members of his family and the Sunset Grocery, formerly doing business at No. 138 North Spring street, took a new turn in the United States District Court yesterday. The grocery was closed last July after the filing of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy, and the arrest of W. H., Clyde, Herbert and Nellie Allen, N. E. Whitman and Frankie Whitman, on the charge of concealing assets of the concern from the creditors, whose claims total $17,000.

William H. Moore, Jr., trustee, filed suit against Mrs. Samilda J. Allen, wife of W. H. Allen, asking that a certain deed conveying eighty acres of Montgomery county (Kansas) land to C. H. Wentworth, son-in-law, be set aside. It is alleged that January 10, 1912, Allan and his wife conveyed the property to Wentworth, who five days later conveyed it to Mrs. Samilda Allen for the purpose of defrauding the creditors. Wentworth is alleged to have pretended to pay $2000 for the property and Mrs. Allen is alleged to have pretended to pay as much to Wentworth for the deed.

Clyde and C. Herbert Allen, sons of W. H. Allen, conducted a grocery store near Coffeyville, Kan., until December, 1911, when they are said to have left for Los Angeles, swindling their creditors. It is also declared that when the Sunset Grocery Company was forced into bankruptcy $10,000 worth of the stock was concealed from creditors.

The court is petitioned to set aside Wentworth's deed to Mrs. Samilda Allen and that the eighty-acre farm be declared the property of W. H. Allen and turned over to the trustee in bankruptcy for the benefit of his creditors.

Like Wraith He Comes.

witness of the day and a nimble crossing of swords resulted with former Judge Gray, who cross-examined the witness-attorney. Domingues related a meeting with Franklin at the Majestic bar at which Franklin, John Drane and F. Nichol were present. They had a drink, at least the witness declared that is what they went there for at Franklin's invitation, and then, whether after or before the drink is not in evidence, Franklin, according to Domingues, placed a halo about the brow of Darrow, whom he is alleged to have said is "a good man who would not stand for corruption or dirty work."

Domingues explained his relationship with Earl Rogers by saying that sometimes he paid the office rent when it is not paid by Earl. Domingues was unable to fix the date of the Majestic bar-room talk, but finally concluded that it was in the year 1911. Witness said he could not undertake to quote Franklin exactly because Bert used pollysylables and adverbs of which he has no conception, but he did admit saying that if Franklin had received $4000 he would have taken an airship; gone straight up three or four miles; gyrated around a bit and dropped down in his back yard. Franklin, the witness said, made no statement as to his own guilt or innocence.

Former Judge Gray made the witness stick closely to the text in spite of a tendency on the part of the lawyer to wander from the beaten path. This exercise was enthusiastically partaken of by the cross-examiner, but honors were "easy" when Dominguez was excused.

John H. Drane, formerly in the city engineering department, corroborated the testimony of Domingues relative to the absolving statements Franklin is alleged to have made at the Broadway bar. Drane is the chap who drinks buttermilk, and this sterling fact was again read into the evidence. Drane said on cross-examination that he told Franklin that he (Franklin) was so damned crooked that Darrow had to watch him, but added that he didn't mean this statement seriously, because he and Franklin are friends.

Pirotte and Steineman and other impeaching witnesses are to be called today and possibly Lincoln Steffens who, it is understood, is expected from the East, to add piquancy to the case and to tell the jury how he "done it."

POLLY HEARTBROKEN.

Griefstricken Bird Searches for Much-traveled Terrier, Who's Stolen for the Seventh Time.

"Buster," a beloved thoroughbred fox terrier, who has traveled 100,000 miles, crossing the continent seven times, has been stolen for the seventh time from his owner, Mrs. George B. Smith, No. 1822 Arapahoe street.

"Buster's" associate and playmate, an intelligent parrot, is heartbroken. To her a parrot's paradise is gloomy without Buster. She missed him immediately after his disappearance and began a search which has continued daily. Polly has looked into every nook and corner where its canine playmate might be hiding to tease, calling anxiously and vainly for Buster to come forth.

The bird and dog were companions on a transcontinental trip in a Maxwell touring car with Mr. and Mrs. Smith last August and ever since the two pets have been inseparable.

The dog has been stolen six times before and is used to being held for ransom. He is remarkably intelligent and affectionate. A reward has been offered.

ON HOOFS HANGS VERDICT.

Government Proposes by Peculiar Impressions to Prove Cattlemen Set Fire to Underbrush.

The peculiar formation of the hoofs of a horse ridden by Ignacio Salazar, a cattleman living in Cottonwood Canyon, in the Cleveland National Forest, San Diego county, is depended on by the government to convict Salazar of the charge that on the night of November 3, 1911, he set fire to the timber and brush on the government reservation in three places.

It is the contention of the prosecution that Salazar, like many other cattlemen, is of the opinion that if they burn off the brush there will be a larger grazing area for their cattle, and therefore the duty of stock owners is to destroy the brush, but Salazar denies having ridden the particular horse on the date mentioned. The testimony showed that the tracks made by the animal with the broken hoofs were the only ones to be seen in the vicinity of the fire. The case will be argued and go to the jury in the United States District Court today.

ELK HILLS SUIT.

Hearing in Government's Case to Reclaim Six Thousand Acres in Kern County Is Resumed.

The taking of testimony in the Federal government's suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, involving patent to 6000 acres of alleged oil land in the Elk Hills, was resumed before Special Examiner Longley, yesterday.

The testimony was limited to two witnesses, W. J. Luke, Jr., field agent of the land department, of the railroad, and Frank M. Anderson, of Berkeley, oil and geological expert. The hearing will be resumed this morning.

Luke said three oil-bearing wells had been sunk in the Elk Hills country and not one was producing when he made a map of the territory.

Charles R. Lewers of San Francisco, who represents the Southern Pacific, and Special Counsel Mills, have entered into a stipulation in regard to the future hearing of the case that will be presented to Judge Wellborn for approval. Under the provisions of the new equity rules, effective the 1st inst., it would be necessary to continue the hearing in this case in open court, instead of before a special examiner, as has been done.

SOCIETY

AN INTERESTING Lenten wedding was solemnized last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Amos Bulfinch of South Vermont avenue, when their popular young daughter, Miss Constance Irene, became the bride of Llewellyn Adelbert Parker.

Miss Bulfinch was attired in brocaded charmeuse trimmed elaborately with princesse lace. She wore a long tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and white satin slippers, which were worn by her mother thirty years ago at her own wedding. A shower of Killarney buds and lily-of-the-valley completed the chic attire. Her sister, Miss Mildred Gray Bulfinch, in cream-colored charmeuse with an over-drape of chiffon and a shower of white roses, assisted as maid of honor. Frank Parker was best man. Rev. Dr. William Horace Day of the First Congregational Church was the officiating clergyman and before and after the service music was furnished by Miss Porter Hillman, piano; Miss Florence Fragner, violin; Mrs. Harry Little, flute, and Miss Dixie Osborne, vocal.

The home was handsome with asparagus plumosus and white and pink roses. This pretty arrangement was used also to adorn the bride's table. Following the supper Mr. and Mrs. Parker left for an automobile honeymoon. After March 15 they will be at home to friends in their pretty new chalet at No. 3930 Ingraham street.

Bridge Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bacon, No. 16 Berkeley Square, entertained more than 100 friends last evening with a bridge party. The living-room glowed with hundreds of red and white carnations, while acacia blossoms formed a yellow and green scheme in the hall and dining-room.

Santa Barbara Gossip.

Notwithstanding the Lenten season there is considerable activity in Santa Barbara and Montecito social circles. The Hotel Potter grill, Potter Country Club, Santa Barbara Country Club and other places where the exclusive set gathers have been unusually gay the past week and the calendar for the coming week is well filled.

The advent of Miss Kitty Cheatham diseuse, in Santa Barbara this week was the occasion for a number of entertainments in her honor, Mrs. William Miller Graham, the chatelaine of Bellosguardo, giving for her a brilliant [illegible] party. Mrs. Graham and Miss [illegible] were born in the South and reared on adjoining plantations and their meeting here was a delight to both.

One of the crowning events of the week was the annual fair of the St. Cecelia organization, an institution of charitable motives which maintains a ward in a local hospital for unfortunates who are unable to defray their own expenses. Society turned out en masse to help swell the fund and though the receipts have not been announced, it is believed they show an increase over last year, when $3300 was realized.

In Montecito.

Mrs. George K. Birge entertained at "El Furelides." in Montecito last Thursday with a luncheon. The home was beautifully and artistically decorated. The guests included Mrs. C. H. Hopkins, Mrs. Edwin H. Sawyer, Mrs. Milo M. Potter, Mrs. James H. Bull, Mrs. T. K. Culley, Mrs. David A. Conrad, Mrs. Charles Frederick Eaton, Mrs. Oliver Dwight Norton, Mrs. S. A. Perkins, Mrs. W. N. Campbell and Mrs. William Dohrmann.

Miss Eleanor Wood was the guest of honor at a luncheon given last Friday by Mrs. John S. Edwards at the Country Club. Yellow jonquils were used in the decorations. The guests included the Misses Nina Jones, Marian Campbell, Truman, Marguerite Doe, Margery Bull, Wetmore, Ogilvy, Thorndyke and Watson.

Mrs. Eli A. Gage gave a pretty dinner last Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harvey, who will leave soon. The beautiful Montecito home was decorated for the occasion, American Beauty roses predominating. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Milo M. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bull, Mrs. Heffinger, Schuyler Coe and John H. Marble.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

Church women are unusually active this week. There is the Interdenominational Federation of Women's Christian Missionary Workers which will hold an all-day session on Friday at the First Methodist Church. This includes women of some ten or twelve denominations—in fact, all the Protestant orthodox churches.

The programme promises to be of vital interest. In the morning there will be three addresses—one on Mormonism by Mrs. White, a members of the National Association of Home Missionary Workers which has been making a special study of this subject; one on work in the Philippines by Miss Winifred Spaulding, who is home on furlough from Manila; and one on "Immigration," by Dr. George F. Kengott, superintendent of church extension for the Congregational churches of this city.

Dr. Kengott has spent years in the study of sociology and comes here from the East to do this special work. For twenty years he was pastor of one of the largest Congregational churches in Massachusetts, and is the author of "The Record of a City." He is now the minister-at-large of the Congregational churches of Los Angeles, strengthening the weak churches, establishing new ones and co-ordinating the work of all. Within the three months since Dr. Kengott entered upon this work in Los Angeles two new Congregational churches have received ecclesiastical recognition—the Lincoln Memorial and the Berean—and work has been begun among the French. In addition to these, two new church enterprises in growing residential districts which are without churches of any denomination, have been begun and a fund of $10,-

FACTS FEATURES and FANCIES for WOMEN and MEN

I mean by this a season in dress and millinery.

There is no denying that we earlier the styles for spring than do places, and even the "Early for the South" do not quite our need. We, in California, are impatient of winter (and a few days seem to us an entire winter) that we bestir ourselves to of winter's garb long before Fashion sanctions such a movement elsewhere. This fact is especially noticeable since the introduction of United Fashion Show. Earlier more early are inquiries made for the new spring fashions and long before even the leading in New York have been able the latest importations, is brought to bear for the of such clothing here. Buyers early and commence sending out and keep a stream here until the opening of the Show. Patrons are so eager and exclusive goods that it is difficult to retain enough for the Fashion Show. Now, makers and those on the would recognize our early and cater to this demand, the would be less difficult. We the very best and we want it New Yorkers need it, even for journeying to the South.

To Protect Your Treasures.

If you do not own a cedar chest—and you should own one if possible to protect your fine furs and other treasures—you may simulate one.

With large sheets of cedar paper line an old trunk throughout, being careful to amply cover all places where the paper meets, so as to exclude both dust and moth. Line the trays with the same kind of paper, and while you will not have an article so beautiful as a cedar chest—which is as ornamental as useful—you will find that your garments stored away will be well protected. It is well to strew cedar shavings among the garments, and to be certain to beat and brush each article, as you fold it, in order to be sure that no moth eggs are secreted there. Many a woman has condemned her cedar chest, or her chest of camphorwood, declaring it a failure, when in truth the moths were carefully fostered in the warm depths of the chest, being placed there with the garments.

An Odd Vogue.

A strange fashion in the spring millinery is that of using uncurled feathers. This fad began last year, but has now culminated in all sorts of odd effects. Under the term of "wet feathers," as they are known to the millinery trade, almost any kind of feather may be used, appearing in many cases under fascinating names. Ostrich feathers without curl, and sometimes given the "wet" effect by means of a chemical treatment with glycerine preparations, which keep them continuously "wet" in appearance, are most effectively used and take a prominent place on the more exclusive hats and turbans, while "any old feathers" are clad for dress parade by means of this secret process and are givensa cachet which otherwise they would lack.

Fashion's Conceits.

Shoulder-point styles in low collars seem to be especially good.

Afternoon frocks have pleated skirts of silk and tunics of cloth.

For little girls, very smart white dresses embroidered in the Bulgarian colorings are shown.

Fancy edged taffeta, plain and in Bulgarian colorings, will be greatly used for millinery.

AQUEDUCT LINE FACES POVERTY.

WITNESSES TELL COMMISSION OF BRANCH'S NEEDS.

Southern Pacific Declares Owens River Line Will Operate on Bare Margin of Profit if Deprived of Present Revenue—Freight Case Under Advisement.

Contending that the Owens River Railroad is a branch line and therefore entitled to the rate nurture prescribed for branch lines in reiterated decisions of the Supreme Court, the Southern Pacific yesterday introduced four witnesses in the Owens Valley freight rate case to prove that the road, even with high rates and the aqueduct revenue, is barely self-supporting.

This ended the testimony and the case was taken under advisement by President Eshleman of the commission, who promised a decision at an early date.

The fact that the line from Mojave to Owenyo is broad-gauge, and narrow-gauge from there to Mino, necessitating the transferral of all freight at Owenyo, was the basis for the Southern Pacific's contention for a branch line ruling. Testimony regarding earnings was that the line from Mojave to Owenyo represents a book cost of $36,000 per mile, with yearly gross earnings of $2368 per mile—$486 of which represents commercial freight revenue and $1882 aqueduct freight revenue. The entire mileage in California was shown to have cost $26,940 per mile and to be earning $2218 gross per mile—$1138 from commercial freight and passengers and $1180 from aqueduct freight.

It was further alleged that the average net earnings of all branch-line mileage in the State is $435 per mile, or about the gross commercial freight revenue of the Owens River line per mile. The significance of this testimony was that the Owens River line will be operating on a bare margin of profit when deprived of the aqueduct revenue. It was further shown that similar branch line mileage in the State is earning $2000 to $14,000 gross per mile.

The railroad's witnesses were H. G. Toll, assistant general freight agent; J. M. Davis, general superintendent, and J. K. Butler, traffic statistician, all of San Francisco, and T. M. Worthington, Bakersfield.

'TIMES" TEACHER TELLS SECRETS.

How to Make Pancakes and Rolls Irresistible.

Declares Women More Cleanly Than Mere Men.

Alpha and Omega of Yeast; Its Uses.

"Every normal woman prefers to be in the home," observed Mrs. Haffner-Ginger as she opened the oven door to see how the clover-leaf rolls were baking, in The Times School of Domestic Science.

"I honestly believe there isn't a normal woman in the world who doesn't prefer the kitchen to the office—provided that kitchen is what it ought to be. There are some few men—very few—who are cleaner in the kitchen than women, but if you could go inside the kitchens of the great bakeries where the bread you buy is made, you would see some things to shock your sense of cleanliness, to say the least. Women are cleaner by nature in this work than men," and she told of conditions as they are found in bakery kitchens—all of which made the women more anxious than ever to learn how to make their own bread.

AS TO PANCAKES.

"I do not advocate the use of raw flour for making pancakes," observed the domestic science teacher as she continued mixing bread and handing out chemical logic.

"The only safe way to make pancakes is to use something that has been previously cooked — bread crumbs, or rice, or something of that sort. There is a chemical reason, ladies. Pancakes, in order to be crisp and brown, and brittle must be baked quickly—so quickly, in fact, that raw flour cannot be sufficiently cooked to make it digestible."

PANS, POWDERS, ROLLS.

"I prefer tin baking pans to granite," she continued as she placed the bread dough in a tin bread pan preparatory to baking. "The granite pans are liable to stick after you have used them awhile, but the tin pans on the contrary are better the longer you use them.

"Some time when I am giving a bread-making lecture I am going to give you a lesson on Parker House rolls—the genuine kind, as I learned to make them in the Parker House in Boston—with the egg-shell crust on the outside, and scarcely anything but the delicious, bubbly, full-of-holes insides. You know the real Parker House rolls are always baked that precise shade of brown, the same crisp crust, and the same vanity-like inside."

"What kind of baking powder do you prefer," asked an interested woman in the middle row.

"The phosphate powders," replied Mrs. Haffner-Ginger promptly.

"What kind of flour? Well, ladies, there are as many varieties of wheat as there are kinds of persons in the world—there's the hard-soft wheat, and the soft-hard wheat, and the fine hard wheat and the medium mixed wheat flours. The finest hard wheat bread flour in the world is made at Sleepy Eye, Minn. Carefully selected wheat is used, whereas most flour is made from mixed wheat—all sorts of wheat."

CHURNING YOUR BUTTER.

Then someone asked about butter—it was just as Mrs. Haffner-Ginger was buttering those delicious clover-leaf rolls for the maid to pass through the audience.

"Ethel, bring out that little glass churn," directed the culinary expert. The maid placed a cunning glass churn with dasher on the table.

"Now ladies," said Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, "with two quarts of milk a day you can make three pounds of butter a week, beside having what milk you need—I am speaking of the ordinary family, you understand."

MAKING YEAST.

As a yeast cake starter, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger gives the following recipe: Put into a pint pitcher one cup of warm water and fresh milk—equal parts; add a heaping tablespoonful of flour; teaspoon corn meal; half teaspoon sugar, pinch of salt. Beat well; cover pitcher with a warm towel and set in a vessel of warm water, high enough to cover yeast in pitcher; keep water in vessel same temperature until yeast reaches top of pitcher.

Yeast cakes: Peel, cut and measure four cups of potatoes. Put on to boil in eight cups of water with one cup of hops tied in a bag. Boil forty-five minutes; take out hops; mash potatoes; mix with the hot water and strain through sieve; while hot, stir in enough flour to make a stiff batter; beat well; add the yeast starter or a dry yeast cake dissolved in one cup of water. Let raise well, then add enough corn meal to mix stiff dough; roll about one-half inch thick and cut in one and one-half inch square cakes. Sprinkle clean cloths spread on boards with meal; place cakes on this; dry well in sun, and put away wrapped in oiled paper; tie in bag or box and keep in cool place. Use as directed in quick sponge.

Perfect quick liquid yeast: Peel and cut into small pieces, then measure three cups of potatoes; boil in three cups of water; when done, pour potato water on cup of flour; mash potatoes and add; then one cup cold water; one level tablespoon sugar; level teaspoon salt; beat when cool, add one dry yeast cake that has been soaked in a cup of warm water. Strain whole mixture through wire sieve; let stand in bowl for six hours, then use or put away in air-tight, well-scalded jar, bottle or jug. Keep in a cool place. When needed for quick bread use according to the recipe published in yesterday's Times.

At the same hour and place, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger will give a lecture and demonstration this afternoon on cake making. It will be free to the public.

APPLES TO REMAIN CHEAP.

Large Storage Supply of Fruit Makes Advance Unlikely for Some Time—Large Crops Everywhere.

Apples and the high cost of living are not on speaking terms this season, for excessive crops in all sections have practically flooded the market far into the season, and prices consequently remain down apparently to stay. In fact dealers have almost given up predicting any change in local conditions. Not only has there been a large supply of storage apples here, but shipments of the stored fruit have been sent here from all sections.

"Most of the apples come in from Northern California now, but large quantities are also received from Oregon and Washington," said J. Huber, secretary of Rivers Brothers yesterday. "The varieties on the market are Spitzenbergs, Winesaps, Newtown Pippins, White Winter Pearmains, Ben Caps, Rome Beauties, and a number of others. There are probably more different kinds of apples than at this time last year, the supply is much larger and prices are about 50 cents less.

"Probably 1500 cars of apples will be used in and around the city this season. About 600 cars will be the aggregate from the Watsonville district, while the remainder will come from elsewhere principally the Northwest.

"Earlier in the season some estimates of the quantity likely to be consumed in the city ran as high as 1000 cars, and it was said at that time that shipments would probably fall off almost entirely early this year. They have continued at a surprisingly large average, however. Based on the estimate of 1500 cars, it is not unlikely that nearly $1,500,000 worth of the fruit will be used hereabouts.

"The crops not only in this State but all over have been large, and similar conditions prevail in many other cities. Apples are very cheap in San Francisco and Sacramento. From present indications it appears as if a good supply will be on hand until summer."

TROTTER TALKS TO MEN.

"Mel" Trotter made a happy talk last night at the Y.M.C.A. on "The Man from Missouri," delighting a large crowd of men with his terse and original way of putting things. With Trotter a spade is a spade, and if there is any better way than to call things by their right name, he has to be shown. Dr. H. Francis Perry of Vancouver also made a short talk. Tonight at 7:30 Mr. Trotter will speak again in the same place and all men are invited to hear him. His subject will be "God's Thirteen-inch Gun."

Bunker Bean
By HARRY LEON WILSON
Author of "The Spenders," etc.
BUNKER BEAN wore the best $18.00 suit in America and heartily despised the detachable cuffs of his millionaire employer as he took dictation. He admired his friend Bulger immensely because he cultivated the air of a wealthy amateur with a passion for typewriting, and was an "advanced dresser." Yet Bunker hadn't the courage to wear anything but the most sober hues himself. Altogether, Bunker was as timid a male in maturity as could be found—that is, he was until he found out through a clairvoyant that he had been Napoleon in a previous incarnation. From that moment his life changed; the spirit of the Corsican descended upon him from the bloody past, and the youth who formerly shrank under the gaze of a friendly policeman now walked with the memories of Moscow and Austerlitz forever in mind.
But we spoil Mr. Wilson's story. You'll roar with the humor and cleverness of it. It is supremely laughable.
Illustrated. Net $1.25.
Some Bunkerisms
"Some dame, that. Just sent me a little old last year's car."
"I can imagine nothing of less consequence."
"Fumed eggs, hundred per cent. efficient." (Do you know what they are? Bunker was married on them.)

NOT APPARENT.
The Federal court at Detroit holds that the bathtub trust is guilty of a criminal conspiracy to restrain trade. We had not yet heard of any attempt to abolish Saturday night.

MISLEADING.
Our steamed morning contemporary, the Trombone, heads an item. "Governor Hits at the Foes of Humanity;" yet he has neither committed suicide nor ordered the execution of the Trombone's editor.

NO WONDER.
A New York coal baron met the daughter of a Philadelphia coal king at Pasadena and a marriage speedily followed. Of course when love was ignited where there was so much fuel a conflagration simply had to follow.

REVERSED.
A physician claims that he was drugged by a nurse who married him while he was unconscious. If we are to believe history there was a time when all wives were obtained by somewhat the same process, except that a club was then used instead of sleeping powders. That was the golden age of man.

KING FOR A DAY.
Emilio Vasquez Gomez may have experienced some satisfaction in declaring himself provisional President of Mxico, but we doubt if he has added any confusion to his country by doing so. Any peon who wishes a little excitement may do the same thing for himself any morning that he feels like putting on a little dog.

THE GENUINE.
American art is said to be gaining appreciation in the eyes of collectors. Perhaps art patrons are tired of spending their lives in uncertainty about the genuineness of the works they possess. Accordingly, they are buying one or two American canvases just to be sure that they do own one thing that is what it claims to be.

IN THE FAMILY.
Admiral Dewey has a reputation and a dog. Last week the dog found himself at bay and, remembering what Dewey did at Manila Bay, he proceeded to follow in his master's footsteps. The victim has gathered together his remains and is suing the admiral for $20,000 damages for lacerated feelings and trousers. The admiral should give his pup a course in international law.

GETTING EVEN.
The science of detection reached a fine climax in the theory of finger prints, but criminal science has a cleverness of its own and the up-to-date burglar now carries a moist sponge with which he carefully erases all the dust around the job he turns. Druggists and stationers should be made to register the names and addresses of persons to whom they sell sponges as they are required to do when selling poison.

A SOLEMN PROTEST.
There are certain animals in this town calling themselves men who frequent the moving-picture houses for no other purpose than to sit near some attractive young woman to annoy her by making advances under the cover of the darkness. Young women thus insulted will get up and leave the place with their afternoon's enjoyment spoiled rather than report the serpent and thus attract notoriety to themselves. If a few such cases were reported, however, and examples could be made of the low scoundrels the disgusting practice might soon be eliminated.

A WARNING.
We beg to serve notice to the public that we are perfectly aware that the joyous spring is here and that it requires no poetry with its lines ending with sing, wing, bring and spring in order to convince us of the annual return of this pleasant season. We already know that the glad birds go caroling, that the gentle zephyrs float us a soft breath of the sea and that the tender grasses are laving the once brown earth where the feet of fairies have pressed it. This should leave us with a kind disposition and we trust that it has, but there is a limit to the gentlest of natures, and in dealing with spring poets ours is quickly reached.

PERPETUAL TARIFF REVISION.
Says the Cedar Rápids Republican: "Some day Congress will re-establish the expert commission and it will keep them working continuously, so that Congress may be informed of changes in the industrial world that necessitate changes in the tariff."

When that day comes business stability will be a thing unknown. No man could then decide, from year to year, or scarcely from month to month, how to adjust his business to the tariff, answers the American Economist. The manufacturers would not know how to buy raw material, what wages to pay, what quantities of goods to produce. The buyer would be equally at sea regarding his advance orders and purchases. It would certainly seem that tariff changes are frequent enough when political changes occur. The "expert commission" plan would keep the tariff in a perpetual stew, and all labor and production would suffer accordingly.

MADERO'S FINISH.
The beginning of the end for Madero apparently has come. He will soon be down and out if he is not in that predicament already. His authority is a shadow. A de facto government, opposed to him, is in control of the City of Mexico, while the outlying States, one by one, are rising against him. Virtually a prisoner in the National Palace, his resignation demanded at the point of the bayonet, Madero is a pitiable effigy of what he has sought to be. What has he left to depend upon? His army has turned against him; his former commanders have abandoned him; his Congress has repudiated him; and who is so poor in all the Mexican capital to do him reverence?

"He who lives by the sword shall perish by the sword." Madero fought his way up with red-handed revolution; it is red-handed revolution that has overturned him. And by what a fine satire of Fate, the reddest hand is the hand of a Diaz! The practical banishment of that old warrior, Don Porfirio, is dramatically avenged.

Madero was not strong nor spirited enough to retain the confidence of the army or of the leading men of Mexico. The exigency which called him to a great post demanded a man of iron—and he is not made of that stuff. He has hesitated and temporized until he has completely lost his grip on things. The situation demanded an autocrat of the Porfirio Diaz type, not a visionary politician with 100 cousins to appoint to fat offices. Possessed of some abilities, Madero had not the genius to successfully grapple with the supreme test. He placed brilliant and able men in important posts of government, but failed to meet expectations himself. He could not last.

And now what? There is Gomez to be reckoned with; there is Orozco and there are the Zapatistas. And worse than all, there are the gangs of anarchists and thieves that infest every nook and corner of Mexico, who thrive on disturbance. Whose shall be the arm of steel and the brain of fire to bring order out of this chaos?

WHAT WE ARE COMING TO.
Of making many laws there will be no end, under the slop-and-sop-dealing administration of the henchmen of Gov. Johnson; and multiplying of commissions, to be filled by friends of the aforementioned and paid for by an overtaxed public, will go merrily on among the battlers for the Lord.

But why limit the field of operations to such easy issues as abolishing poverty? Why stop at compelling citizens to vote (after the candidates have been selected by the "powers" and all others carefully excluded from the ballot?) Why rest content with abolishing our State militia, muzzling the press, or at the purely domestic anti-Sunday-medicine ordinance or the regulation of the width and breadth of bedclothes? Now the ball has been set rolling, shove it along. Now that the wedge has entered, hit it another lick.

A few more of the opera-bouffe monkeyshines that are turning Sacramento into a kindergarten for imbeciles and we shall soon arrive at really uplifting and soul-stirring legislation. For instance:

A bill to make it a misdemeanor for any male citizen to appear on the public streets with an unshaven face. This is designed to make for civic cleanliness. Special officers to be appointed by the Governor to enforce this ordinance.

A bill to regulate the thickness of pie—and the quantity of filling in said pie—served in any restaurant in this State. Any public caterer supplying pie of less than the official dimensions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. A commission, to be appointed by the Governor, to determine what shall constitute "legal pie."

Hereafter it shall be considered a felony for any railroad company to disturb any hobo riding on a brake beam in the State of California. Moreover, every railroad company, at every way-station, shall provide soap and towels for every hobo who wishes to avail himself of these privileges. But the use of said soap and towels shall not be compulsory on said hobos.

A bill to prevent any two adults of opposite sexes from walking more than three blocks together on any public street in any incorporated city in California. Any adult male and female found alone together after dark to be arrested on general principles. All fines collected to be paid for the maintenance of the Holy Hi purity squad.

A bill to censor all advertising matter destined to appear in any public newspaper, journal or magazine in the State of California. All such advertising matter to be submitted ten days prior to its intended publication to a commission appointed by the Governor. The Governor's veto to be final.

A bill to allow the Governor to re-elect himself without appeal to the voters as long as a majority in both houses of the Legislature approve of his action. Also a concurrent bill to allow the Governor to reappoint any State Senator or Assemblyman for an additional term at his own discretion.

Any city not holding at least two special elections a week shall be considered unprogressive, and an Equalization Board, appointed by the Governor, shall be empowered to raise its tax assessments accordingly. No public official appointed by the Governor shall be under any circumstances liable for taxation.

Finally, a bill to abolish any State in the Union that dares to laugh at any "progressive" legislation emanating from the Capitol in Sacramento. This power to abolish other States to be vested solely in the Governor of California.

THE CRY ABOUT INTERVENTION.
The proprietors of The Times have no "selfish interests" that would be advanced by intervention. Numerous American citizens have suffered losses by the disorder there, but they will ultimately be indemnified for such losses. The Mexican government—whether Madero or Diaz or some other person shall be at its head—will be compelled ultimately to pay losses sustained by Americans, Germans and Englishmen in consequence of its neglect to protect the property of foreigners.

But such payment would not be secured or even hastened by intervention and might indeed be delayed thereby.

All that The Times has contended for is that it is the duty of our government to protect the lives and liberty and property of its citizens, whether in Mexico or Abyssinia, or Turkey. If such protection can only be secured by intervention, then, as a last and desperate resort, we should intervene. As it looks now, it may be hoped that the triumph of either Diaz or Madero will be succeeded by tranquillity, and put an end to brigandage.

As for the bugaboo that the landing of United States troops on the sacred soil of Mexico would fuse all the contending elements of that discordant country in one compact force that would whip the United States and drive it back to its lair, north of the Rio Grande, and that Mexico would never, never part with any portion of its sacred soil to a gringo government, the history of Mexico does not warrant such an assumption. We had no difficulty in acquiring California, Arizona and New Mexico at the close of the Mexican war, by sweetening the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo with a douceur of some millions in cash. Years later by the Gadsden treaty we bought for ten millions a generous slice of Northern Mexico.

As for the unity of patriotic Mexicans against foreign invaders, such a spirit was not exemplified during the Maximilian episode. Thousands of Mexicans flocked to the standard of the Austrian, and he might have kept his throne had it not been for the termination of our Civil War, the withdrawal of the support of Napoleon on the intimation of Mr. Seward that the Monroe doctrine was still in force, and the secret help that was given to the army of Juarez by our government. As for Mexico whipping the United States, we might, without offense, adapt an old English refrain and say—

"We do not want Mexico,
But, by jingo, if we do
We've got the ships and we've got the men
And we've got the money, too."

The first line of the foregoing quatrain accurately states the situation. We do not want Mexico nor any part of it. Annexation of any part of it would be a misfortune to us. It would, however, be a greater misfortune if we were to adopt the policy urged by our steamed contemporary and allow our citizens in Mexico to be plundered and assassinated without remonstrance and without making an effort to protect them.

CHINESE FINANCES.
Chinese individually are as honest as the people of any European nation. But China as a government under the Manchu dynasty had no credit in the bourses of Europe. China is a republic now, in name at least, but its stability has not yet been put to the test of a popular election, and until this shall take place the credit of China in the money marts of the world is a negligible quantity.

China needs $150,000,000 for the payment of debts and to aid in the construction of public works, including railroads that will develop the boundless resources of the country. To fully complete these will require $150,000,000 more. There is plenty of money in China, but the government cannot get it, for those who have it are not in the least sure that another government may not come into power any date and repudiate the obligations of its predecessor. China has therefore sought a foreign loan and has issued bonds and attempted to sell them in Europe. But purchasers could not be found because there was no assurance of the payment of interest or principal such as is given when a European government issues bonds. Bankers were applied to to take these bonds and recommend them to their customers. This they declined to do unless the payment of interest and principal could be secured other than by the honor and good faith of the government of China; it being held that the present government was not sufficiently established to afford such guarantee.

The bonds of governments, whether national, local or municipal, are secured by its revenues and its revenues are secured by the taxing power. "If China possessed a stable government," says the New York Commercial, "and officials who could be trusted to turn all money collected into the treasury, the Chinese would probably be able to float the loan at home. But the honest and proper collection and administration of these revenues are not assured. For this reason the so-called Six-Power bankers wish to have the collection of the salt tax or other specific sources of revenue assigned to them or to an official named by them, and they ask China to enter into an agreement or treaty that will give six great powers the right to protect them, or this official, and to intervene, if necessary, to enforce the collection of the revenues so pledged."

These negotiations have failed thus far because the officers of the new republic decline to submit their country to the humiliation of allowing foreign nations to collect and disburse any part of the public revenues.

"It is true," says the Commercial, "that no strong nation would consent to let foreign officials administer its internal affairs, but China is not in that position." For half a century English experts have administered its customs department with great success, so the Chinese are accustomed to the system. Had native or Manchu officials handled other taxation as honestly and efficiently China would now be economically independent. Until Chinese officials prove their own trustworthiness that country will have to depend on foreigners. This is why the Six-Power bankers, including some American houses, insist on an agreement that will enable the great powers to guarantee and enforce their rights to collect the revenues to be pledged as security for the proposed loan.

Who was it first invented kraut, and put it in a barrel? Some scientist should find it out, and deck his tomb with laurel. For kraut's a good old honest dish, and when, with eager talons, we throw it in our holds, we wish that we could eat three gallons. For sauerkraut's savory and clean, and not the least corrody, and it contains no nicotine, or benjamin of sody. I always give a joyous shout, glad are my feelings inner, when grandma says she'll cook some kraut (with other things) for dinner. And towards the stove, throughout the day, with anxious eyes I'm looking; and neighbors seven miles away all know just what's a-cooking. The incense that you read about around the dump is gropin' when granny cooks a mess of kraut and leaves the windows open. I see the neighbors going by, they sniff the sauerkraut boiling, and often I can hear them sigh: "For kraut I'm fairly spoiling!" Ah, sauerkraut is a noble dish, beloved of wise old fogies! And why do foolish people wish their weed in plugs or stogies?

JOAQUIN MILLER.

BY TOM FITCH.

Forty-one years ago there walked into my office in Salt Lake City a young man whose brown curls floated to his shoulders. He wore a flaming crimson necktie and carried in his hand a broad-brimmed sombrero. "I have been sent to Utah," said he, "by the London Times to report the Mormon trials. I note that you are chief counsel for Brigham Young. I would be obliged if you will give me from time to time such information as you may be willing to impart concerning your side of the pending crusade against the Saints. My name is Joaquin Miller."

"Certainly I will," said I. "Where are you stopping?" He shuddered. "At a horrible old shack on Main street," he answered. "You shall stop there no longer," said I. "Go and have your baggage sent to my house. We will be more than delighted to have you for our guest." He accepted promptly, and for two weeks he lived under our roof. I had a large and roomy house, and times were prosperous with me. The Mormon trials had brought to Salt Lake some bright writers, and for a fortnight or more we had Joaquin Miller and Grace Greenwood and George Alfred Townsend in our home. To these were added, for dinner and evening, Curt Hillyer and the two sons of Col. E. D. Baker—all fine musicians. When all eight of us joined in singing the chorus to some classic song such as "Old Aunt Nabby" or "Kingdom Coming" the porches of the neighboring houses were filled with listeners. With Joaquin Miller and George Alfred Townsend and Grace Greenwood tossing great chunks of wit and wisdom at each other across the dinner table or in the drawing-room it may be imagined how delightfully the time passed.

The acquaintance thus begun with Joaquin and the friendship then formed lasted for many years. We met occasionally in New York and Washington. Twenty-five years ago he visited me for a week at San Diego. I have not seen him in the body since, though I have often met him in the spirit when he has sent me a book or a poem, and when I have received from him a note of friendly acknowledgment of the report of some speech with which I occasionally bored him.

Joaquin Miller was, in my opinion, one of the greatest, if not the very greatest, of modern American poets. He was in the truest sense of the word a "gentle" man. He never wrote a line or spoke a word that wantonly hurt a human creature. Even when it became his unpleasant duty to inflict a wound he—like the Orient pearl-maker who forces a grain of sand between the shells of the oyster—left the germ of a pearl in the wound.

With all his gentleness and kindness of spirit and manner, as a writer he was virile and manful and strong. He did not belong to the namby-pamby, love and dove school of poets. He was no sighing Strephon. When our Apollo struck his lyre his songs were lyrics of strength and uplifting lessons to the world. One of his great poems that will live is that on Columbus.

"Behind him lay the gray Azores,
  Behind the gates of Hercules;
Before him not the ghost of shores,
  Before him only shoreless seas.
The good mate said, 'Now must we pray,
  For lo, the very stars are gone;
Brave Admiral speak, what shall I say?'
  'If we sight naught but seas at dawn?'
Why, you shall say at break of day,
  Sail on, and on, and on, sail on.'

"They sailed and sailed as winds might blow
  Until at last the blanched mate said,
'Why now not even God would know
  If you and all your men fell dead;
These very winds forget their way,
Brave Admiral speak, what shall I say?'
  He said, 'Sail on and on and on.'

"They sailed and sailed, then spake the mate;
  'This mad sea shows his teeth tonight,
He curls his lips, he lies in wait
  With lifted fang as if to bite;
Brave Admiral say but one good word
  What shall I say when hope is gone?'
The answer leaped like a leaping sword;
  He said, 'Sail on and on and on.'

"Then pale and worn he kept his deck
  And peered through darkness. Ah, that night
Of all dark nights, and then a speck;
  A light! A light! A light! A light!
It grew, a star-lit flag unfurled;
  It came to be time's burst of dawn.
He gained a world, and gave that world
  Its grandest lesson; On and on."

Joaquin was a delightful raconteur. With a face like a graven image he would relate a side-splitting tale of the frontier and give a grave rebuking look when his auditors laughed. Once in a semi-political discussion at the dinner table when he was asked what, in his opinion as a Democrat, would be the effect of free trade on the industries and prosperity of the country, he replied by saying: "In a Sierra mining camp one of our number was afflicted with the scurvy. We read in a health journal that fresh earth applied externally for six hours was a sure cure for the scurvy. So about midnight we dug a hole near the cabin, put Billy in it up to his neck, covered him up with loose dirt, put a chew of tobacco in his mouth and went to bed, calculating to dig him up cured the next morning before breakfast."

Joaquin paused and went on eating his dinner. "Well," said I, "did it cure Billy?" "We never knew," said Joaquin gravely. "A coyote jumped the fence in the night and ate Billy's head off."

Joaquin felt at the last that his work was done. He had lived his life to completeness and done the best it was in him to do. "Take me away, oh, take me away," he said to the angels whom his spiritual vision discerned as waiting about his couch. He went not "as a dungeon slave scourged to his doom. But as one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." He often said that at his obsequies he desired there should be sung Tennyson's lines—

"Sunset and evening star
  And one sweet voice for me
And may there be no moaning of the bar
  When I go out to sea."

Good-by, old friend. Not farewell, but good-by to you and Mark Twain and a dozen more bright spirits who forty years ago made earth a pleasanter place in which to abide. Heaven is the gainer for your presence, whether heaven is a place or a state of consciousness. If it is the latter, then you have always been in heaven. To the question of the ages the wisest of us can only answer, "I don't know, oh, I don't know."

Good-by, Joaquin. Will see you later. You're in luck.

  Each weary day
And sigh as I ponder

CHINATOWN ON PANTAGES BILL.

WIRE WALKERS FEATURES OF GOOD BILL.

Cake of Ice at the North Pole Is the Scene of One of the Skits. "The Messenger and the Maid" Played by Duggan and Raymond the Best of Fun.

"Twenty Minutes in Chinatown" is the cause of the pungent odor. Walter Montague presents the little tragedy with seven actors, not counting the supernumeraries, the usual loungers of San Francisco's Chinatown. The scene is a street in Chinatown at night, and, of course, the main motive of the melodrama is the unlawful selling and holding of a Chinese girl as a slave. No Chinese play on American soil can be complete without some variation of this plot. Certainly, for dramatic climax it is very effective.

The melodrama is well staged, the mise en scene having an air of verisimilitude. But somehow the acting is not convincing—the illusion not going beyond the scenery. Perhaps the playwright is at fault, perhaps he has tried to crowd too much into too short a space of time—though much may happen in twenty minutes, as everybody knows.

About the best number on the programme is that of the Melnotte-La Nole troupe of wire walkers, who were once the stars in the Ringling circus. They are agile and daring equilibrists and their work has much finish. The four Burns Sisters sing and play very acceptably. Tom and Edith Almond play on odd musical instruments and Tom dances cleverly on skates and queerly-lengthened shoes. The scene of the skate dance is a cake of ice at the North Pole, with the Aurora Borealis in the distance.

The best of the fun-bringers are Duggan and Raymond in a skit called "The Messenger and the Maid." Duggan is a bright and impudent youth, whose target, half the time, is his audience. His conundrum "Is Watts a town or a disease?" scored heavily last night. Josh Dale, another funny man, comes out in cork.

Gloves—All Models in Many Makes—and Why?
—all gloves are not alike, and any one line in gloves does not near supply the range in styles to satisfy the widely varying shapes of palm and length of fingers! THAT is why we prefer to carry a number of different makes, rather than to concentrate upon a single line—
—for, no matter how wisely the manufacturer may plan, there is certain to be some tendency or peculiar cut that will distinguish his entire range of models and make them unfit for many. The glove should be as carefully considered as one's shoes—more so. For this reason we carry complete ranges in gloves with long fingers, medium and short fingers—gloves with plump palms, medium and spare palms—briefly: gloves to fit ANY hand!
—You may prefer a "Perrin's"—"Fowne's"—perhaps a "Steinberger & Kalisher" model—a "Maggioni" or an "Ireland's"—but whatever the make, remember that we have THE model to fit YOUR hand. And the usual guarantee accompanies every pair!

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Correct.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—[To Editor of The Times:] This is a true story and shows the true spirit of a California booster. John Perry, a colored porter on the Santa Fe, between Los Angeles and San Diego, was accosted by a tourist lady while passing one of our orange groves that suffered from the recent cold weather. She asked, "Mr. Porter, what makes those orange trees look so brown?" John replies: "Dis am de time of de year when dey turn brown, madam." This story is told and enjoyed by Conductor Moore, who had charge of the train and overheard the conversation.

M. S. COX.

Silver Lake for City Boys.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—[To Editor of The Times:] Your story of the four boys who tried to have a swim in an oil pond (one of them being suffocated in the slime) is certainly a pitiable one. It tells what boys will do to get the idea of bathing, and it serves to remind the city fathers of a long-neglected duty. The city will soon have more water than it can use, and when other reservoirs are being used for the drinking water Silver Lake could be devoted to the recreation and health of the city boys. The only house on its shores is that of the caretaker and my proposal is that bathing suits shall not be necessary, but that the boys shall fish, swim, sail model yachts, cook eggs on the shore, paddle rafts or boats, or fall off and drown themselves in the good, old-fashioned way, and, in short, do everything and anything except foul the water.

It has been said that the city intended to reserve this remote pond for the passing glance of the speeding automobilist, but as he already owns the entire earth he might let the Los Angeles boys have a little of the water. We are over twenty miles from the sea, and unless a working boy has 50 cents for the railway gods and 25 cents more for a bathing suit, and something more for his "eats," he is compelled to abandon the most healthful of all recreations. On a sweltering summer day he is expected to find a sun-blistered schoolyard and enjoy himself on steel bars that tip the mercury to 407 degs. Fahrenheit. No wonder that troubles arise when boys don't get what they want, and what they are entitled to. Mr. Editor, I beg that the Thunder-voice which called for Owens River be sounded again, so that the unconsidered poor may know The Times as their best friend and the father of their refreshment.

Organization Wants Kindergartens Made Part of State School Systems. Senate and Assembly Bills Offered.

Petitions asking the Legislature to make kindergartens an integral part of the State school system were issued by County Superintendent of Schools Keppel yesterday at the instance of the Parent-Teachers' Association and the kindergarten section of the Los Angeles Teachers' Club.

Two Assembly bills to effect this change have been introduced by Egbert J. Gates, and two Senate bills by William J. Carr. The southern section of the State—which has 8 per cent. of the kindergartens—will not only benefit, but the northern part will profit through subsequent evitable establishment of such institutions there.

WORKS MUST BE FAITH'S PROOF.

CAN'T HOLD MINERAL LAND ON MERE ALLEGATION.

First of Important Series of Decisions by Local Land Office Upholds Local Officials in View That Claims Must Be Proven Even Where Located in Known Ground.

The General Land Office has affirmed the view of the local officials that the only proof that land is mineral in character is development work and the discovery of such mineral. This is the first of a number of decisions involving alleged valuable oil land in Kern county.

The land in question lies east of Maricopa, and within five miles of the famous Lakeview gusher. The two cases decided were those in which L. A. Crandall and George A. Cooley, contested the claims of Rush M. Blodgett and James E. Maxwell. They involve two pieces of eighty acres each. Blodgett and Maxwell filed on their tracts with homestead scrip issued by the government to old soldiers under the provisions of a law passed by Congress in 1870 and repealed in 1873. Contests were filed by Crandall and Cooley on both locations, alleging that they had previously filed mineral locations on the lands and that they were in actual possession.

Register Buren and Receiver Robinson decided the contest in favor of Blodgett and Maxwell, on the grounds that, so far as the land itself was concerned it was more suitable for agricultural than mining purposes, that the nearest producing well was nearly four miles distant, that no steps had been taken to develop the land from a mineral standpoint, and that the acts of the claimants were not such as would be recognized as superior to Blodgett and Maxwell. The case was appealed to the General Land Office and the decision affirmed.

The cases are pioneers in a number of similar actions pending in the Land Office, and the opinion of the authorities at Washington, establish definitely that it will not do for claimants to go on land and, on the mere allegation that it is mineral in character, proceed to hold it against all comers.

VOGUE AMONG ROGUES?

Frank Anna Bucher, awaiting trial at the Central Police Station, on a charge of having masqueraded in woman's clothes, is not the only man in Los Angeles who at times prefers to substitute trousers, coat and vest for a skirt and shirtwaist, for Mrs. N. D. Burnett, No. 1756 North Normandie avenue, reported yesterday to the police that late Monday afternoon a man dressed as a woman ransacked several rooms in her house. A purse containing $8, and a few trinkets were taken. Mrs. Burnett says she discovered the man's disguise, but before she could raise an alarm he had fled.

UNCONSCIOUS TO END.

Wilbur W. Keim slipped while ascending a shelf ladder in his drug store at No. 1890 West Washington street, late Monday afternoon, sustained a basal fracture of the skull and died early yesterday morning at his residence, No. 2033 La Salle avenue, without regaining consciousness. The body was removed to the Bresee mortuary. The Coroner will not hold an inquest. Final funeral arrangements have not been made. Keim was 32 years old, and leaves a widow and two daughters, Louise and Loraine Keim.

CAPTURED, THEY CONFESS.

Two Men Who Shot and Attempt to Rob Victim in Westlake Park Admit Guilt—Black Pepper.

Jim Diamond, alias Robert L. DeLeon, was arrested yesterday on suspicion, and later confessed he is one of the two men who on the night of the 12th inst. shot and attempted to rob Fred Marsau, No. 717 Wall street, in Westlake Park, while he was in company with Miss Lena Kemper, No. 350 Occidental boulevard. David Cockburn, alias Harry Lewis, alias John Brown, Diamond's accomplice, was arrested at the same time. They were captured in a Second-street poolroom by Detectives McNamara and Cowan and Patrolman White.

They were arrested on suspicion, as had been half a dozen other men, who, in a general way, answered the description of the men Marsau says held him up. Diamond broke down under a rigid cross-examination, and confessed, implicating Cockburn. The latter later admitted his guilt. Afterward they signed confessions.

McNamara said, following an identification of Diamond and Cockburn by Marsau, that they will be charged with highway robbery.

Diamond contended to Marsau that he shot him accidentally, that when Marsau reached into his pocket to get his money, he thought he was going to draw a revolver, and in his fright he accidentally pulled the trigger of his own revolver.

When arrested Diamond carried a package of black pepper. It is believed he intended to throw the stuff in the eyes of any who might try to take him.

Clothing Strike in New York!

For weeks the big clothing manufacturers in the East have been tied up with a strike. Not alone in New York, but in every Eastern factory it has been practically impossible to fill even one per cent of their orders from retail clothiers of the country. Shipments of Spring clothes expected by retailers during February have not been received and men everywhere are beginning to appreciate the serious situation. Those who set out now to purchase Spring clothing find a mighty scant selection—many merchants all over the United States are FORCED to show what remains of their Winter stock for the Spring trade, and what Spring suits have been received are necessarily higher priced than ever before.

But this is NOT the situation that faces us.

FOREMAN & CLARK

Most of Our New Spring Clothing Is Here and on Display

We placed our orders last Summer, and because we buy so many thousands of suits—because our wholesale trade is so valuable to the manufacturers—they made every effort to get our shipments out—even at the sacrifice of smaller retail stores throughout the country. Strike conditions have forced prices up enormously—woolens and all incidental materials are higher priced. Nobody could go into the market today and duplicate the thousands of Spring suits in this store for less than 50% more than they actually did cost us—Today we are the only store in Southern California that can show you so complete a line of Spring clothing—and sell it at a popular price for a much greater value. We can do it because we are the LARGEST EXCLUSIVE MEN'S CLOTHING STORE IN THE WORLD, and therefore have the greatest equipment, experience and buying power in the Eastern markets.

Men's Spring Suits

Our strictly economical management in our UPSTAIRS location enables us to offer you this price of $15 the whole year around. You and every other man in Southern California simply cannot afford to buy a Spring suit without coming to this great store and making a personal investigation of the wonderful values we are now selling for $15. bill of complaint involving of the order withdrawing alleged mining lands in Kern from public entry was filed in States District Court yesterday by Atty.-Gen. It involves 160 acres popularly known as the Headlight placer mining location, and the value, as given in the bill, is more than $500,000.

The style of the action is the United States of America against the Consolidated Midway Oil Company, National Pacific Oil Company, Midnight Oil Company, Daybreak Oil Company, Oil Company, France Well- Company, Standard Oil Com- Thirty Thirty-two Land Com- General Petroleum Company, Consolidated Oil Company, Pipe Line Company of Cal- Title Insurance and Trust Sesame Oil Company, Par- Barrett, Oma Barrett, Julius J. It is alleged that, subsequent to the order of withdrawal, the Consolidated Midway entered upon the land, drilled an oil well, extracting large quantities of oil therefrom. It is claimed that the company transferred possession of the well to the National Pacific Oil Company and the latter is still in possession of the well and illegally operating it. It is further charged that, subsequent to July 5, 1910, the Midnight Oil Company, Daybreak Oil Company and France Oil Company entered upon the land and proceeded to sink wells and are still operating them. These corporations are extracting oil under claims by virtue of a pre- mining location signed by Barrett, Oma Barrett, J. M. and others, according to the

It is also charged that a large part of the oil developed was to the Standard Oil Company, the quantity delivered and the received are unknown.

It is also alleged that none of the defendants have or ever had any right to the land, or any right or in the oil or gas deposited, or it. But This Man at a Los Angeles Hotel Looks Like the Ruler of the German Empire.

Emperor William of Germany at the Alexandria? Well, scarcely. But his double, Baron George von Mehring of Munich, arrived there yesterday on his trip around the world. He is on a secret mission to the Orient.

Before he leaves the city, however, he is going to know more about it, and he will first pass a week in travelling around and incidentally in being feted by some of the society leaders of this city. He is one of the social lions of his home country and a patron of music, his soirees being known throughout the length and breadth of the land, particularly because he has given much place on his programmes to American musicians.

"You have never produced a Wagner in this country, it is true; but much of the lighter music is enjoyable, and American singers are rising to a very high standard," he said. While in New York he was frequently an opera attendant.

He was formerly aide-de-camp to the Duke of Anhalt, cousin of Emperor William. More recently he has been in the diplomatic service in Spain and in Morocco.

RASH ON BABY'S HEAD AND ARM

Small White Blisters. Hair Came Off All at Once. Itched So Badly Nearly Went Crazy. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Kaysville, Utah.—"The trouble that my baby had began when she was about one month old. At first it was like baby rash, then formed to small white blisters which broke and ran together on her head and one arm. They made a thick brown scab all over her head from her eyebrow to the crown of her head. Her hair came off all at once as the brown cap came off. I walked the floor for a month all the day through. It itched so badly that she nearly went crazy. She was cross and fretful.

"I used ——— ——— to no use at all. I remembered of an aunt using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for salt rheum, so I sent for a sample. The first application helped her. I washed her head thoroughly with the Cuticura Soap, dried it very carefully with a piece of cotton, then smeared the Cuticura Ointment over the affected parts and in the morning washed it again. I used the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, bought two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I used them for two months and she was completely cured and her hair has come back pretty and nice again." (Signed) Mrs. Olive Harvey, Sept. 25, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold everywhere. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Judge and Supervisor Clash at Hearing.

Juvenile Court Law Panned by Women.

Too Great Power in One Man the Contention.

Verbal clashes bordering on physical conflict between Judge Wilbur and Supervisor Norton yesterday enlivened the opening session of the Legislative Committee investigation into workings of the Juvenile Court law in this county. The belligerents were restrained from personal encounter, although each refrained from direct use of the "short and ugly" word in the exchange of courtesies. Such phrases as: "That is not true," "Your statement is absolutely false," "You are deliberately seeking to put me in a false light," "You are misrepresenting the facts as you know them to be," and like charges, hurtled across the table in the course of the hearing.

Fire struck during the examination of Norton with reference to respective powers exercised by the Board of Supervisors and the judge of the Juvenile Court. Judge Wilbur implied doubt as to the sincerity of the Supervisor in courting the present investigation. Norton flared out heatedly:

"I am sincere, and no man here can question it," he shouted, [illegible] across the table and shaking a clenched hand at Wilbur, who had interrupted him. "I do not propose to submit to your slurs. I am [illegible] casting reflections on you personally."

Half rising in his chair Judge Wilbur shouted:

"No, but I am casting reflections on you, and I repeat that your statement is absolutely false."

This exchange of doubtful compliments continued throughout the examination of Norton, and the efforts of the committee to confine the discussion to matters germane to the investigation were swept aside every time either of the near-combatants ventured to tread near the official corns of his vis-a-vis. Intimations that Norton was "playing to the galleries" and the statement by Judge Wilbur that Norton's lack of knowledge as to workings of the law was due to neglect of opportunity, brought frequent disclaimers from the Supervisor.

WANTS APPOINTIVE POWER.

Norton strongly condemned the management of the Detention Home, among other things, insisting that the powers of the Board of Supervisors in the administration of the Juvenile Court law, were almost nominal. He charged that segregation was unknown and that dependent and incorrigible children were not separated in any way. This resulted, he said, in children going there in many instances merely as delinquents and through association leaving as worse. The witness urged amendments abrogating the power of the Juvenile Judge and said that in his opinion the power of appointment of the Probation Committee should lie with the Board of Supervisors. He called attention to the numerous escapes from the Detention Home and the lack of any facilities for preventing such escapes. He also spoke of possible curtailment of expenses, pointing out that [illegible]682.92 was expended during the past fiscal year merely for the support and maintenance of that institution alone.

A scathing denunciation of the Juvenile Court law, with especial reference to the manner in which it has worked here, was voiced by Miss Evelyn L. Stoddardt, representing various women's clubs and civic organizations of the city. Miss Stoddardt was for eight years a member of the Probation Committee and showed herself to be perhaps more familiar with the provisions and working of the law than any other person present.

Asked as to what she considered the chief defect of the law, Miss Stoddardt said that in her opinion the judge of the Juvenile Court exercises entirely too much power for the ultimate good of the children the law seeks to benefit.

Interrupted by a member of the committee with the question as to whether she considered that Judge Wilbur would be included in this indictment, she said:

LEADS TO TYRANNY.

"I am sorry to say that there is a sense of power that ultimately works to the detriment of the children. Any judge who exercises without check the power he has under this law for a number of years, is led to a sense of power which leads to tyranny. I think that no man should be chosen Juvenile judge as such, in counties where there is more than one judge. They should rotate. The removal of a judge from this position should not rest upon his own volition and he should not be permitted to stay until he either becomes calloused or otherwise unfit. From the workings of the Juvenile Court law here, and from my knowledge of its workings in other States, I have almost come to the conclusion that our Juvenile Courts are a doubtful blessing."

Miss Stoddardt referred to the fact that the judge alone has the power of dismissal of probation officers and insisted that the officers [illegible] favor of the judge instead of the welfare of the child. She also protested against the appointment of ministers on the Probation Committee, saying that the committee should be non-sectarian.

"I am opposed to any child being sent to an institution before first being given an opportunity to 'make good', in a private home," she said. "No child should be put under lock and key except in a State institution. The great need is for a change in the law that will get us away from the condition which now exists where everything hinges upon the 'further order of the court.'"

Senator Hewitt and Assemblymen Farwell, Cogswell, Fish and [illegible] comprising the Legislative Committee, made clear the position of the committee on the matter of investigation, holding that the matters of interest were those pertaining to the defect in the present law and suggestions as to needed remedial legislation. The committee adjourned to convene at 2 p.m. today, at which time it will again take up the examination of various witnesses. It is probable a draft of a tentative bill with proposed amendments will be submitted for consideration.

EMPLOYERS HOLD MEETING.

Before an audience of about [illegible] employers of labor in Choral Hall, Auditorium building, last night, [illegible] Molony, manager of the Western branch of the Aetna Life Insurance Company, discussed Senate bill No. 905, the proposed workmen's compensation insurance measure. Frank E. Walsh presided. This was the first of a series of such meetings.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste [illegible] it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Oil Industry.

MAGNATE STILL WANTS HOLDINGS

Hammon May Engineer Big Deal for Himself.

Standard Gets Flow from Emery Number One.

Universal Has Large Well in Lost Hills.

Reports are rife that W. P. Hammon, the gold-dredger magnate, who recently made a trip to Europe supposedly to interest foreign capital in the purchase of the De Luxe, Republic, Silver Tip, and other Coalinga companies, on which he held options, has given up that project and will now probably take over the holdings himself.

The intention of Hammon was to turn an English syndicate to take over the companies, but sufficient capital could not be underwritten to swing the deal, it is said. Hammon is interested in a number of companies in the Ventura field, and elsewhere in California. One of the most important of these is the Montebello, which has a large light oil producer in Ventura.

It is said that of the Coalinga companies the Republic will be taken over first.

New Producers.

Following the coming in of the Standard Oil Company's No. 2 Emery well as one of the best producers in the Fullerton field, developments in No. 1 are watched with considerable interest. The well has been producing spasmodically for the last few weeks, although it is believed that a sufficient depth has not been reached to get high gravity oil. The well is down about 2600 feet and did about 600 barrels of 23 gravity oil today. Belief is that it is likely to break loose at any moment, and fully as good a producer is expected as No. 2.

The Universal Oil Company has brought in well No. 28 in the Lost Hills field, section 32, 26-21. At last advices it was doing about 1500 barrels of 25 gravity oil.

The initial production of the Ethel Oil Company's well on section 36, [illegible], which came in a few days ago, is about 1000 barrels of 25 gravity oil.

The Petroleum Company's No. 3 well in La Habra Valley, which came in recently, has been doing about 900 barrels a day.

The M. H. and M. has perforated well No. 1 on section 15, 31-22. It is reported as looking good for about 200 barrels. It was perforated at about 1100 feet.

The General Petroleum Company has perforated well No. 14 on section 15, 32-24, at about 2500 feet. The showing is reported very good.

Starting Up.

Material is hauled for No. 6 well on the Buick Oil Company's property, section 32, 31-23, Midway.

The General Petroleum was, at last reports, making preparations to spud in its first well on section 13, [illegible], in the Bear Creek neighborhood. No. 4 on section 14 was about to start drilling.

Well No. 29 of the General Petroleum on section 4, 27-21 has started [illegible].

The Juanita Oil Company is reported to be rigging up for a well on section 1, 29-20.

News and Personals.

The Murphy Oil Company's gasser in the Coyote Hills has at latest reports stopped flowing, apparently on account of the bridging of the hole by some obstacle.

Well No. 22 of the Northern Exploration Company on section 22, 31-[illegible] went up in smoke a few days ago. The fire was caused by ignited gas.

F. H. Guthrie, an experienced oil man, has taken a position with the [illegible] in a general capacity. He has been in this State for a number of years.

The Buick Oil Company is reported to be abandoning its lease on [illegible] 11-24. It is understood that there were formerly producing wells on the property.

WEST COAST ACTIVE.

FULLERTON DEVELOPMENTS.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

FULLERTON, Feb. 12.—Work is started on the West Coast lease on well No. 6. An effort is made to overcome water trouble which is hoped will be successful if the ten-inch casing can be landed to the depth of the water stratum. Drillers Fox and Williams have charge of operations on this well.

Well No. 48, with Drillers Ford and [illegible] in charge, is down 2830 feet; [illegible]-inch casing is being used.

Well No. 51 has just been cemented at 1800 feet and No. 52 was cemented Sunday at 1601 feet. These wells will stand for some time until a water shut-off is assured.

The crew that has been engaged at well No. 12 was transferred to well No. 45, which has been cemented for [illegible]. This hole is down 2241 feet.

Well No. 18, on the Olinda lease, has been located directly south of No. [illegible] and the material is now on the ground. This will be ready for rigging up in two weeks and the crew now on No. 5 will have charge.

Well No. 5 has been finished and put on the pump last week at a depth of 2900 feet.

The following wells are still drilling and are down as follows: No. 9, [illegible] feet; No. 10, 1950 feet; No. 11, [illegible] feet; No. 12, 1250 feet. No. 6 is being deepened.

The gas spouter on the Murphy property stopped gushing at 1 o'clock this morning. It is not known whether the well was stopped up by something lodging in the bottom of the hole or whether the well simply finished its "spouting spell."

SURPRISE DINNER.

A surprise dinner, in honor of Mrs. [illegible], wife of the Mayor's [illegible], was given at the Cafe Paris [illegible]. About thirty guests, including a number of prominent men, [illegible]. Among the speakers were [illegible], Judge Wellborn, Chief [illegible] Sebastian and Col. Emil [illegible]

MEXICAN KNIFES HIM.

Commissary of Aqueduct Camp Gets Worst of Battle Over Thirty-Cent Meal—Large Feet.

Deputy Sheriffs Maehl and Orr arrested Emiliano Hernandez, a Mexican laborer employed at Camp No. 2 on the aqueduct, yesterday, on complaint of C. H. Smiley, commissary of Desmond's camp, who charges the Mexican with having knifed him over the heart last Sunday during a quarrel over a 30-cent meal.

Large feet led to Hernandez's capture. The Mexican had succeeded in hiding all of his body but his feet under straw bedding in a tent near Fairmont when the officers dragged him from his hiding place and put him in irons.

According to Smiley's story the Mexican went to the Desmond camp and after eating refused to pay for his meal. The fight followed and he was stabbed over the heart and knifed several times in the right arm. The Mexican escaped, returning to his own camp.

Boosts All Alike.

CHAMBER'S LAWS TO BE APPLIED.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY MEN'S COMPLAINT EXPLAINED.

Exhibit and Lectures Welcome but No One Can Be Allowed to Sell Real Estate or Distribute Literature Containing Land Advertisements, Say Los Angeles Officers.

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce emphatically deny the statement in a Sacramento paper that an effort is made by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to exclude from its building an exhibit of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, and to prevent the distribution of a monthly magazine boosting the lands and products of the Sacramento Valley. The Sacramento paper said that C. H. Dunton, a director of the development association, who has had charge of the exhibit in Los Angeles, told of such an effort by the Los Angeles chamber at the association's regular monthly meeting at Marysville a day or two ago.

"Sacramento Valley's exhibit is perfectly welcome here. The chamber has lectures extolling the merits of the various sections. We have had lectures on Tulare county for two years and on Alameda for four years and in the past have had lectures on Madera and Merced. We are continually dispensing information regarding Sacramento Valley and boosting for it to those interested. There is no feeling whatever against Sacramento Valley or any other section.

LAND BOOSTING ALLEGED.

"Mr. Hartranft leased his space to the development association's representatives and they moved in prior to the approval of the chamber. It was originally called the Sacramento Valley Publicity Committee. They intended evidently to boost certain lands. We could not permit such a privilege to our own members. If one is allowed in, all will demand equal treatment. Subsequently, the Sacramento Valley Development Association came in and they were not to engage in selling land."

SIMPSON EXPLAINS CASE.

Frank Simpson, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Exhibits, read carefully the Sacramento article and said:

"One of the established rules of the Chamber of Commerce, included in every lease made by the chamber, is that a tenant has no right to sublet without the written consent of the chamber. The Sacramento Valley Development Association has made application for space to the California Home Extension Company, which has, in turn, submitted the proposition to the Chamber of Commerce. It is now before the chamber for action. The matter was not before the chamber in official form until presented at the regular meeting of the chamber last Wednesday, the 12th inst., when it was referred to the proper committee. It will take its course in the regular manner. As to what action the chamber will take, that cannot be discussed until after it passes through the committee and is again presented to the board for action."

MORE TROUBLE FOR PERRIS.

Three New Judgments Entered Against Irrigation District, Making Ten in All—Hard to Collect.

Another step in the locally famous litigation involving the legality of an issue of $440,000 bonds of the Perris Irrigation District was taken in the United States District Court yesterday, when Judge Wellborn ordered the entering of three additional default judgments against the district, making ten in all since the beginning of the end of the controversy.

The plaintiffs in the cases closed yesterday were R. H. Thompson, a Brooklyn (N. Y.) investor, for $26,824; Escher and Rahn, a banking firm of Zurich, Switzerland, for $11,253, and the Equitable Investment Company of this city, organized as a holding company for a number of local investors in the bonds, for $96,268. The ten judgments, in which those of yesterday were included, amount to about $345,000, against the property within the Perris Irrigation District, consisting of about 14,000 acres in Riverside county. Thirty days were allowed for the perfecting of an appeal. This is not likely to be taken advantage of, as the case has been fought to a finish by the property owners within the district through the Superior Courts of San Diego and San Bernardino counties, the Supreme Court of the State, and finally the United States District Court, with the result that the prayer of the bondholders for a final judgment has been met.

The payment of the judgments can now be enforced by the levying of a tax on the property by the directors of the irrigation district, or, if they refuse, by similar action on the part of the Board of Supervisors of Riverside county. If that is not done a mandate of the court may be necessary. It is possible that some sort of compromise may be reached, and the litigation closed by the acceptance by the plaintiffs of a lump sum in satisfaction of their claims.

SEEK WHITTIER OIL LAND.

Right of Possession of Whole Section Contested by Two — Big Monthly Yield Alleged.

A suit involving the right of possession of 640 acres of oil bearing land near Whittier, from which it is alleged 30,000 barrels of oil have been taken monthly since the development of the territory, was filed in the United States District Court yesterday. No estimate of the value of the land is given.

Robert R. Armor and Burdette Chandler are the plaintiffs, and the Central Oil Company of Los Angeles the defendant corporation. It is alleged the land was conveyed to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, by virtue of a joint resolution of Congress of July 27, 1866, that gave to the company certain odd-numbered sections of land, but all containing the mineral exception.

It is alleged that when the land was selected no examination had been made with a view to learning whether or not it was mineral in character; and that the Southern Pacific received the title with the full knowledge of the mineral exception, etc. It is further alleged that January 10, 1880, the land was sold to Paul Kern and Robert Turnbull.

G. A. Griffin, Mrs. J. L. Griffin, A. H. B. Roberts, Mrs. M. H. B. Roberts, M. E. Chandler, J. Holgate, S. Holgate and B. Chandler discovered minerals on the northeast section of the land and located what is known as the "Griffin Oil Placer Mining Claim" in 1910. On December 14, 1910, R. H. Armor, R. R. Armor, F. A. Armor, M. A. Kemp, B. Chandler, M. E. Chandler, J. Holgate and S. Holgate discovered oil on the southeast quarter section of the land the following December. Later on, discoveries of oil were made on the remaining portions of the territory. All of these claims were afterward assigned to the plaintiff.

STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The market gave a rather good account of itself during the forenoon, owing primarily to the fact that the firemen's dispute, it was announced, will be arbitrated. But after the short covering had run its course there was a renewal of pressure with the selling emanating largely from professionals. The weakness in specialties notably Goodrich and Woolworth contributed greatly toward increasing the initiative of the element committed to the selling side, especially as there were no indications of aggressive support tendered in any section of the list. The market appears to be suffering from the cumulative effect of a combination of adverse influences which have fostered pessimism and some outside liquidation. Various rumors of a disturbing nature have been in circulation and the market is plainly showing their ill effects.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Eggs are still ascending, but the advances thus far have aggregated only about 3 cents from the low point reached a week or so ago. Quotations were up ½ to 1 cent yesterday. The movement in the next few days is rather problematical, but it seems likely that a much further advance will not occur. In the course of a week or so the market will probably settle down around 18 to 20 cents buying price.

Local firsts butter and eastern storage declined about 1½ cents. The feeling in fresh local extras still appears to be rather firm, as there has been no material improvement in receipts. Butter should drop soon, however. Although cheese is at 17½ cents in San Francisco—about 1 cent higher than a week or so ago—the market locally has shown no particular change. It appears rather firm at present.

Sweet potatoes show firmness. They can still be purchased around $2.25 to $2.75 a sack, and are quoted as low as $2 in some instances. Receipts are good for this time. Potatoes were easy at 70 cents to $1 a sack. The outlook is still favorable for the continuance of the prevailing low rates. Shipments of Mexican tomatoes, chili peppers, bell peppers and eggplant are steadily received. The peppers and eggplant move quickly around 25 to 30 cents a pound. Some local mushrooms were in evidence, selling at 60 cents a pound. Several produce houses have received asparagus from the North. It sells around 50 to 75 cents a pound, which is high, compared with prices at other times. Fancy artichokes have been received, and sell at $1.50 to $1.75 a dozen.

Grapefruit and oranges were easier, but lemons continue high. Good grapefruit could be obtained around $3.75 to $4, and guaranteed oranges at about $2.75 to $3 a box. There are grades of oranges selling as low as $1, and some fair fruit can be obtained at $2.25. Some of the cheaper grade is made up of oranges picked before the frost, the oranges being small. Fancy packed lemons bring around $5 to $6 a box; loose sell at about $4 to $5. Pineapples are more plentiful, several substantial shipments having been received in the last few days. The price still hovers around 8 to 9 cents a pound. There was the usual array of apples. The demand is good, the supply is apparently still large, and the fruit is cheap.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 453 cases; butter, 29,065 pounds; cheese, 122 pounds; potatoes, 1880 sacks; onions, 625 sacks; sweet potatoes, 44 sacks.

OLSON SIGNS SAWTELLE BOY FOR CLEVELAND TEAM.

Catcher Bassler Looks Good Enough for Big League and Will Start East Next Week for Spring Training—Cy Seymour Buys His Release from the Los Angeles Club.

BY HARRY WILLIAMS.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA has contributed another baseball prodigy to the major leagues—John Bassler, 17 years old, who has been signed by the Cleveland Americans.

It was Ivan Olson who "robbed the cradle." Olson last season acted as captain of the Cleveland club. He recently saw Bassler in one of the Winter League games and lost no time in getting his signature to a Cleveland contract, having been empowered by President Somers to do a bit of off-season scouting.

Bassler is one of the youngest players ever signed by a big-league club. He is fully as juvenile as was Janverin when the latter left High School in order to accompany the Red Sox to the Coast two years ago.

SHINES AS CATCHER.

Bassler is a catcher, and a good one. He was pressed into service by the Tufts-Lyon team in an emergency and made good from the jump.

"I never saw as good a young backstop in my life," said Olson. "He seems to come by it naturally and handles himself like a veteran. Should Cleveland carry him along on the bench for a few months it would not surprise me to see him take his turn regularly toward the end of the season."

Bassler's home is in Sawtelle. He came here from Lancaster, Pa., about six months ago. Last season he went to York in the Tri-State League at his own expense and asked for a try-out. Because of his extreme youth the club did not give him a chance to show what he could do.

In company with Olson he will leave here on February 28 for Pensacola, Fla., where the Naps will do their spring training.

* * *

Cy Seymour yesterday officially ceased to be an Angel. He was given his release for a consideration, the same being the amount that Henry Berry paid Newark for him a couple of months ago.

Seymour balked at playing on the Coast. With a multitude of outfielders at his disposal, Berry offered to sell him his release. Cy thought it over for a few weeks. Yesterday he accepted the proposition, and now everybody is happy.

* * *

Sam Agnew yesterday made arrangements to accompany George Stovall, his new boss, to Waco, Tex., where the St. Louis Browns are to train. Sammy is wintering at San Bernardino. He didn't fancy the idea of invading Texas single-handed. The two will leave here on March 1.

* * *

"How are you? Have been here at Arroyo Grande since November 1, living the simple life. Will be in pretty good condition by April. May come by way of Los Angeles, and in that event will drop in and see you. Regards to all the bunch."

Hildebrand is to make his debut in the American League this season. I have it from Ed Finney that "Hilde" has trained down to a mere shadow of his former rotund self, so anxious is he to show great speed with the indicator.

* * *

"Informal" spring training has started at Washington Park. Bill Tozer, Jack Sullivan, "Flame" Delhi and Wilfred Page are the early birds. "Doc" Finley is drilling them in the fine points of soccer football. Finley regards soccer as great stuff for stiff joints and surplus tissue, and expects to have all his proteges running smoothly by February 25, when the honest-to-goodness spring practice will start.

* * *

When is a hold-out not a hold-out? Duffy Lewis returned his unsigned contract to the Boston Red Sox three times, and has yet to admit that he is a hold-out.

Pete Daley wants a bit more money from Connie Mack, but indignantly denies that he is holding out. He also wants transportation both ways for himself and Mrs. Daley. Pete has it figured out that if he doesn't get these he will be worse off financially at the end of the season than if he played on the Coast. If Daley can get this transportation he is willing to report and talk the salary question over with Mack.

JAP BILLIARDIST TO PLAY TONIGHT.

Koji Yamada, the tiny Japanese billiardist, the only man to beat the marvelous Willie Hoppe, in the greatest international billiard tournament the world has ever witnessed, and who is today the unrivaled sensation of the billiard cue, will meet the veteran cue wizard, George Slosson, tonight and tomorrow night in the gymnasium of the Los Angeles Athletic Club in an 800-point 18.2 balk-line match.

In the great tournament in New York, Hoppe retained his title as champion of the world, and George Slosson finished second. Yamada finished third. In the individual play, though, Hoppe defeated Slosson, and Yamada beat Hoppe.

Hence, Yamada, with only two years of billiard experience behind him, is heralded as the coming champion of the world. The matches arranged by the L.A.A.C. will afford the only chance cue fans will have to see these wonderful men in action, special arrangements having been made to this effect.

Director of Amusements George Towle has provided for the installation of a raised-seat ampitheater, with a seating capacity of 600, so designed that every seat will have an unobstructed view of the table.

ALL IN BUT SIX.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn National League Club, who is busy completing his new million-dollar ball yard, has rounded up all but six of the thirty-one players to whom he offered contracts for 1913. The men who have not signed are: "Baron" Knetzer, pitcher; Otto Miller, catcher; Charles Stengel, outfielder; Leo Callahan, outfielder; William Wagner, pitcher, and "Benny" Meyers.

The "Just As Good" Kind a Failure Alike To Buyer and Seller

Miss Daisy Hight, Box 202, Perry, N. Y., in a recent letter to the Herpicide Co., says: "I have used your hair tonic, Herpicide, and prefer it to any other, but the druggists here have other tonics they want to sell, and it is hard to get Herpicide when I want it. The druggist [illegible] me to try [illegible] it is not as good as Herpicide. I would like to buy your Herpicide in larger bottles direct from the company [illegible] you will send it to me."

It is the same old story. The dealer is good for a few extra pennies [illegible] the customer to buy something [illegible]—the customer loses the [illegible] and the dealer loses the customer. Whenever a dealer suggests a substitute for some standard article the wise thing to do is to walk out [illegible].

Fortunately there are but few dealers like those described in Miss Hight's letter. The dealer who tries to palm off an off brand when you ask for Herpicide thinks more of a dime than of the real good of his customer.

It is put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes and guaranteed to stop falling hair, itching scalp and to eradicate every particle of dandruff. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied. Herpicide does what it promises to do and what you expect it to do. There is no logic in buying the "just as good" kind, when the genuine costs no more.

BOISE POLO TEAM BEATS SANTA BARBARA FOUR.

Mountaineers Come to Life After Their Defeat by Hawaiians and Show Big Gallery Some Good Playing—Islanders Are to Take the Measure of Pasadena Experts Today.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

IN A GAME replete with sensational plays and superb riding, the Boise polo team yesterday defeated the crack Santa Barbara aggregation at Tournament Park, Pasadena, by the score of 6¼ to 2¾, and thereby demonstrated that it could come back.

The defeat of the Boise team at the hands of the superb Hawaiian team Monday aroused the Idaho team. In yesterday's game Falk dropped out and Herbert Lemp took his place, and Edward Chapman, who, by the way, holds the roping and tying championship of the Northwest for wild steers, moved up to No. 1 position and proved the sensation of the day, making four of the seven goals for Boise.

It developed just before play started that Edward Boeseke of the Santa Barbara team, who was injured Saturday by his horse stepping on him, had three fractured ribs and would be unable to play. John B. Miller took Boeseke's place, and in his defensive work of the Santa Barbara goal four times saved the precious line by wonderful work in blocking the ball. About 2000 spectators had gathered to witness the contest. A liberal sprinkling of these were in automobiles.

SAINTS START BRISKLY.

The Santa Barbara team started off with a rush and seemed to have the jump on the Boise men. The latter awakened in a trice and a fierce battle started. The ball was carried first to the danger point near the Boise goal line and then it would be rushed almost to the goal line of the Santa Barbara team.

Superb horsemanship and poor hitting marked the first chuckhur. It was seen in this period that the Boise team was playing much better than in the Monday game. Edward Chapman of the Boise team was showing signs of much better work than in the Hawaiian game. The chuckhur ended with the ball in the center of the field, neither team having scored.

In the second chuckhur the Santa Barbara team started off with a rush, and E. Boeseke, taking the ball on a shot from Miller, carried it well down the field in front of the Boise goal line. Dr. Boeseke rode off Harry Chapman of the Boise team, who was threatening to spoil Elmer's drive, and the latter made the first score for Santa Barbara. Stimulated by this first blood, Santa Barbara returned to the fray, and Dr. Boeseke, riding in his best form, secured the ball on a nice drive from E. Boeseke and drove it across the Boise goal.

BOTH TEAMS AWAKE.

The game from this moment on became intense. Boise determined to retrieve itself, and succeeded in carrying the ball the full length of the field, only to lose it through clever backing by Elmer Boeseke. Again Osner of Boise shot the ball out of the ruck, and with good dribbling worked it close to the Santa Barbara goal. Harry Chapman had bean riding hard to the support of Osner, and in a mix-up close to the goal line the ball was shot out of bounds and Santa Barbara secured a free stroke, sending the ball out of danger.

In the third chuckhur it appeared for a moment that Santa Barbara was about to add to its score. Elmer Boeseke had caught the ball on a drive from Miller and carried it well down the field, but missed goal. Again this was done in practically the same manner, but Dr. Boeseke this time missed goal.

MILLER'S GREAT STROKE.

Edgar Chapman of Boise began to show his riding abilities, and, with Osner and Lemp working in the ruck, the two Chapmans, father and son, remained outside and received the ball when shot out. The younger Chapman worked the ball down the field by hard riding and clever stick work to within a few feet of the Santa Barbara goal. It seemed like a sure goal. Miller was riding like a being possessed, and, as he darted swiftly by the goal, Chapman made his drive. The ball was in the air and Miller, leaning far out, caught the sphere fairly with his stick, sending it hurtling to safety. The play was unusually spectacular and brought forth cheers.

E. CHAPMAN BUSY.

In the last part of this chuckhur E. Chapman made two spectacular plays which resulted in goals. Securing the ball in the center of the field, the young man succeeded in standing off Dr. Boeseke and at the same time keeping the ball just ahead of him and sending it through the goal posts. The teams had scarcely assembled in the center of the field again, when E. Chapman again caught the ball on the throw-in and, before the Santa Barbara team had realized it, was sweeping down the field with the others stringing back of him. Again an easy goal was shot.

Boise had been forced by the hard work of Santa Barbara to make a safety which counted one-fourth of a point against them, but it saved a goal by Santa Barbara, and by the way the Boise team was forced to knock the ball over their own goal line three times during yesterday's game to save the threatened goal line. This action itself shows that the contest was close.

Young Chapman seemed to have caught the fever of the play and scarcely had the fourth chuckhur started when again he caught the ball on the toss-in and was away down the field with his team mates riding off the pursuing Santa Barbara players. Chapman made an easy goal, placing Boise in the lead for the first time.

WATERLOO PERIOD.

This period was doomed to be the Waterloo of the Santa Barbara team. Elmer Boeseke saved one goal by catching the ball with a beautiful side stroke and sending it out of danger, when it looked as though Chapman was again headed for the goal line.

Young Boeseke, who was playing a beautiful game, recovered the ball again after his difficult stroke and by a splendid ride carried it three-quarters of the length of the field and so threatened the Boise goal line that the team in self-defense shot it over, thus saving three-quarters of a point.

In rapid succession followed goals by H. Chapman, after a splendid drive and ride and by Capt. Osner, who also carried the sphere the greater length of the field. The first

A. A. U. CINDER CLASSIC COMING.

Galaxy of College Stars to Enter Title Meet.

Trojans Seem to Have Best Chance of Victory.

Southern Records Threatened in Some Events.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

There will not be as many entries in the annual A.A.U. track and field championship meet this season as there was last year, but almost every athlete on the list is a star, and a number of the southern records seem to be trembling in the balance. The meet this year is practically going to be a college affair, and the team winning can easily claim the Southern California cinder title.

The U.S.C. Trojans have entered a full team, as have the Oxy Tigers and the Pomona Huns. The Los Angeles Athletic Club will be represented by a few stars, who should win enough points to make the final result doubtful among the strong teams entered.

ODDS FAVOR TROJANS.

At the present time the odds favor the University of Southern California, as the Trojan team is the best-balanced squad in the South. Few of the men will have to double up in the events so each U.S.C. contestant can run himself out in one particular race, and for this reason stands an excellent change of winning.

With Barnes, Durkee, Sanderson and several others of the straying ones back in the Pomona fold, the Huns look next in line. If some of the L.A.A.C. athletes and a few of the unattached entrants can split up the points, the Hun may give the Trojan an argument before the afternoon is over.

Occidental will be an unknown quantity in the meet, owing to the fact the Tiger squad has been swept by sickness and the "Faculty Ax" during the past two weeks. Cook, Bradbeer, Annin, Egley, Wilson and Craig have been laid low. Craig fell under the ax just as he was rounding into fine form for the 440 and had to leave college.

The others have been sick, but Coach Pipal said yesterday that he "had hopes." Anyway all but Craig will be entered, although they may not do as well as might have been the case had the mumps and the la grippe kept away.

L.A.A.C. HAS STARS.

The L.A.A.C. will be represented by Jim Donahue, the Olympic star, in the 220 low hurdles, the broad jump and the discus throw. Art Coover, the old Polytechnic sprinter, has developed into a discus thrower, and will also enter the 100-yard dash. Johnson, the crack L.A.A.C. pole vaulter and high jumper, will be on hand for his usual spectacular jumps. Johnson is one of those steady performers that can be counted on for results in every meet.

Milsap, the famous Stanford 440 and 880 man, has been entered in the 880 this season, and if he can run as well as he did last year, the half-mile is not going to be any cinch. There are two new clubmen entered. Kendrick, in the high and broad jumps, has been making some exceptionally good marks this season. The other dark horse is Meal Patterson, in the high jump.

A number of the events should bring out good work, if some of the records are not broken. In the 100-yard dash the Trojans have Bradley, Carrigan and Throop, all good for ten-one now. Throop looks like the favorite, as the little veteran is running in splendid form, and has been gaining strength during the past week. Pitted against the Trojans will be Baer of Oxy, Coover of the L.A.A.C. and Gillette of Pomona. All these men are fast, and the struggle for the second-place medal should be a fine sight.

SPEED IN THE QUARTER.

The 440, with Jackson, Berger and Lodge of U.S.C. running against the famous "quarter horse," Larry Gillette of Pomona, promises some record-breaking thrills. This entire bunch should easily beat 51s. and a 440 near 50s. flat, is always well worth going to see.

In the high hurdles, Ben Ward and the champion, Fred Kelly of U.S.C., appear to have first and second places cinched, according to their work so far this season. Andy Stewart of Oxy and "Beefy" Heath of Pomona may give Ben a run, as both are going nicely.

In the low sticks Kelly again looks like the winner. Vic Hodge of U.S.C. will be given his first opportunity to run the low hurdles in open competition. Vic has developed a world of speed this season and has also improved his form, which was rather lumpy at first. Stewart of Oxy is the other contestant who looks dangerous here, although Jim Donahue may come in with a surprise.

AMERICAN AERO CLUB JOINS THE W. A. A.

In a telegram to Frank A. Garbutt, president of the W.A.A., yesterday, Alan R. Hawley, chairman of the Contest Committee of the Aero Club, asked Chairman Garbutt to take the necessary steps to make the W.A.A. its western representative.

This is one of the big steps in the forward movement of the new organization, which is proving its strength in the number of sanctions which are being issued for race meets and contests of all kinds.

Slam Bangers.

FOUR GOOD FIGHTERS ARE SIGNED FOR MARCH.

PROMOTER M'CAREY yesterday solved a couple of matchmaking problems which have been causing him to wrinkle his brow for some time, when he practically matched Frankie Burns and Eddie Campi and Frankie Russell and Bud Anderson for March.

Anderson and Russell will draw the March 8 date, and Campi and Burns will settle their dispute on March 28.

McCarey took these steps after receiving a wire from Tommy Walsh that he would gladly bring his two Frankies to Los Angeles if not required to come immediately.

Dick Donald, manager of Anderson, would have preferred Mandot, but Russell's praises have been sung so loud and so long that he decided to let Bud show against him.

As Coulon has notified McCarey that he will not be in shape for a long battle before May, the chance to get Burns greatly simplifies the situation. Burns will be a good card here. Some of the eastern critics rate him as the equal of Coulon and Williams.

* * *

Dan Morgan is the busiest manager imaginable. He has a big stable of fighters, and yet none of them are allowed to languish from lack of work.

He will have Jack Britton boxing Young Erne in the East on Saturday while Brown is boxing Rivers here. On March 3 his heavyweight, Jim Savage, will be sailing into Jess Willard at New Orleans, and March 7 Jack Britton will box the crafty Packy McFarland at the Garden Athletic Club in New York.

* * *

A victory for Joe Rivers over "K.O." Brown next Saturday means a lot more to him than the winner's end of the purse. His biggest reward will be several attractive engagements in the East.

Joe Levy yesterday practically

Miss Elsie Manthey, 4229 Talman Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "About two years ago my mother broke down with rheumatism. The doctors didn't do any good. My mother was persuaded to try Sloan's Liniment, and in three weeks was entirely well—and I believe she is cured forever."

Mrs. A. Weidman, of 403 E. Thompson St., Maryville, Mo., writes: "The nerve in my leg was destroyed five years ago, and left me with a jerking at night so that I could not sleep. A friend told me to try your liniment and now I could not do without it. I find after its use I can go to sleep."

WOLGAST SHOWS BETTER AS FIGHT DAY NEARS.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Special Dispatch.] Ad Wolgast got off to a bad start in training for his coming battle with Harlem Tommy Murphy, but he has been making up for lost time during the past three days.

It is a different Wolgast than the one who turned up for the fight last Thanksgiving Day. The Wolgast of that period was over-confident and underrated his young opponent. The Wolgast of today is sincere, having been taught a good lesson through the greatest teacher of them all—experience.

Murphy won't catch him napping, if he keeps tearing ahead as he has been doing. The little fellow was not fit when he lost his title to Ritchie. After the tenth round he began to slow up and get wild, something which he has never done before.

"I am not afraid of Ad's condition," says Manager Tom Jones. "I was opposed to the match, but now that it is made and I have a good line on Ad, I am confident that he will knock Murphy out. He will be a better fighter than he was the day Ritchie scored the lucky victory over him."

The ex-champion hammered and mauled Joe Mackey and Red Robinson for seven rounds this afternoon to his heart's content. His speed was wonderful and he perspired freely.

STRONG BODY WORK.

He did but little boxing or blocking, but contented himself with boring in all the time with both hands, playing principally for the body. He believes that he can beat Murphy down by playing for the lower regions. Besides doing the strenuous boxing stuff, Wolgast took a long run on the road in the morning, and worked in the gym before and after donning the gloves. The little fellow intends to work right up to the final day. His hands are hard and solid and he has no fear of injuring them.

The Harlemite worked like a buzzsaw, stepping six lively rounds with Johnny Payne and Eddie Miller. There was no mistaking his condition. He looked the picture of the well-trained athlete. He is practically down to weight and his wind appears to be perfect.

Murphy will do his boxing tomorrow afternoon and will spend the final two days in light exercise and rest.

Big Clothing Sale Ordered

Creditors Demand $42,000 Stock Sold for Cash at Once

Shipped in by Oregon Merchant—Local Firm Appointed as Sales Agents

One of the biggest and most wonderful sales of men's clothing ever known in this city is being conducted by the Monroe-Davis-Herington Co. at their store, northeast corner Seventh and Spring Streets.

This firm was appointed by the creditors of an Oregon merchant to inventory this $42,000 stock of clothing and sell it to satisfy their claims.

The stock is entirely new—comprising all spring clothing recently shipped this merchant who failed with liabilities of $90,000.

The clothing was shipped here from Oregon, and the creditors demand that it be sold without delay for whatever it will bring.

The Monroe-Davis-Herington Co. are instructed to dispose of this stock regardless of previous cost or selling price. As they have only a short time in which to turn this fine Clothing into cash, they must necessarily make prices that will force the goods into the hands of the public immediately.

This has been done and the entire lot placed on sale at their store, northeast corner Seventh and Spring streets.

That there will be one big, grand rush for these tempting bargains is a foregone conclusion, and naturally the earliest purchasers will obtain the choice selections.

There is not a man in Southern California who can afford to remain away from this store today. Regular panic prices prevail. No need to stop at a single suit. Now is the time to jump in and fit yourself out for the spring and summer while such unheard-of price reductions give you the opportunity.

Don't forget the location, northeast corner SEVENTH AND SPRING STREETS, across the street from the Union Oil Bldg.

BIG RACE ON FOR SATURDAY.

Athletic Club Event Drawing Many Entries.

Marathon to Be Feature of A.A.U. Contests.

Two Indian Boys Are Picked as Best Runners.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club road race, which is to take place next Saturday, is attracting a great deal of interest and will be quite a feature of the A.A.U. track and field championship meet, which is to be held on the same day.

The race this year is to start from the club building, at Seventh and Olive streets, and will be run straight to Bovard field, a distance of three and a half miles. The remainder of the ten-mile course, six and a half miles, is to be completed on the U.S.C. oval.

INDIANS FAVORITES.

The two leading favorites in the race are Philip Zeyouma and Albert Ray of the Sherman Indian Institute. Last year Philip cantered home first in The Times Modified Marathon, without being at all pressed for time. Later in the same season Albert took the Pasadena-to-Los Angeles road race easily, even outstripping his team-mate, Zeyouma, by many yards.

Ray is a real wonder at this long-distance game and as the greater portion of the course lies over the cinder path of the university he stands an even better chance, as he is faster on a track than on the road.

Zeyouma is a runner who maintains an even pace throughout any distance and for this reason is hard to defeat on the road, where the course is at times very irregular. Ray, on the other hand, is something of a sprinter and usually finishes up his ten and fifteen-mile jaunt with a remarkable burst of speed. These two should easily come in one and two in the coming race.

The event will be started promptly at 12:30 p.m. from the Olive-street side of the club building and all contestants are urged to be on hand at this time, as there is to be no delay. The runners must finish the race before the first events of the A.A.U. championship start, otherwise the track will be useless to both runners and A.A.U. contestants.

KID M'COY TURNING OVER A NEW LEAF.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Special Dispatch.] Norman Selby, best known as Kid McCoy of the prize ring, is to become an evangelist. He will preach the gospel of health from the public forums which the social center movement aims to establish in the public schoolhouses outside of school hours.

Selby will be heard for the first time in his new role at Public School No. 41, Eighth street, near Sixth avenue, Thursday night.

Asked if he held any theory as to the future state of man that he might discuss in his lectures, Selby said:

"Just as all streams and rivulets flow finally down to mother ocean, so I believe that the spirit of mankind flow ultimately to the Father Spirit and gather about Him."

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexion

(From Beauty's Mirror.)

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In winter this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.—[Advertisement.

A. A. U. Cinder Classic.

Pomona and Johnson of the L.A.A.C. all striving for altitude. Borgstrome should be the favorite here, as his jump of 12ft. 8in. under wraps last Saturday at the Oxy meet gives him some odds on the other contestants.

SWIGGETT MUST RUN.

In the two-mile Swiggett of U.S.C. and the new freshman wonder, Sturgis of Pomona, are scheduled for a gruelling battle. Swiggett is a veteran and a hard one to beat, as he has developed a wonderful sprint this season, but Sturgis is said to be the best long-distance runner at Pomona since the days of Ernest Fischer. If they are both right the race should be ticked off near 10m.

The mile may be a good race if Bill Annin of Oxy is in shape to give the mighty Capt. Linton Smith of U.S.C. a battle. Smith is running like a world's champion this spring and should easily beat 4m. 30s.

Of course if he does not have any hard competition he will not make as good a record as otherwise, but at that he may startle the fans a little.

Milsap of the L.A.A.C. and Tipton of U.S.C. should furnish the thrills in the 880. Milsap was some "goer" in his college days, but how much he has gone back we do not know. Tipton, on the other hand, has not gone back, but is coming along and the man that beats him Saturday will have to run very close to 2m. flat.

THE CLUB MARATHON.

The L.A.A.C. road race is to finish at the field just before the first events begin. The club runners are scheduled to start from the club building, Seventh and Olive streets, at 12:30 p.m., running straight to Bovard Field, a distance of three and one-half miles. The other six and one-half miles of the race will be run around the U.S.C. track, thus giving the spectators a chance to see what the runners actually do on a long race of this nature. Bert Eling has offered a cup to the runner who first passes the grand stand. The contestants should begin passing the bleachers at about 1:15 o'clock.

The grammar school entries will be received on the field from noon to 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon either by Bert Eling or Bob Weaver.

All college and high school entries must be filed some time today, either at No. 35 South Spring street, with Bob Weaver, or with Owen R. Bird at the sporting desk of The Times.

All regular entries clos at 7 p.m. tonight, at which time the numbers are to be given out and the final programme of events arranged.

MANY BOXERS ON FOR MEMBERS NIGHT.

Ernie Clark of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will box W. Stedman of the Pasadena Athletic Club at 148 pounds.

Fred Hawtrey of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will box Will Macklin at 158 pounds.

These two announcements, made last night by Cliff Reuman, chairman of the Boxing Committee of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, settle the problem of finding suitable opponents for the two Coast champions for the inter-club boxing matches to be staged in the L.A.A.C. gym February 25.

In addition it was also announced that John R. May of the Western Athletic Club and James T. Sturman of the Pasadena Athletic Club will meet again at 125 pounds.

The complete slate for boxing night, which, by the way, is for members only, is as follows:

Weight, 122 pounds: Joe Nieto (Columbia A.C.) versus Heinie Brand (L.A.A.C.)

Weight, 136 pounds: J. M. Hughes (L.A.A.C.) versus Lee Duffey (Columbia A.C.)

Weight, 145 pounds: E. C. Guyer (Y.M.C.A.) versus L. Phelps (Columbia A.C.,) R. Gray (unattached) versus David B. Edwards (L.A.A.C.)

Weight, 148 pounds: Ernie Clark (L.A.A.C.) versus W. Stedman (Pasadena A.C.)

Weight, 158 pounds: Pete Towne (L.A.A.C.) versus Tom Othmer (Western A.C.,) Fred Hawtrey (L.A.A.C.) versus W. Macklin (unattached.)

WHITE AND DUNDEE MATCH IMPORTANT.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Special Dispatch.] Charles White is training hard at Lewis gym for his ten-round bout in New York with Johnny Dundee, which is scheduled for February 28. They fought more than a year ago in Syracuse, N. Y., and White won by a comfortable margin. It was the only defeat against Dundee.

As both are seeking a match for the title with Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, the New York battle is expected to be a lively one. Both have been after the champion. White and Dundee are to weigh in at 126 pounds ringside.

A. A. U. Shake-up.

There has been a shake-up in the A.A.U. Track and Field Committee and President Franklin has appointed Bert Eling and Bob Weaver as heads of the commission and they will take charge of all the A.A.U. track meets in the future. Warren Bovard, graduate manager of U.S.C., has also been selected for the committee. Ralph Noble, who was the former chairman, has been ill and has so many other duties that he could not give enough time to the business of the various meets.

•

Big Meet Drags.

If the coming A.A.U. meet comes up to the last year's affair, it will be little short of wonderful. The meet has not been advertised at all and the entries are not nearly so great as was the case last season at this time. However, the three southern colleges have saved the day by entering full teams in the meet.

The meet will not have so many contestants this season, but those entered are all stars, so the competition should be good all the way. Last year's Track and Field Committee had the matter well in hand and it is hardly to be expected that a new bunch could possibly run off a contest of this size successfully, without any experience. However, the lesson has been learned.

"Bo" Wilson May Get Back.

"Bo" Wilson, the star Oxy pole-vaulter, who was hurt last Saturday, is rounding into shape and may be able to vault in another three weeks. It will be remembered that Boyd Comstock, now graduate coach of U.S.C., sustained an injury very much like Wilson's, about seven years ago while vaulting for the Methodists. It was thought at the time that he would never be able to jump again, but he was out and at work in seventeen days and says that the dislocated ankle never has bothered him since.

Ira on Cripple List.

Ira Courtney is on the doubtful list at the present time. Last Friday, while taking some practice starts, he strained a tendon in his leg. Trainer Uncle Lewis has been working night and day with the bad spot and gives out hopeful reports, but Ira will probably be kept out of the A.A.U. meet and saved for the big competition with Stanford and Berkeley.

The University of Redlands is making a strong bid for baseball [illegible] in the south this season. [illegible] Powell has arranged a schedule covering all the colleges in the south and most of the larger high schools.

DEDICATION OF PACKARD HOME PLANS ARE COMPLET

BY BERT C. SMITH.

PLANS for the dedication of the Packard Home were completed last night by Earle C. Anthony, agent for the Packard, and Friday and Saturday of this week have been set aside for the reception. The immense doors of the five-story building will be thrown open at noon and will be kept open until 10:30 o'clock Friday and Saturday nights.

The Packard home is the only automobile house in the West that has five stories devoted entirely to motor cars. It is finished in an ornate style and the decorations are choice. These will be intensified by a lighting system at night that will bring out the contour of the large structure which graces the corner of Tenth and Hope streets. This building was erected at a cost of $250,000.

That every motor car enthusiast who has ever heard the name Packard, may have a chance to see the latest edition in the high-priced motor world, the affair will be informal. The entire building will be at the disposal of the guests and salesmen and attendants will be on hand in each department to show and explain all the service wrinkles known to the trade.

This is not to be an automobile show. It is to be a dedication of a building which has been erected at a great cost and with the utmost care and which contains all that is necessary to make the upkeep of a motor car as simple as possible.

The massive elevators will be operated for the guests and silks and satins can be worn without worry, as there will be no grease or oil to spoil the afternoon or evening spent at the Packard home.

It was necessary yesterday for Earle Anthony to make a trip to the [illegible] in connection with the opening. [illegible] will return this afternoon and the final preparations for the [illegible] will be rushed in readiness for the opening on Friday. It is [illegible] that a full line of cars and [illegible] will be here for the [illegible] these will not crowd the [illegible] space and the other floors will be so arranged that every corner of the structure can be examined.

Orig[illegible] he was a chain maker by trade. [illegible] became dull and he lost his [illegible]. He then made boxing a pro[illegible]. All this time, however, he [illegible] been sipping at the Pierian [illegible], and there was a song in his [illegible]. From chain-maker to poet is [illegible] cry, but Tully made the jump. [illegible] fights he would dash off a [illegible] or two. There was merit in [illegible] of them, and he soon became [illegible] contributor to the newspa[illegible].

Does life continue, or did they last breath

And mutter curses to the God of All?
Or does he sleep, unconscious of the rest,
Beneath the roses by the garden wall?

Have brilliant Ingersoll and great Voltaire
Found peace at last, or have their mighty brains
Been used by Satan's diabolic snare
To lure men downward to eternal pains?

Or, doubting sleeper, have you in the end
Found what we ask for as a last behest—
That Christ doth still remain the loyal friend

Earth wearied nature, beneath this lonely stone,
Sleeping ever so sound,
In sacred ground.

Storm-beaten soul, that vainly clutched through life,
At high ideal; how blissful it must seem
To leave the burden of stupendous strife
For one long dream.

The foregoing probably will prove enlightening to those who have never come in contact with boxers, and have only a vague idea of them and their profession.

RS. SCALES MAKES BEST SCORE AT SAN GABRIEL.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

[illegible] women golfers of the San Ga[illegible] Country Club played yester[illegible] the first of the association se[illegible] handicap medal play matches [illegible] the best average score for [illegible] wins the prize.

[illegible] A. C. Scales made the best [illegible] on this occasion, with 126-20-[illegible] players altogether competing. [illegible], it will be remembered, [illegible] the winner of the much-coveted [illegible] writing desk put up a few [illegible] ago by Mr. Mackie.

[illegible] Mildred Hogan gracefully did [illegible] as captain of the team, al[illegible] herself unable to play. Others [illegible] out were Miss Marion Clark, [illegible] made the best gross score of the [illegible] 112; Mrs. C. A. Perley, Mrs. [illegible], Miss Lola Roberts, Mrs. Gif[illegible], Miss Florence Gifford, Mrs. Marmion, Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Laubenheimer.

Unfortunately the Bridge Club, that highly interesting gathering organized by Mrs. F. Ogilvy Wood, of which she is president, executor, treasurer, secretary and commander-in-chief, proved the successful rival to the golf yesterday and at least four players were lured away who should have been golfing. Mrs. Wood herself has entirely forsaken golf for auction bridge these days and Mrs. and Miss Gwendoline Lawton and Mrs. Lee Stephens are also finding their allegiance to golf wavering. Miss Gwendoline Lawton won the bridge prize last month—I forget whether it was $20 or $200—but I do know she hasn't played golf since. She goes to Riverside on Friday for the Victoria Golf Club's invitation tournament.

ANY FAST WORKOUTS ON EXPOSITION TRACK.

BY GREY OLIVER.

[illegible] 100 persons were at Ex[illegible] Park tract yesterday [illegible] to watch the workouts of [illegible] horses in training there, [illegible] exception the horsemen [illegible] pleased with what they saw. [illegible] was in perfect condition, [illegible] ideal weather, the morning [illegible] very enjoyable one for the en[illegible].

[illegible] Durfee worked many horses [illegible] of the best of these was [illegible] Henry's Chango, the Copo de [illegible], who is matched for $1000 [illegible] Canfield's Don Reginaldo [illegible] during the fall meeting. [illegible] already spending the money [illegible] Christmas presents, but, [illegible] is doing the same thing, [illegible] these two will be very sore [illegible] the holidays.

[illegible] Henry worked his White [illegible] mile in company with Bob [illegible] who drove Garland's horse [illegible] Durfee worked his 3-year-old [illegible], John Warwick, a half [illegible] and a last quarter in 0:24. [illegible] old Josephine Watts, en[illegible] the Kentucky futurity, was [illegible] quarter in 0:33. Durfee also [illegible] Henry Healey and Bertha [illegible] as a team, a mile in 2:18½ [illegible] last half in 1:06. Honey [illegible] is an M. & M. candidate and [illegible] mile in 2:15¼ and a half in [illegible].

[illegible] pacing mare Era, con[illegible] a trainer, made a half [illegible]. This was the one bought [illegible] of Pasadena. J. F. El[illegible] Dan Patch a mile [illegible] and a half in 1:04 very handily. Frank Loomis's [illegible] by Walter Barker negotiated the half in 1:12 and Modjeska in 1:06. Loomis also sent Lenola a mile in 2:20½ and McBush a half in 1:10. Murphy's Red McKay and Montgomery's Victor Mac were sent a mile in 2:18 and a last half in 1:07. Holcomb's Zomwolsey did a little better and Strathway did a quarter in 0:33¼.

Homer Mac and Pointer's Daughter did 2:20 for Jim Stewart, while Judge Dillon stepped the mile in 2:16 and Mabel Van in 2:18, with a last half in 1:04. Christopher's Alacker showed an easy mile in 2:20. Walter Maben sent Mrs. Severance's Copper King a mile in 2:11½ and a half in 1:04, and Mathews worked Dr. Dodge's Joe in 2:19 and the last quarter in 0:32. C. E. Mosher's pacer Elmbro did as well, while Delaney's pacer J.A.C. showed a quarter in 0:32.

Fred Ward had his good Uhlan II out for 2:16½, with a half in 1:05½ and a quarter in 0:31¼. This is one of the best green ones in the country. C. A. Canfield's Don Reginaldo was just a small fraction of a second slower than this time and showed that he is a very speedy bird. Ted Hayes worked Bon McKinney an easy mile and also had F. R. Bain's green mare out for an airing. She looks like a 2:10 prospect, for she worked a quarter in 0:33¼ and two miles in 2:36½ and 2:33¼. McLelland also had Ruby McKee and Zombronut out and these were there with the speed.

FIERCE SECOND HALF.

The second half opened with both teams playing like beings possessed. Santa Barbara was striving to overtake the lead of the visitors from Idaho and the latter were striving equally hard to increase their lead to a safe margin.

Again John B. Miller saved the goal line of the Santa Barbara team. The ball was carried to within a few feet of the line and only Miller was between the on-coming Boise men. As the ball was shot by one last desperate stroke to pass the goal line, Miller accurately timed it and backed it out of danger.

Within a few moments Dr. Boeseke did practically the same thing, but the Boise team was not to be denied and young Chapman came merrily romping down the field, shooting the white sphere over for a goal. The young man attempted to get the ball on the toss-in as before, but succeeded only in a short stroke, but was away with it ahead of him down the field.

E. Boeseke overtook him and in a pretty piece of hard riding took the ball away from him and shot it to Dr. Boeseke, who was away in full cry down the field for what seemed like a sure goal. An unlucky shot missed the goal posts by a few feet and the chuckhur ended.

OSNER SHOOTS ONE.

In the seventh chuckhur the Boise team scored again by a clever shot by Osner from a difficult angle. Then in the eighth and last chuckhur Santa Barbara, with Parks, assisted by Dr. Boeseke, drove a third and last goal.

The game today at Pasadena will be between the Hawaiian team and the Pasadena teams. It will be the second round of the Pasadena cups and will be for teams whose total goals does not exceed 10. As a result of this ruling the teams will line up as follows: Hawaii, A. H. Rice, No. 1; H. K. Castle, No. 2; Sam Baldwin, No. 3, and F. F. Baldwin, No. 4. Pasadena, Robert Neustadt, No. 1; Reggie Weiss, No. 2; John Hobbs, No. 3, and Dr. W. A. Boucher, No. 4.

HORSEMEN QUARREL OVER NEW RULES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—After a stormy session today a special meeting of the American Trotting Association decided to permit stewards and owners of harness race meetings held under the auspices of the association a certain latitude in making local rules governing their meetings.

The association limited this concession, however, by forbidding the adoption of any "local rules or by-laws which conflict with the rules of the association."

Hobbles may not be used on racing horses three years old and under, according to a ruling made today. A resolution was adopted expressing the thanks of the association to C. K. G. Billings for taking Uhlan and The Harvester to Europe last year and giving foreign horsemen a chance to see these animals in action.

The first clash in the meeting today came on the question of the admission of proxy votes. The proxies finally were admitted.

A strenuous fight was made for the adoption of a rule forbidding stewards and promoters from extending the rules to suit local conditions. This proposal was violently opposed by Charles Poter of Kansas and Edward Johnson of Wisconsin, who declared that in order to have successful racing, local conditions must be considered.

The measure finally was defeated.

HOWDY SPECIAL FOR IMPERIAL.

Five Coaches for Handsome Train de Luxe.

Oldfield Is Prepared for a Real Speed Battle.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

All aboard for the Howdy Special.

Plans were made yesterday to have five cars in the special train to the Imperial Valley Road Race. Reservations are being made at the rate of a car a day with Attorney E. E. Hewlett's secretary, Mr. Joy.

There will be a diner and a buffet on this special, which is to be an edition de luxe, one of the finest trains ever sent out from local headquarters.

The train will leave this city Friday evening at 10 o'clock and will leave the Imperial Valley the following Sunday afternoon. It will be run on its own schedule and will carry at least 300 of the racing enthusiasts who are planning to see the big contest on Saturday.

For the first time in the history of motordom a road race is to be conducted below sea level. The Imperial Valley road race course covers a fertile area of land in the valley, all of which is below the level of the sea. The fastest motor cars on earth will be driven over this course and our best drivers are entered in the big meet, which is to be held on Saturday.

Barney Oldfield is confident of winning the big race. He is in the best of trim and spent yesterday afternoon in his car, driving fast miles on the San Fernando road for the moving picture people who used their films on the speed champion as he whirled around a turn, and again as he made 100 miles an hour on the straightaways.

The car which Oldfield will drive was shipped to Imperial last night. The other machines were driven down over the roads. Many of the wise ones see in this some more of Oldfield's headwork. His Fiat is in shape for fast work. It has been carefully overhauled. Barney would not drive the racer over the roads, but insisted upon having his car shipped like a prize race horse to the scene of the big battle.

When he reaches Imperial tomorrow, Oldfield will be prepared to take a few fast spins around the roads to familiarize himself with the course and then will rest in preparation for the starting gun. He will only make five fast turns around the course and then will be content to take a few spurts.

Oldfield is going into this race as he did the Santa Monica battle and will be prepared for the fastest time his opponents can uncork.

Big Bill Nevin has been asked to act as chief timer at Imperial. "Tiny" has not decided just what he will do. The promptness with which his racing challenge was accepted yesterday caused "Tiny" a few tremors. Early this morning, after a cold shower, "Tiny" was out in his racing togs. He drove the Fiat, the car which Frank Verbeck sent to victory in the twenty-four-hour race, and after reaching Bovard Field, in the early morning donned his racing trunks and made two circuits of the 440-yard course. Bill's wind bothered him. He says he is not as fast as he was five years ago. He cannot hope to reduce his weight sufficiently in three days.

"Tell that fellow, Donavan," said Bill, "that he'll have to go some if he beats me. He may think I'm a has-been, but I'll show some of these guys. I'll admit that I haven't many medals, but when I get through with that big fat guy down in Imperial Valley he'll think he has been chasing a Jackrabbit.

"Attorney E. E. Hewlett is my best friend and he's agreed to rub me. That settles it for the race. I'll win and I'll ask no favors of anybody, except a good big bucket of suds when that race is over."

There is considerable interest being taken in the race among the Imperial Valley townsmen. The start and finish at Imperial will be graced by an immense crowd and the vantage points along the course will be pointed out to the many fans who are to make the trip to Imperial in the Howdy Special. The race promises to be the greatest ever pulled off in the Southland and the entry list is the largest ever carded for any but the Santa Monica road battle.

closed with the McMahon brothers of New York for Rivers to meet Leach Cross in a return battle on April 1. There is a mere matter of $500 between them, and, as the fight figures to draw between $20,000 and $30,000, Levy is confident that the promoters will raise their bid to that extent. Rivers is to receive a guarantee of $5500 and the privilege of 35 per cent. of the gross receipts.

Rivers is sought for a stage stunt in Denver the week of March 9, and will probably fill this on his way to New York. Boxing promoters of Columbus, Cleveland, Rochester and Baltimore are also bidding for the Mexican's services.

Consequently, it behooves Joe not to step into one of those wallops that have made Mr. Brown both famous and rich.

The local Queensberry colony was further swelled yesterday by the arrival of Tommy Ryan (not the original) from San Francisco.

Ryan is a featherweight, and claims to have beaten the best men in his class on the Coast, and disputes the claims of Manuel Vierra to the Coast title. He would be glad to settle the question of supremacy with Vierra in a semi-windup before the local club.

Ryan recently boxed two ten-round draws with Benny Chavez, whom Battling Chico is to meet at Albuquerque on Saturday.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 18.—[Special Dispatch.] At the last minute today the Democratic leaders in the Assembly got "cold feet" on the Sunday baseball bill and on motion of Majority Leader Levy, the measure was recommitted to the committee for hearing. The hearing took place several weeks ago, so the bill is dead.

A Scene from "The Elixir of Youth" and "The Maid."

The above flashlight shows Herschell Mayall as Gen. Burbeck and Selma Paley as Marcella, in one of the many funny situations, created by the "youths" who figure prominently in the new Covington comedy success at the Burbank. Below is Maragaret Meredith, the "slangy" maid in "The Maid and the Meddler," one of the breezy offerings of the current Empress bill.

WITH THE PHOTOPLAYERS.

BY AL. G. WADDELL.

ARRANGEMENTS were completed yesterday for the entire three acts of "The Elixir of Youth," now being played at the Burbank, to be recorded in films.

Manager Oliver Morosco has arranged to take the entire Burbank stock company out to the Selig studios at Edendale, set up the scenery and give an entire performance of "The Elixir of Youth" before the camera.

John Cort has gathered together a squad of the most competent photographers in the employ of the Kitsee-Cort Moving Picture Company of New York, and they are now on their way to Los Angeles equipped with cameras and the latest phonographic devices for reproducing the actor's voices.

The Kitsee-Cort production of "The Elixir of Youth" is to be put on under the direction of Oliver Morosco and Charles Eyton.

It was at first proposed to set up the machines in the Burbank Theater and catch the laughter of the audience as well as the actions and voices of the players, but this plan was abandoned owing to the lack of light in the Main-street house.

The Kitsee-Cort machine is believed to be the most accurate in existence. A Berkeley man is said to have hit upon the same idea, but his patent has not been heard of beyond an early announcement.

This Kitsee-Cort film production of "The Elixir of Youth" is not to be exhibited through the film exchanges.

The Smithsonian Institute is to receive one set of the films, which will be distinguished as the first reels of the kind taken in the United States. Oliver Morosco will keep one set of the films, one is to go to the California Historical Society, another to John Cort and Mr. Kitsee, the inventor of the process, is to be given the negative film, in a silver case inscribed with the date of the performance at the Selig studios, the name of the play and the names of the authors.

The Nestor Comedy Company, under the direction of Al E. Christie, is producing a one-reel picture in which a young department store clerk saves the life of his employer's daughter by a daring dive into the ocean and wins her love.

Director Christie is using the first and second floors of Hamburger's store for the first scenes of the picture, instead of setting up scenery of his own. This is a novel departure in photo-play and if successful will be a noteworthy feat. Leonard M. Smith, camera man for the Christie forces, has a LeParvo machine, which is said to be capable of wonderful things in the interior and there is little doubt among the Nestor players that the work done in Hamburger's will be a success.

The 1400 feet of film made by the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Company showing the complete Rodeo are now being exhibited at the Rose Theater.

Military experts who have seen the work of Francis Forde, the Bison director, have pronounced it accurate in every detail. There were 275 extra men playing with his company on the third day of the run of "The Battle of Bull Run," which is now being produced. They had a skirmish line on the field which extended for more than half a mile.

The Union forces were in command of Abram Mondon, chief trumpeter of the Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., and Jack Messick commanded the Confederate brigade. There were 100 mounted cavalrymen in the Confederate line, besides a full battalion of infantry. Director Forde had two field pieces in action and used forty-three dozen hand grenades.

PULLS ORCHESTRA OUT FOR SEATS.

Manager Wyatt ordered the orchestra out of the pit at the Mason Operahouse yesterday to make room for additional seats for people who want to see David Warfield. Seventy chairs were thus accommodated.

William Clifford is playing the part of a Confederate field officer in this picture, and Miss Grace Cunard is appearing as a secret service woman. Francis Forde is being assisted in the production by C. W. Lincoln, chief of mounted scouts of the Seventh Regiment.

Miss Lillian Herbert, the leading lady with the Rex Dramatic Company, under Director Otis Turner, is the same Lillian Herbert who starred in "The Deep Purple" when it was being played at the Majestic last season. Miss Herbert only recently joined the Universal forces here, but her personality has won her a host of friends and her stage experience makes her success in the silent drama a foregone conclusion.

The Warr dynamite pictures, which are being made by the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Company, will be released as soon as the prison scenes are made. Director N. K. Parkhurst said yesterday that men were sent up to San Quentin to get the pictures of Warr at work.

This is to be one of the most unique pictures ever made. Many of the people who played strong parts in the original near-slaughter are playing in the reproduction.

Detectives Browne and Hosick are both in the cast and the jailer, desk sergeant and prisoners all appear as they did on that day.

Leonard Quick plays the part of Carl Warr in the picture, H. Van Depoele is the dynamite expert, W. C. Hauber plays Mr. Sniveley and the part of Detective Graham is ably reproduced by W. E. Macarton. The entire production is being made under the direction of N. K. Parkhurst.

Arrangements were practically completed last night for moving pictures to be made of the A.A.U. championship track and field meet, which is to be held at Bovard Field Saturday afternoon. The Los Angeles Athletic Club's annual Marathon race will be included in the pictures also. An automobile is to start with the runners at the club and make pictures all along the course to Bovard Field.

BANKS WINS AT POCKET BILLIARDS.

Champion George Banks returned last night after a brief sojourn in the air. He celebrated his advent by taking the second round of the Rhines-Banks pocket billiard match at Blanchard Hall by 209 balls to 122, practically reversing the proportions of the preceding night's play.

The score stands at 308 points for Banks to 277 for Rhines as a commencement for the final round tonight, in which Rhines has the balls. Thus Rhines must make 223 balls to Banks's 192 in order to win the match.

Banks began with the balls last night and by nearly faultless play kept the lead throughout, overtaking and passing Rhines's total for both nights in the twelfth inning, when the score stood 177 for Banks and 164 for Rhines. Banks had put down 78 balls to 9 by Rhines, nearly nine to one.

In the sixteenth inning Rhines had pulled up to 189 points to Banks's 190, but this was the nearest he came to equality during the evening. Banks left him in difficult position nearly every time he lost his turn. Very few misses were made by either, many innings being ended by safety plays.

A total of five scratches only was made by the two experts in running down 431 balls in fifty-one innings.

The perfect seating and light arrangements of the hall made possible the high quality of play shown, which is likely to come to a climax in the final clinch tonight.

THE combination of a butter-fingered linotype machine expert and an astigmatic proof-reader is hard to beat.

This conclusion I arrived at yesterday when I noticed what the duo of composing-room gents had done to my confrere's reference to Mrs. Langtry's one-time admirer, Freddie Gebhardt.

The comp and the pr-f-r-r made up their minds that The Times man who reviewed the current bill at the Orpheum didn't know what he was writing about—and the composing-room people sometimes do hit it off mighty cleverly at times—and printed the name of the Langtry friend as "Freddie Bezhardt."

It must have made even Mrs. Langtry smile.

Mention of the late Mr. Gebhardt who transferred his affections from the Langtry to Marie Wilson, a member of the really, truly original Florodora sextette via the marriage license route, recalls to mind that the former Pretty Maiden is now engaged in a legal contest with Gebhardt's relatives for what she claims is a portion of the estate that did not reach her as per the Gebhardt will.

At one time in her career—long before the footlights held out a chance for an artistic career for her—Miss Wilson was hitched up in a matrimonial way to a plebian grocer in a suburb of Washington, D. C.

Uh-h-h-h-h—another shudder. This one from Mrs. Langtry as she thinks of Mr. Gebhardt's heart strings ever having been in the keeping of the wife of a proletariat dealer in butter, eggs and spuds.

Anyway, his name was not Bezhardt.

Premiers are coming thick and fast. Yesterday Oliver Morosco announced that a new play by Hayden Talbot will shortly be given at the Burbank Treater, probably following "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," which is due after the current run of the Covington comedy hit.

Talbot's new play is called "They Say He Went to College." Likely title, isn't it?

Speaking of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" reminds me of the fact that in the near future we are going to see some familiar faces on strange stages.

Casting about for a suitable actor to play the important role of Blackie Daw, fully as important a figure in the piece as Wallingford himself, Mr. Morosco took into consideration the versatility of Morgan Wallace, and consequently this fine actor will go over to the Burbank and play the part.

And just to make things even, Mr. Morosco will send from the Burbank to the Morosco Walter Edwards, who will play the role of Judge Prentiss in Augustus Thomas's remarkable play, "The Witching Hour."

In the East Mr. Edwards scored his biggest hit in this role. Incidentally, Harrison Hunter will at last come into his own with the presentation of the Thomas play, for he is to have John Mason's original role of the gambler, Jack Brookfield.

I understand that Robert Dempster has definitely been engaged as one of the juvenile men of the Morosco producing company and will leave New York immediately for Los Angeles.

There came very near being a small-sized tragedy at the first performance of "Oliver Twist," Monday night, and as a result those who witnessed last night's performance probably noted the fact that Sykes's bulldog was well muzzled.

On the opening night the bull, becoming imbued with the spirit of the scene, made a vicious lunge at Helen Robertson, who plays Nancy. The dog succeeded to a nicety in ripping Miss Robertson's clothes, but his teeth failed to penetrate any farther.

I wandered in the Empress Theater last night for a minute and arrived just in time to see four of the skating girls, "The Aerial Ballet," as one reviewer called them, take a lovely little spill—and it wasn't a graceful one, either.

And as the curtain dropped I was just wondering to myself what Nick Kauffman, who is traveling with the act, and who is incidentally the most successful producer of girl acts in America, would say to the four young butterflies for rudely injecting so much comedy into the act.

My, but Frances Ring is certainly the happiest actress in Los Angeles this week.

You see, Miss Ring has nothing more difficult or time-consuming to do, this week than to draw her salary, as she is not included in either casts of "The Elixir of Youth" or "Oliver Twist." All she has to do is to act as chairwoman of the—yes, the—Reception Committee.

Why, Mr. Meighan.

And why all this cold type hullabaloo?

Only because Miss Ring happens to be Mrs. Meighan.

Now, gentle reader, dear reader, constant reader and all the other nice and popular readers, don't you understand why both Miss Ring and Mr. Meighan are so ecstatically happy?

John Cort and Byron Ongley are hastening toward Los Angeles to see "The Elixir of Youth" at the Burbank.

Mr. Ongley, it is understood, had a finger in making the dramatic pudding and very naturally is anxious to see whether the laughs he put in the play are being received with the same degree of hilarity as the ones provided by Mr. Covington and Mr. Simonson.

Mr. Ongley will find it difficult to separate his own particular laughs from those of the other authors of the farce.

"The Elixir of Youth" happens to be one long, continuous laugh, and it is pretty hard to vivisect a howl or a scream or a shriek of laughter.

But Mr. Ongley proposes to try.

"Mother" is coming to the Mason with Leo Ditrichstein next week. Belle Theadore is mother. She has had a unique career on the stage, having remained with one company nineteen years. That company was "Shore Acres." She mothered twenty-two leading women, who came and went in that play, and between seasons brought up two children of her own. That is how she comes to be so well known in the profession as a stage mother.

Col. Bill Rhoddy, representing Henry W. Savage's The Prince of Pilsen Company, has arrived in Los Angeles, prepared to pave the way for the approaching appearance of the Luders-Pixley musical comedy at the Majestic Theater.

Col. Rhoddy reports that besides the ever-popular Jess Dandy, who still is playing the part of Hans Wagner—no, Clarisse, not the Pittsburgh shortstop—in "The Prince of Pilsen," the cast includes our own Lottie Kendall, who has the important role of Mrs. Crocker, the dashing young widow in the musical piece.

Time was when the Empress, the present home of Sullivan & Considine vaudeville, was called the Casino and when Lottie Kendall was the toast of the town, for a more beautiful, cleverer and withal brilliant young comedienne never was known hereabouts.

Miss Kendall still retains all of her accomplishments if one may judge by the excellent press notices she has been receiving wherever "The Prince of Pilsen" has been played this season.

I know there will be lots of others who will make the same choice.

This column isn't exactly supposed ever to contain any mention of an actor's work, but they say all rules are erected just to be toppled over, and for this reason I cannot help from mentioning the fact that in the current production of "Oliver Twist" at the Morosco Theater, aside from Nat C. Goodwin's quite remarkable interpretation of Fagin, a bit of character work of a superlative type is the Artful Dodger, played by Robert Ober.

Mr. Ober never has done anything that can approach this clever portrayal—perhaps it is because he never has had much of a chance at characterization.

But if Mr. Ober never did anything else during his long stay in this city than his Artful Dodger, his coming to Los Angeles will not have been fruitless.

KILBANE RIGHT.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 18.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Looking in fine physical condition, Johnny Kilbane, the champion featherweight, arrived in town today for the purpose of going through with his ten-round bout with George Kirkwood of St. Louis, which is to take place before the Empire A. C. tomorrow night.

STOCKS SHOW SHARP DECLINE.

FIREMEN'S STRIKE SETTLEMENT HAS NO EFFECT.

Prices Disappointing to Traders Who Had Believed That Dispute Between Railways and Their Men Would Prove Large Factor—Reading and S. P. Sell Heavily.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The sharp decline in stocks yesterday was followed in the natural course of events in the market by a temporary upturn today, owing chiefly to covering of short contracts. Even the news that the threatened strike of railway firemen had been averted produced no effect, and after moderate gains had been established among the standard stocks the market slid off slowly. In the last hour active selling was resumed, and stocks declined sharply. The course of prices was disappointing to traders, who had looked on the dispute between the railways and their firemen as a large factor in the market. There has been such a long series of unfavorable occurrences that interjection of a bullish factor was a novel sensation. The failure of the market to make a greater response was attributed to the remaining uncertainties of the general situation. The rather heavy selling movement of the last hour was linked with disquieting rumors concerning J. P. Morgan's state of health. The departure for Europe today of Mr. Morgan's son-in-law served as a basis for the rumors. During the afternoon decline the Hill stocks were sold heavily, as were Reading and Southern Pacific, the latter touching a new low price for the movement of 100¼. Bonds were heavy, after showing firmness in spots. Total sales, par value, $2,647,000. United States 2s coupon declined ¼, and 4s coupon ¼ on call.

COPPER INDUSTRY.

London copper opened weak but was firmer at noon. Spot was at £63 15s, off 5s, and futures at £63 15s, off 5s. London copper closed steady with spot at £64, up 5s, and futures at £63 17s 6d, up 2s 6d.

It is estimated that during the past week various selling agencies have sold an aggregate of something like 75,000,000 pounds copper. Included in this is about 15,000,000 pounds of Lake copper. Most of the selling was done on a basis of 15 cents for electrolytic. Domestic consumers were the largest purchasers. One producer states that the large sales made recently will go a long way toward strengthening the market.

The striking fact about the sinking of the shaft at the Indiana is the almost perfect correlation of the formations with those of the No. 9 hole sixty-five feet to the southwest, and the No. 2 driven at an agle of sixty-seven degrees about 600 feet to the northwest. The shaft was planned to intercept the sensational "fi 'd" of the latter. This remarkably close similarity certainly warrants the belief that it will. This resemblance has not been merely for a few feet, but for a length of about 1270 feet. The shaft should now be in or very close to a felsite bed twenty-three feet thick. It should then pass through ten feet of trape and amygdaloid and come to the felsite bed seven feet in width that "carries good copper." After that there should be thirty-nine feet of trape, when the felsite bed 285 feet wide should be entered, in which the famous showings of copper and copper ore were disclosed. Progress has been somewhat slower recently than was anticipated on account of considerable water coming for a fissure encountered at the depth of 1150 feet, but this is under control now, as can be judged from the fact that seventy-one feet was made in shaft-sinking last month, and unless something unforeseen happens greater speed will be attained this month.

During the quarter ended December 31 Nevada Consolidated produced 8,986,965 pounds of copper, compared with 16,465,467 pounds for the preceding quarter. This brings the total production for the year to 63,063,261 pounds, or approximately the same as for 1911. Production and earnings during the last quarter fell very materially below the preceding quarter. This was due to the suspension of mining operations during October, caused by labor disturbances, the difficulties incident to a reorganization of the working forces following this trouble, the severe weather conditions experienced, and to the low grade of the ore treated. This last-named figure was 1.44 per cent. copper, compared with 1.74 per cent. for the preceding quarter. This was purely local and was due to the fact that mining was carried on in a portion of the pit where the ore was soft and better adapted for breaking in the new crews for the steam shovels. The earnings for the quarter amounted to $707,256, as against $1,816,116 for the previous one. After deducting the regular dividend of $749,796, the net deficit for the quarter amounted to $42,540, which, with depreciation on the Steptoe plant and the ore extinguishment charges aggregating $227,990, brought the total net charges to undivided profits to $270,530. In addition to the regular dividend of 37½ cents per share there was paid on December 31 an extra dividend of 50 cents per share, amounting to $999,728. This was charged to surplus account. In determining the earnings for the quarter the unsold excess of copper has been valued at 15 cents per pound, and the normal tonnage on hand and unsold at 12¼ cents per pound. As regards production and earnings Nevada Consolidated quarterly statement is unfavorable, showing a deficit of $270,530, compared with a credit of $798,135 for the preceding quarter. This however, was to be expected, in view of the extremely unfavorable conditions under which the company operated.

The most important development in Houghton Copper in many months is the opening of rich ground in the northeast drift from the 623-foot level. Heretofore practically all of Houghton's good ground has been found in the southeast openings extending in the direction of Superior. For several weeks the northeast drift, which is now in 106 feet, has been driving in ground of excellent quality, some of it exceptionally rich. The management is now thoroughly convinced that the formation in which all openings have been made to date is the Superior lode. From the latest light on the dip of the lode it is estimated that the vein can be followed down about 3000 feet before boundary is reached. The forthcoming annual report will contain an estimate of the total tonnage for the life of the mine. The stockpile contains 6000 tons of high-grade stamp rock.

Superior's change from the old Atlantic to the Allouez-Centennial mill, which will be made shortly, will result in an increased recovery of upward of two pounds of fine copper to the ton. The tailings loss at the Atlantic mill has been about ten pounds to the ton. It is believed this can be reduced to eight at the Allouez-Centennial plant. The charge at the Atlantic mill was about 40 [illegible]

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—There is nothing in the general copper situation to warrant the reaction and it is simply due to the general lack of confidence caused by war and political uncertainty. Coppers have more than discounted any possible break in metal and are selling considerably below their intrinsic worth, but it is impossible to tell when confidence will be restored and stocks should only be purchased now on the strongest kind of margins or for cash.

TO CLOSE UPPER BERTHS.

Wisconsin Supreme Court Upholds Law Regulating Sleeping Car Sections as Constitutional.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 18.—The Supreme Court upheld today the constitutionality of the "upper berth law" enacted by the 1911 Legislature. The law provides that the upper berth shall be closed when not occupied. The company contended that the State law does not reach sleeping cars engaged in interstate commerce. The court held that the law was not in conflict with the interstate commerce act.

LOCAL BANK STOCK VALUES SHOW BIG GAIN

BY JNO. O. KNIGHT.

The recent advance in First National Bank stock to sales at a new high record of $725.00 per share, naturally serves to draw attention of the investing public to the steady increase in Los Angeles Bank Stock values. For several years this advance has continued at an average rate of about 12%, exclusive of dividends, and is due to steadily increasing earnings of the local institutions. Notwithstanding this steady increase, however, a comparison of the market value of local stocks at present prices with similar bank stocks of any other city can hardly fail to lead to the conclusion that, from an investment standpoint, Los Angeles bank stocks are still selling at very attractive prices. An analysis of the following table, giving the market value one year ago, and the present bid and asked prices for stocks of the leading local banks, shows gains in twelve months as follows: California Savings Bank, $50.00; Citizens National Bank, $30.00; All Night and Day Bank, $125.00; Farmers and Merchants National, $30.00; German-American Savings, $25.00; and National Bank of California, $30.00.

TRIBUTE PAID TO DEAD POET.

Pasadena Visitor Tells of Visit to Princeton.

Oak Knoll Section Wants Improvements Made.

High School Boys Swept by Reform Wave.

PASADENA, Feb. 19.—Dr. Henry Van Dyke, the writer, who is at the Hotel Maryland, yesterday, on request, expressed with tender feeling his affection for Joaquin Miller, whose death the English-reading world is now mourning. Aside from his admiration for the works of the western poet, Dr. Van Dyke in his appreciation tells of a visit he once had with Miller.

"I only saw Joaquin Miller once," he writes. "It was when he was in New Jersey five or six years ago, visiting some friends, and came to spend a day with me at 'Avalon' in Princeton. I remember well his friendly, cordial presence, his gentleness and simplicity of manner, his interest in the children and his natural ease in social intercourse. His gray hair and beard were long, well-cared-for and becoming. His dress was that of a well-bred man, the expression of a desire to conform to the ordinary custom of society without bothering either about fashion or about eccentricity. The only sign of Bohemianism was that one leg of his black trousers was tucked into the top of an exceedingly well-fitting polished boot—and that was a little symbol of independence which I liked in the man. It seemed like a sign of loyalty to the life of out-of-doors, a badge of his own country of the hills, which he would not deny even in the lowlands.

"We had lots of good talk by the blazing logs in the old Colonial fireplace at Avalon, which was built in 1750. He seemed like a man of the olden time. He told me many adventures and picturesque tales. Altogether it was a delightful day, and it lent a new meaning to my youthful joy in the verses of the Poet of the Sierras."

As to the writings of the dead poet, Dr. Van Dyke has this to say:

"His work has a distinct value of its own in its spirited movement, its romantic color and its fresh and vivid interpretation of nature and life in these lands of the Sierra and desert, which are now being transformed into the realm of orchards and gardens."

AFTER IMPROVEMENT.

A committee from the Oak Knoll Improvement Association appeared before the City Council yesterday and requested that numerous improvements be made in that part of the city without loss of time. Better fire protection, better police protection and some steps on the part of the city to prevent the picturesque Canyon drive from being washed out of all semblance of a road by the storm waters, are asked for. The Council took the requests under consideration.

The Council instructed the City Attorney to prepare a franchise for the operation of the proposed auto-omnibus line between Pasadena and Los Angeles, so far as this city is concerned. The application for a franchise was filed by R. G. Munn, one of the promoters of the scheme. He declared in it that the fare will be not greater than 15 cents one way, or 25 cents for the round trip, and that no passengers will be taken aboard unless they can be provided with seats.

BOYS TO BE GOOD.

A wave of reform has swept over the boys at the Pasadena High School and at a meeting held there yesterday an organization, which will be known as the Pasadena High School Students' League, was formed. The purpose of the league is to encourage clean speech, clean athletics and clean life.

The faculty of the school had no part in the meeting or in bringing about the organization, although Prof. J. O. Cross, the principal, yesterday gave the movement his warmest approval. Tallman H. Trask of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School addressed the boys. He spoke of similar organizations that have been formed elsewhere.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Belle Culbertson May, wife of City Commissioner Frank May, died of heart failure late last Tuesday night at her home, No. 801 Winona avenue, at the age of 54. Her death was sudden. In the afternoon she attended a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. May was born in Pennsylvania. She had lived in Pasadena for six years and was prominent in church and society circles. Beside a widower she leaves three sons. They are Archibald R. May of this city and William Lloyd May and Charles C. May of Seattle, Wash.; one daughter, Mrs. Herbert H. Thompson of Pasadena; three sisters, the Misses Cordelia, Katherine and Margaret Culbertson, all of this city, and three brothers, James A. Culbertson of Pasadena, William C. Culbertson of Erie, Pa., and Charles B. Culbertson of Detroit, Mich.

The funeral will be private. Arrangements are pending the arrival of the two sons from Seattle.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Burnes of No. 1289 South El Molino avenue, Oak Knoll, returned home yesterday from Santa Barbara, where they went for a short visit.

Another kink in the much-knotted rope at which the City Council and the Board of Education are pulling over the inspection of the Polytechnic High School buildings was counted yesterday when the Council sent a secret communication to the Board of Education. It is to be considered by the members of the latter at a special meeting today.

Miss Henrietta Dunn Mears of Boston is exhibiting a collection of water colors, largely of Southern California mission scenes, at the Hotel Maryland.

Arrangements have been made for a Society Circus and Horse Show, to be given on Hotel Maryland grounds and tennis court the afternoon and evening of March 8, as a benefit for the Children's Training School. It is to be a unique entertainment and Pasadena society is taking a keen interest in it. The Committee on Arrangements is composed of Mrs. H. Page Warden, Mrs. Edward Groenendyke, Mrs. Harrison I. Drummond, Mrs. William A. Brackenridge, Mrs. A. Steven Halstead, Mrs. Robert Ladd Gifford, Mrs. Elexander Belford and Miss Grace Gerrish.

Announcement was made yesterday that work will be begun today on the hangar that is to house the dirigible with which Roy Knabenshue expects soon to make trips up Mt. Wilson. It will be put up on unused land of the water department near the Ohio-street well.

Many Pasadenans stood in line at Clune's Pasadena Theater yesterday morning to purchase tickets for the Elks' minstrels, which are to be presented there tomorrow and Friday nights. Indications are that the show will be a tremendous success.

SAN PEDRO COMMERCIAL CLUB SENDS A LETTER

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 18.—Fearing that the best interests of the city of Los Angeles will not be conserved unless the franchise to be granted the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company provides for delivery of freight to teams and auto trucks, the commercial organizations of San Pedro today took action in the matter.

Yesterday, following a secret conference between members of the Harbor Commission and representatives of the steamship company, it was announced that all the details had been agreed upon excepting the matter of compensation to be paid the city. Secretary Matson of the Harbor Commission admitted after the conference that no provision had been made for team delivery of freight.

As the land upon which the proposed wharf and warehouse of the steamship company is to be built is owned by the Southern Pacific, Los Angeles merchants would be unable to reach the wharf without trespass over the property of the railroad company. The wharf will be located near the foot of Tenth street, more than five blocks from the end of the Pacific-avenue and Fourteenth-street boulevard which is to be built immediately. As the Southern Pacific is said to be very much interested in getting the traffic from these steamers discharged at this port, instead of the Santa Fe wharves at San Diego, it is believed here that an easement for street could be secured from the railroad company if the franchise were made contingent upon such a street.

The San Pedro Commercial Club today addressed the following letter to the Harbor Commission:

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 18.

To the Honorable Board of Harbor Commissioners, City of Los Angeles, Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen: We beg to call your attention to the communication by the San Pedro Commercial Club dressed to the City Council of March 5, 1912, as follows:

Corona also maintains a most elaborate table and box display—the district being famed for the splendid lemons grown all along the heights district.

The most elaborate design worked out in the rack box displays is that of Etiwanda—the big little district in San Bernardino county's west end. By using wraps of varied colors and no wraps at all, the famed Arrowhead occupies a central spot, flanked on either side with two great cornucopias from which pours the flood of golden fruit—both lemons and oranges. Etiwanda's lemons last year captured the sweepstakes and they are after the trophy again this year.

Lindsay, from away up on the San Joaquin Valley, occupies one corner of the great tent with an elaborate and most beautiful display of the many sorts of citrus fruit found in that fertile section. The high-colored oranges and mammoth grape fruit catch and hold the attention of the crowds and especially the judges of good fruit, the display being in charge of Secretary Hinds of the Lindsay Board of Trade and T. E. Anderson, who designed and built it.

San Bernardino's unrivaled water supply and municipally owned water system is represented with a reproduction of one of the great artesian wells from any one of which flows a river of water. The display is highly illuminated and the combination of green and white may be seen from all parts of the big tent.

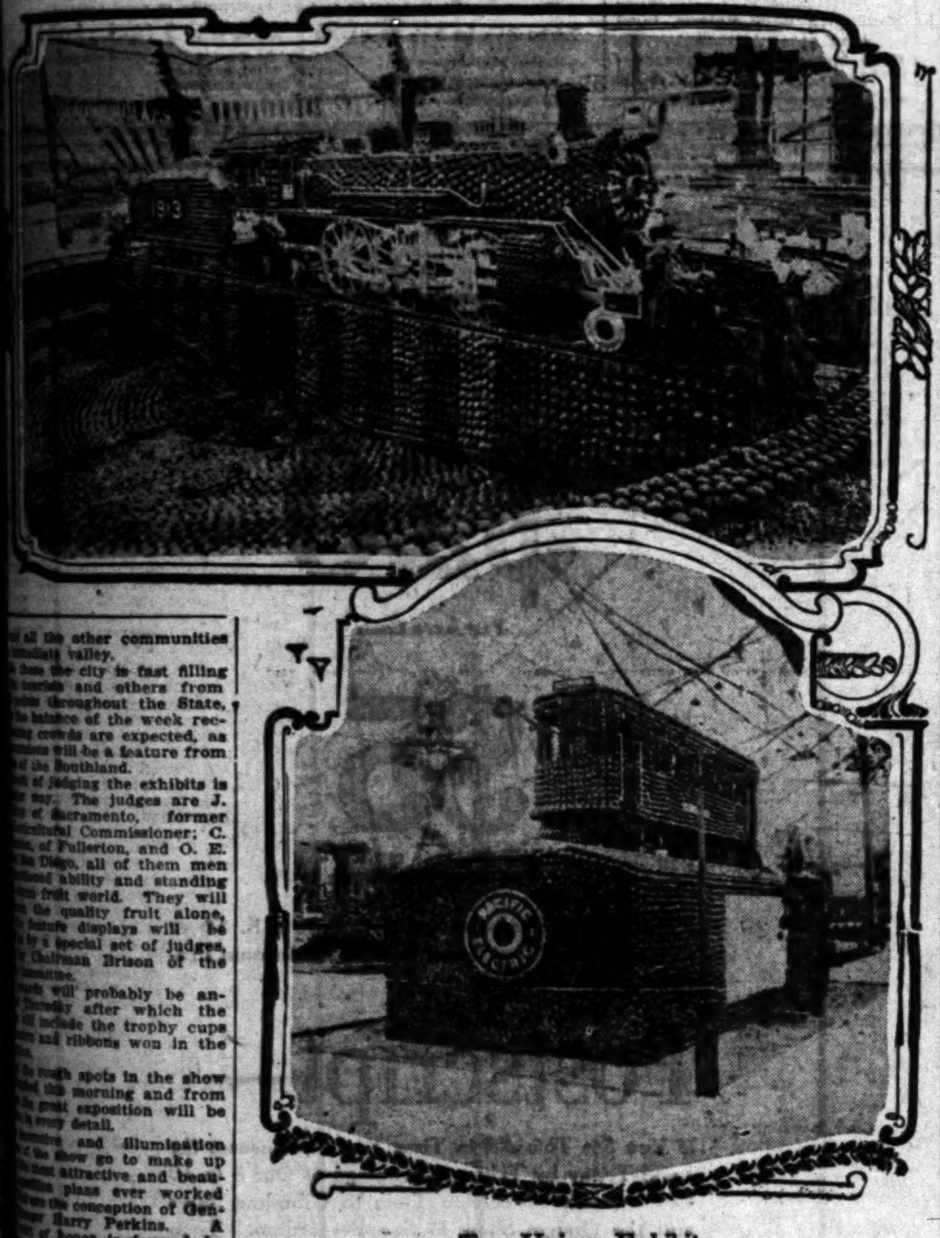
The Southern Pacific lecture tent is running a series of illustrated lectures all day long, talks being given by speakers from all parts of the State and Arizona to crowded houses at all times.



Two Unique Exhibits.

The second day of the National Orange Show at San Bernardino was a gratifying success. Among the extraordinary effects wrought with oranges is a coach by the Pacific Electric Company and an engine which is the offering of the Santa Fe Railroad.

DISSENSION OVER FUNDS.

Pacific Electric Is Scored at Mass Meeting.

Negro Arrested on Charge of Poisoning Girl.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 18.—Animated sessions of the County Supervisors were held here morning and afternoon today, with a delegation of taxpayers from Fullerton, Placentia, La Habra and other northern points, protesting against the proposed road building between Bay City and San Juan Capistrano. The objections are based upon the proposal to take the money from the general fund. The northern residents protest because they believe the general fund money should go only for general fund purposes, and, as they contribute to the fund, they object to the money going to the southwestern section of the county for road improvements. The leaders in the protest were Dr. W. H. Wickett and S. W. McCulloch of Placentia, W. T. Brown, George E. Welton and E. W. Dean of Fullerton. The Supervisors have the matter under advisement.

Because of the complaints of the Newbert protection district against the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric railroads in refusing to place sixty-foot spans under their bridges over the Santa Ana River, as it alleged those companies have refused to do after having promised that they would, the Supervisors by vote instructed Supervisors Struck and Schumacher to confer with Dist.-Atty. West and ascertain just what authority the Supervisors have in the premises. If it is found that the companies can be compelled to put in the sixty-foot spans, it is probable that the Supervisors will enact an ordinance to that effect. There is considerable indignation against the railroads because of the present situation.

Tax and Claim Agent Hills of the Pacific Electric Railroad was given a warm reception last night at the meeting of the City Trustees, when he appeared to explain an application for a franchise at Santa Clara street so that the P. E. tracks might be connected with the Southern Pacific tracks. Trustees Ey, McPhee and Grubb each in turn took occasion to declare that the Pacific Electric will not soon get any more favors in Santa Ana until some of the promises alleged to have been made shall have been kept.

Breach of faith was charged in several instances, and several citizens in the audience arose and joined in the general trend of criticism and denunciation. Hills was evidently unprepared for such a demonstration of displeasure and dissatisfaction, and he took occasion in a quiet and dispassionate manner to say so. He informed the Trustees that the P. E. has been doing everything possible for this section, and had believed that Santa Ana was very friendly to it; but he questioned very much if there would be any particular improvements made hereabouts if the present antagonistic temper shown is continued. The need of a depot here is one of the chief causes of complaint.

STREET WORK DELAYED.

Two extensive street improvement projects are being held up, because there are not sufficient funds in the city treasury to pay for work at the street intersections. Property owners on First street have entered into a contract for the asphalt paving of that street by the El Oso Contracting Company of Los Angeles at 10 cents per square foot, but the City Trustees have refused to approve the contract because the city cannot attend to the intersections. The same state of affairs is responsible for the announcement that improvement work on East Fourth street cannot proceed for the present.

New proceedings have been instituted to authorize the construction of an outfall sewer on the south side. The work will cost approximately $14,000. Technical errors in the previous proceedings invalidated the project, and the improvement will be delayed at least sixty days. The City Trustees will meet specially next Monday night to pass the resolution for the work.

ALLEGED POISONER ARRESTED.

Sam Nuttles, a negro, is in the County Jail here, having been brought from Fullerton this afternoon on the charge of attempting to poison his stepdaughter, a comely girl, known as Tansie Belle Nuttles. It is charged that the prisoner placed sulphuric acid in the girl's food and insisted upon her eating of it, but she refused because of the bitter taste. The same sort of poison is said to have been found in her shoes and some of her clothes were ruined by having the acid poured on them. Nuttles is being held for examination February 25.

COUNTY OFFICER ASSAULTED.

Warrants were issued this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Cox for the arrest of C. H. L. Ghriest, Sr., and his grown son, both residents of Newport Beach. They are charged with assault and battery by W. T. O'Howell, who had been deputized as keeper of some property involved in a claim held by the Continental Refining Company. O'Howell was appointed by Under Sheriff Law. When the keeper started to place a lock on a distillate engine-house of the Ghriests, it is said, he was jumped upon by father and son, and so badly beaten that he was unable to leave his home for a day or two. Judge Cox directed him to take the warrants and serve them.

WOUNDED MAN FOUND.

Charles Wolff is resting in the Fullerton Hospital as the result of a young man named Floyd Davidson going on a spree at Brea City last Saturday night, since which time officers have been searching for him. Davidson decided that Brea was too quiet to suit him and drawing an automatic revolver from his pocket he began shooting up the town. One of the bullets went through a partition in Robertson's restaurant and struck Wolff on the shin bone of his right leg, shattering the bone. Davidson was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Law, Stacy, Combs, Heard and Dean, who happened in that locality on a blind pig hunt, but Wolff was taken away by some friends. All inquiries by the officers were met with stolid ignorance as to the wounded man's identity, especially among the denizens of Brea who knew anything at all about the shooting. Sheriff Ruddock, however, got the right clew today, and Justice Cox left late this afternoon for Fullerton to have Wolff swear to a complaint charging Davidson with assault with intent to commit murder.

ANGELENOS AT SEASIDE.

Huntington Beach Mecca of Visitors Who Are Wined and Dined by Woman's Club.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 18.—About 200 excursionists from Los Angeles visited this city today and after partaking of a lunch furnished by the local Woman's Club and other ladies of Huntington Beach, rode in automobiles to the points of interest here and in the surrounding section, including the plants of the Holly Sugar Company and the La Bolsa tile works, just beyond the city limits. The artesian wells of the mesa lands were visited and the famous peatlands celery fields.

WANT DOUBLE TRACK.

The South Coast Improvement Association met at the Huntington Inn at noon with President Phil Stanton in the chair, and adopted resolutions asking the Pacific Electric Railway to double-track its line between here and Balboa so as to facilitate the service between the terminus on its Newport line. It was shown that all rights of way for the coast road to be built from Bay City through this city to Balboa have been obtained except through the lands of the Bolsa Chica Gun Club, and condemnation proceedings will be instituted to secure that unless the club agrees to give the right of way at an early date. Among those present besides Mr. Stanton were W. S. Collins, owner of Balboa Island; J. A. Armitage and Dr. A. C. Arthur of Sunset Beach, Mayor Hermes and W. A. Cornelius of Newport Beach, and H. L. Heffner, Louis Paul Hart, Mayor W. D. Seely and City Trustee M. D. Rosenberger of Huntington Beach.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, Feb. 18.—Thomas Carmady will build a new theater at the corner of Main and Bath streets. Carmady has let the contract for the building to Thomas Lee. It will be of cement 30x80 feet, will be one story, but with walls built to support a second story later. There will be a big stage suitable for all sorts of theatricals and it will be in all details a modern moving picture playhouse. It will cost $5000 when completed.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council passed an ordinance yesterday narrowing the proposed sea-level harbor highway to seventy-five feet between Fourth and Fourteenth streets, San Pedro, but the Mayor may withhold his signature and send his veto to the Council.

The charter amendment election date was set by the City Council yesterday for March 24. The Civil Service Commission asked for an amendment giving it absolute power to discharge employees and providing that its action shall not be reviewed by any court or tribunal; but the Council turned this down.

The Council yesterday postponed action on proposed municipal bond issues for a week so that McKenzie's proposition of issuing $1,000,000 for extension of water mains of the city's system might be put into legal form.

Councilman Whiffen took a decided stand yesterday against declaring any more thoroughfares of Los Angeles boulevards and thus closing them to certain classes of street traffic.

E. W. Prichard, defendant in a $25,000 damage suit for the killing of Herbert D. Stokes, did not appear at the trial in the Superior Court yesterday. Prichard was returning from the Vernon Country Club last June when his auto fatally injured Stokes.

At the City Hall.

OBJECTS TO NARROWING WIDTH OF HARBOR HIGHWAY.

Will Take Ten Days Allowed by Law to Consider, and May Veto. Howell Plan Wins Over That Proposed by City Engineer by Unanimous Vote.

In the battle for the supremacy of the City Engineer's plans for a 130-foot sea-level highway between Fourth and Fourteenth streets, San Pedro, and the plans of Municipal Railroad Engineer Howell for a seventy-five-foot road between these points, the first victory has been won by the Howell plan.

The City Council yesterday unanimously passed an ordinance of intention to make the highway the lesser width, and to instruct the City Attorney to amend condemnation proceedings now in court to conform to this plan. Outside of the stretch between Fourth and Fourteenth streets the highway is to conform to the original plan to be not more than 130 feet in width.

But this is not the end of the controversy. The Mayor has to attach his signature to the ordinance, or it must be passed over his veto. He has not signed. In fact, he was considerably put out yesterday when he learned of the Council's action. He has been an advocate of a compromise measure, whereby the width of the road should be made 102 feet.

The ordinance was upon the Mayor's table last night, but the full ten days allowed by law for consideration may elapse before the required signature is attached, even if it is appended then. The Mayor instructed his secretary last night to ask the Council to send him a profile of the proposed narrowed route, declaring that from the descriptions in the ordinance he is unable to determine the exact lines. He intimated that the Council will have to pass the ordinance over his veto if it goes into effect.

The narrow roadway was evolved by Municipal Engineer Howell at the request of the Council's Municipal Railroad Committee, as a means of getting the sea-level road opened at as early a date as possible by eliminating the necessity for acquiring railroad lands through long and costly litigation.

HERE'S A WONDER.
MAY NOT ASK FOR MONEY.

The Finance Committee of the City Council will soon begin preparing the financial budget for the next fiscal year. Blanks were sent out yesterday to the heads of the various city departments, upon which they are to return their estimates for expenses for the next fiscal year.

And here develops a wonder. It is quite possible that the Harbor Commission will not ask for an appropriation in the new budget. President Woodman stated yesterday that the harbor revenues have increased nearly 100 per cent. within six months and there is good reason to expect a constant continued increase, so the Harbor Commission may be able to take care of its expenses without appealing to the city for funds.

The money that goes into the harbor revenue fund is obtained from franchises, pilotage fees, ferry percentages and leases. Under provisions of the proposed charter amendments it was proposed that the Harbor Commission should also receive the money from licenses at the harbor, but the Council would not agree to this.

ELECTION IN MARCH.
ON CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

March 24 is the date set by the City Council yesterday for the election on proposed charter amendments.

Much of yesterday's Council session was taken up in considering the various phases of the work necessary to put the proposed amendments in legal form for submission to the people. The amendments proposed for harbor control were thoroughly discussed and the minor changes were made by the City Attorney, after which the Council voted that they should go upon the ballot.

Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the Civil Service Commission, and Albert Lee Stephens, a member, appeared before the Council, asking that an amendment be submitted that would empower the commission to be supreme in the matter of discharges of any officer or employee in the classified civil service of the city—giving it power to discharge any such employee over the head of the department to whom he is responsible, whether such head should ask for it or not. The proposed amendment provided that "such findings and decision shall be final, and shall not be subject to review by any court or tribunal."

This was more than the Council could stand. Both representatives of the Civil Service Commission made pleas for the proposed increase of powers of that body. Dr. Haynes opened his statement by saying that this supreme power should have been conferred upon the commission when previous charter amendments were adopted, but that it "was inadvertently omitted."

"That is not so," declared Councilman Betkouski, jumping to his feet. "That section was left out by the City Council on purpose. It is giving the Civil Service Commission too much power and making it too Czarlike. The heads of departments should be the proper ones to remove their subordinates; then the discharged employee may take his case before the Civil Service Commission if he so desires. You propose a system whereby the commission could keep in a public office an employee who is insubordinate to the head of that department, and you do not propose to let any higher power have the opportunity to review your action."

The motion to file this proposed amendment was carried by a vote of five to three, Councilman Langdon, Reed and Williams voting against it.

Trouble Is Ended.

The trouble between the Harbor Advisory Board and the Standard American Dredging Company over the latter depositing dredgings in the Huntington Fill from the government dredging contract work is a thing of the past. The dredging company moved its dredger yesterday to the west basin and began dredging in Area A, as required by the city.

Would Lease a Wharf.

Under a bond issue made by Wilmington before it became a portion of Los Angeles a 330-foot wharf was constructed at the foot of Fries street; but it has been of little practical use, and President Woodman of the Harbor Commission proposes that this should be leased so that the city may obtain a direct revenue from it. A definite proposition to this effect may be made within the ensuing week.

Bond Action Postponed.

Another week remains within which people may rack their wits to think up possible bond issues to present to the voters at the coming bond election. The City Council postponed action yesterday until next Tuesday.

The main object of this postponement was to give opportunity for the McKenzie resolution, proposing a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending mains of the city water system to inadequately supplied territories, to be put into legal form.

McKenzie stated yesterday that he believes he will have the support of a majority of the Council on this proposition and that it will go upon the ballot. Copies of his resolution as introduced in the Council yesterday were sent to the Public Service Commission.

The general opinion as expressed in the Council was that the bond election should be set far enough apart from the election on proposed charter amendments as to avoid possibility of confusing in the details of handling election supplies and returns; and so that the two campaigns may be made independently.

Joint Pole Rules.

The Board of Public Works gave its approval yesterday to the rule formulated at a conference between the Joint Pole Committee, Inspector of Public Works Hansen and City Electrician Manahan.

These rules provide that all orders for the removal of poles must be issued from the office of the Inspector of Public Works, and that notice served upon the secretary of the Joint Pole Committee shall be sufficient. The City Engineer is to be required to furnish blue prints for proposed changes of poles when such changes are necessary in street improvements, and the City Electrician is to handle all questions arising regarding effect of overhead construction or practicability of the removing of any poles.

Only Cursory Work.

Discussion of the fact that members of the county grand jury are visiting various picture shows with the object of learning whether crime pictures are presented, has raised interest in the forthcoming report of the Board of Censors of Moving Pictures, which will be issued during the present week in connection with the Mayor's annual message. A member of the Board of Censors admitted yesterday that the work of inspecting moving-picture films was too great a task for the Board to undertake, and that it only inspected those it had reason to believe might be objectionable. The general plot of each set of films is presented to the board, and after studying these a presentation of those that appear to have the possibility of objectionable features is called for. In order to inspect all the picture films that are presented in Los Angeles show-houses, the board would have to remain in session nine hours per day.

Opposes Exclusiveness.

Councilman Whiffen stood as the champion of the public's right to use every street in the city yesterday when the subject of declaring Country Club drive a boulevard was before the Council. Whiffen objected to closing streets to portions of public traffic, on the ground that such streets are maintained at the expense of neighboring streets that have to bear more than their rightful portion of the traffic.

"I am opposed absolutely to declaring streets boulevards for the purpose of restricting traffic on them," said Whiffen. "If they are too good to be used by the general public as streets then they should never have been made or dedicated to the public."

The application was sent to the Streets and Boulevards Committee for further consideration.

City Hall Brevities.

Dorchester-avenue property owners must wait another week before they will know whether the proposed paving of that thoroughfare will proceed or be abandoned. After several hearings, which developed considerable feeling and resulted in one citizen being slapped in the face, the Council decided yesterday to defer final action until next Tuesday.

Commissioner Handley of the Board of Public Works was given thirty days' leave of absence by the City Council yesterday, as he is called East on account of the serious illness of his father. He expects to visit several cities and make observations of street work and other features of municipal action that come within the scope of the Board of Public Works.

An application for a franchise to extend the West Tenth-street car line from its present terminus to Oxford Square was filed yesterday by Isaac Millbank and referred to the Board of Public Utilities.

The City Council yesterday designated the City Tax and License Collector to act on behalf of the municipality in bidding in properties upon which assessments for public work have become delinquent and which are offered for sale.

The Llewellyn Iron Works was awarded the contract by the Board of Public Works yesterday for furnishing 398 ornamental lighting posts complete for the system to be installed on Seventh street from Hoover street to the river. The price is to be $24,997.60.

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to authorize it to enter into a contract with the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, under the emergency provisions, for the 3702 arc lights now installed for the month of March, at the rate of $6.30 per lamp.

At the Courthouse.

ON TRIAL, HE REMAINS ALOOF.

ALLEGED VERNON KILLER IS CONSPICUOUSLY ABSENT.

His Attorney Asserts Defendant's Manliness Is Shown by Not Appearing and Giving One-sided Version of Accident—Prosecution Alleges He Was Intoxicated.

Evidence which hinted at the ruthless destruction of human life by joyriders returning from the Vernon Country Club was given yesterday in the $25,000 damage suit of Mrs. Dora A. Stokes against E. W. Pritchard for the death of her son, Herbert A. Stokes. This is the first suit to be tried, growing out of the death and injury of twenty-two persons on the road from the Vernon Country Club.

The case was called in Judge Monroe's court before a jury. The plaintiff's testimony showed that Stokes, who, with two companions, was walking in the gutter at Vernon and Santa Fe avenues early in the morning of June 23, last, was struck by an automobile containing Pritchard and two companions.

Instead of stopping and succoring the fatally-injured man, witnesses testified that the auto pursued the same fast gait. Later it was found at Pico and Olive streets, showing the effects of the collision in a damaged headlight and bent mudguard. Blood was found on the right hub.

Pritchard was not present, and Attorney Goodwin, his counsel, offered no testimony. Attorney Tyrrell drew the attention of the jury to the fact that Pritchard's auto was seen to swerve from the center of the street, strike Stokes and then crash against the curb.

"It looks as if with sheer deviltry and murderous intent he had swerved it," exclaimed Tyrrell. "I don't think so. I think it was due to the condition of Pritchard at that time."

Pritchard is president of the Great Western Amusement Company of Venice. His condition was described in dramatic style by Harry C. Teag, a chauffeur. Teag said he was at the Vernon Country Club on the morning of the accident. He saw Pritchard crank the machine and take his seat behind the wheel. He admitted he had never seen Pritchard, but said another chauffeur pointed to the man behind the wheel and said: "There's Pritchard on another stew."

Other witnesses testified they heard the crash as Pritchard's auto struck Stokes, and saw the machine fly rapidly along the road to Los Angeles. Stokes was unconscious when they reached him. He died in a few hours.

Attorney Goodwin spoke briefly. He explained to the jury that the absence of Pritchard from the trial must not be construed to mean he is afraid to appear.

Pritchard's manliness, he asserted, is shown in not appearing and giving a one-sided version of the accident. Goodwin asserted it was not shown Pritchard was reckless and negligent or that it was his machine which struck Stokes.

Judge Monroe will instruct the jury this morning. He dismissed the jurors with instructions not to discuss the case or pay any attention to newspaper accounts of the trial.

MOTHER IS STRANGER.
RESTORATION BRINGS SOBS.

Heart-broken sobs resounded through Department Nine of the Superior Court yesterday when Emma Marie Dargatz, foster-daughter of Peter and Bertha Dargatz, was restored to her mother, Mrs. Hannah Martin, after nine years' absence, by the granting of her petition of adoption. Emma, aged 11, was a stranger to her own mother. She sobbed bitterly when she understood she must give up her foster-mother and go with the woman she did not know.

Adverse fortune has laid its hand heavily on Mrs. Martin. While she was living in Denver her husband died; death called her daughter Clara. This was followed by the destruction of her home by fire. Emma was an infant. Mrs. Martin came to Los Angeles, hoping to find a home with an aunt. Her dream was not realized, and unable to support the baby, she relinquished her to the Children's Home Finding Society.

It was a long, hard struggle for the widow in the years that followed. Lena, an elder daughter valiantly assisted her mother. Meantime, Emma had been given by the society to the Dargatz family. They brought her up in all respects as their daughter. Several weeks ago Mrs Martin, who had never ceased to mourn her baby, discovered the home of Emma. She had a talk with the Dargatz family and they agreed to surrender the child, now a sturdy girl.

Emma made frantic efforts to escape from her sister and run to Mrs. Dargatz, but she was restrained. Mrs. Martin sat silently, waiting until the paroxysms of grief had worn out her daughter. She says she hopes the child will learn to love her.

IN MIDST OF PLENTY.
WAS STARVED, HE ALLEGES.

Frank Wertz, who was arrested November 12, last, for smuggling, and placed in the County Jail, where he says he received only one meal in three days, made an amazing statement in the trial of his $25,000 damage suit against Sheriff Hammel yesterday. He said he lost twenty-five pounds in weight by reason of his enforced fast or at the rate of three pounds for every meal he missed.

Wertz admitted he made no outcry. He admitted he could see to Temple street, but did not cry out so that the public would know he was being starved.

His side of the story was told yesterday before a jury in Judge Willis's court. Sheriff Hammel and his jailers will have their turn tomorrow. Hammel says Wertz was lodged in Ortie E. McManigal's cell and that it would be impossible to overlook serving him his meals.

OIL LAND DEAL.
STOCKHOLDER BRINGS SUIT.

The history of an interesting oil land deal was unfolded in Judge York's court yesterday when the suit of F. F. Hoard to recover a one-twentieth interest in the Buick Oil Company went to trial. Hoard's action is to recover 150,000 shares of the capital stock of the Buick Oil Company or $75,000 each from J. M. Herndon, D. D. Buick and the company with interest at 7 per cent. from April 21, 1910.

Hoard was engaged to obtain the option held by A. T. Jergins, Jack Tehen and J. M. McCleod on forty acres of oil-bearing land in Kern county, and alleges he secured it. It was agreed he should receive a one-twentieth interest of Herndon's interest in the Buick Oil Company, which was organized to operate the territory. If Herndon entered a pool, Hoard was also to participate.

It is alleged that Herndon received from the Buick Oil Company 1,500,000 shares of capital stock and a one-half interest in a promissory note executed by the Buick Oil Company to Herndon and D. D. Buick. His demands were never met, he testified. The attorneys engaged in the case are Milton K. Young for Hoard, and Lawlor, Trippet & Barstow for the defendants.

COURT'S WARNING.
TRUSTEES GIVEN HINT.

Trustees of the Conservative Investment Company were warned by Judge Willis yesterday not to dispose of stocks or property pending the hearing of the application for the appointment of a receiver. The hearing was continued from yesterday afternoon until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The receivership is asked by Theodore Wiesendanger, president of the company, who is defendant in a suit to recover the difference between his valuation of property turned over to the corporation and the value fixed by appraisers the court is asked to name.

Pledging himself to purchase every outstanding share of stock at the price originally paid, with 7 per cent. interest on the money actually put up therefore, Wiesendanger yesterday sent notices to all stockholders urging a pooling agreement, with the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as depositary. Wiesendanger further pledges himself to take over all the corporate property and dissolve the corporation if given three years in which to make payments.

SUES ON CONTRACT.
DREDGING WORK UNPAID.

The North American Dredging Company of Nevada has brought suit against the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company to recover a total of $141,901 for alleged failure to pay for labor and material furnished in the work at the harbor.

From the time of the commencement of the work to December 4, last, the company alleges it carried out the terms of the contract to the extent of $248,000. Of this amount, $126,099 was paid, leaving a balance of $121,901. Judgment is asked for this sum and $20,000 additional for failure to provide levees and bulkheads.

DISMISSES COMPLAINT.
WARRANT WON'T BE ISSUED.

No warrant will be issued by Judge Wilbur for the arrest of Chief Wood of Pasadena, and Patrolmen Shelton and Worrell, charged with having contributed to the delinquency of Burnard Luce, aged 16, in connection with the obtaining of evidence of violation of the restaurant liquor law at the Pekin Cafe.

On motion of Deputy District Attorney McCartney, yesterday, Judge Wilbur dismissed the complaint filed in the Juvenile Court by Attorney Stevens. The court had signed the complaint, but withheld signature from the warrant of arrest. Stevens intimated he will ask for a writ of mandate to compel the court to issue the warrant.

PAYS LEGACY.
UNIVERSITY RECEIVES CASH.

A check for $100,000, representing the legacy left by the late Mrs. Carrie M. Jones to the University of California, was drawn yesterday by Cashier Lampton of the County Clerk's office, in favor of Ralph P. Merritt, comptroller of the university.

The check was paid through the County Clerk's office by order of Judge Rives, owing to the claim of the County Tax Collector that the legacy is subject to taxation, and pending the adjudication of the matter.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SUIT REVIVES MEMORIES. Memories of the crooked house on Frazier pier at Ocean Park, which was swept away by flames, were revived yesterday when Florence D. Swartz filed suit against Le Roy Raymond for $1900 damages for injuries she sustained July 19, last, when she was a patron of the place.

The plaintiff alleges in her complaint that the crooked house had a crooked elevator and the interior was lighted by dim rays through crooked windows. She fell on the crooked elevator, she alleges, and sustained a fracture of the right arm.

EXECUTORS BONDED. Le Roy H. Stanton, a son, and Donald Barker, an attorney, were appointed executors yesterday of the will of the late E. J. Stanton, the lumber man, who died January 24, last, leaving an estate valued at $450,000. They were bonded in $800,000 each. The heirs are the widow, Mrs. Fannie B. Stanton; Adelaide von Breton, and Lillian Stanton, daughters, and Le Roy H. Stanton.

SUIT COMPROMISED. After a jury had been called yesterday in the $150,000 damage suit of the mother of Joseph Jones, a Los Angeles Railway motorman, who lost his eyesight by the alleged negligence of an inspector, the case was compromised. The amount is $18,000. Jones alleges that finding he could not start the car he opened the controller to see what was wrong, when an inspector turned on the current. An explosion resulted.

Jap Says Someone Threw Bag of Cats and Dogs Into His Yard—Arrested for Cruelty.

T. E. Yamashita has lost faith in the god or gods having jurisdiction over back yards.

Yamashita lives at No. 654 South Los Angeles street. He was arraigned yesterday by Humane Officer Pitsenbarger before Police Judge Rose, charged with cruelty to animals. Pitsenbarger asserts Yamashita harbored a number of mangy cats and dogs.

The Japanese declared some unkind person tossed a sackful of undesirable pets over his back fence. Mrs. Yamashita, he said, cared for them from kindness of heart. Yamashita was released on his promise to dispatch the animals instanter.

Forges Prescriptions.

J. E. Wilson, Jr., alias Edward Williams, pleaded guilty yesterday to having forged prescriptions to secure cocaine. He was arraigned before Judge Williams in the University Police Court. Wilson declared he is not addicted to the drug. When the court ascertained otherwise, Wilson was committed without bail to jail until Thursday, when he will be sentenced.

Water Cure Fails.

R. Garstang's efforts to force Charles Pratt to vacate his apartment by turning off the water, thereby inconveniencing others, failed in its primary object and resulted in Garstang's arraignment yesterday before Police Judge Rose.
